HUSBAND AND WIFE ARE SHOT TO DEATH

M'GUIRE HERE TO FIGHT CHARGE

Former Treasurer of Carpenters Reached City Yesterday.

A Final Settlement of the Alleged Shortage Will Be Effected in Convention Today — McGuire To Make a Statement.

P. J. McGuire, former secretary and treasurer of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, whose alleged shortage of $10,000 has occupied the attention of the convention for the past two days, arrived in Atlanta yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. McGuire came unexpectedly. He proposes to make a personal defense before the convention.

Mr. McGuire was seen last night in his room at the Kimball House by a representative of The Constitution, but declined to make any statement regarding the matter. He stated that he does not desire to make any facts public until the whole matter has been laid before the convention and that body has taken action.

It is expected that the matter will be definitely settled today. From all indications it will be allowed to blow over. McGuire's statement is expected to cover the matter fully, and will no doubt be interesting.

McGuire is a New Yorker, but at present resides in Camden, New Jersey. He was suspended from his office as secretary and treasurer of the carpenters' organization about a year ago on recommendation of the general executive board, and Frank Duffy, the present incumbent of the office, appointed to the place. McGuire was the founder of the brotherhood and has large numbers of staunch supporters in the convention.

Both sessions of the convention yesterday were occupied with a discussion of the alleged shortage. No afternoon session was held, but the convention was in session last night. It is the intention of the convention to thoroughly ventilate the matter, and this accounts for its prolonged consideration.

Each of the five members of the general executive board made speeches yesterday, giving their version of the trouble. General Secretary and Treasurer Duffy also gave a detailed account of the affair, beginning with it at the time he was a member of the executive board, and telling of the condition in which he found the office of secretary and treasurer when he assumed charge. Mr. Duffy began speaking yesterday morning, but at the hour of adjournment, shortly after 12 o'clock, he had not finished. He resumed his talk last night, and occupied almost the entire night session.

Will Make Statement Today.

McGuire was present in the convention hall last night and asked a number of questions relative to the matter. The convention decided to extend to him the privilege of the floor this morning, at which time he will make his statement. General President William D. Huber will also speak to the convention this morning, giving all of the details and facts in his possession concerning the matter.

It was announced last night that owing to the lengthy discussion of the McGuire case the convention will probably not conclude its deliberations and adjourn before Wednesday or Thursday of next week. A number of important matters are yet to be considered and settled, among them being the election of officers, the selection of the next meeting place of the convention, and the selection of a location for the general headquarters of the brotherhood.

The delegates were the guests yesterday afternoon of the local entertainment committee at a delightful barbecue at Brownwood. Special cars conveyed the party from the city to the grounds. The delegates report an enjoyable occasion.

King Oscar's Yacht on Rocks.

Stockholm, September 24.—King Oscar's yacht, with the crown Princess Victoria on board, has run on the rocks near Kalmar, on the Baltic. Vessels have gone to the yacht's assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. Shrouder Waylaid by George Bundrick in Dooly County.

DEADLY CHARGE FIRED WHILE IN THEIR BUGGY

Shrouder Was Instantly Killed and Mrs. Shrouder, with Unborn Babe, Mortally Injured. Shrouder and Bundrick Had Quarreled.

Cordele, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—George Bundrick shot and killed John J. Shrouder this morning while the latter, with his wife, was proceeding in a buggy to their home near Raines.

Bundrick had claimed that a negro on Shrouder's place had stolen his pocketknife and had undertaken to arrest three of Shrouder's hands. Shrouder offered to pay for the knife in order that his farm force should not be interfered with at this time. Bundrick accused Shrouder of siding with the negroes. Shrouder said he would meet Bundrick as soon as he could take his wife home. They then parted.

This morning as Shrouder was going from the station with his wife, in a buggy, he met Bundrick in the road a short distance from the station and, without any warning, Bundrick emptied both barrels of a shotgun in Shrouder's face, killing him instantly. Bundrick either intentionally shot Mrs. Shrouder, or she was hit by stray buckshot from the load fired at her husband.

The shooting caused the horse to run away and Mrs. Shrouder and her husband were thrown in the road.

Mrs. Shrouder, with her unborn babe, was mortally injured by the shot and the fall.

The entire section of the county below here is in a state of high excitement and it is feared that summary work will be done unless the sheriff can get the situation in hand.

NATIONAL LEAGUE MAGNATES.

They Will Fight American League to the End.

New York, September 24.—The National baseball magnates held a three hour session at the league headquarters here today. After the meeting official announcement was made that the entire time had been taken up in a discussion of the "situation in general," and that no action had been taken that could be made public.

While it was officially announced that no action had been taken by the magnates, it was admitted that the proposition of peace or war with the American League had been talked of, and that a large majority of the magnates favored war to the end.

It was intimated tonight that the magnates are seriously considering the advisability of again increasing the circuit to twelve clubs, taking in Baltimore and Washington, in the east, and two in the west, but whether Louisville, Cleveland Indianapolis or Detroit has not been decided.

MOROS ARE GIVING TROUBLE.

It's Not Easy To Reduce Them to Submission.

Washington, September 24.—That the task of reducing the Moros to terms is proving difficult is indicated by the following cablegram received today by the war department from General Chaffee:

"Manila, September 24.—Adjutant General, Washington: Captain John J. Pershing to Vicars; unable to reach Marcin forts; water and swamps prevented.

"CHAFFEE."

The dispatch means that Captain Pershing has been compelled to retreat to his base at Camp Vicars, and that the Moro position is much stronger than was believed by army officers.

RUSSELL NOT IN JUDGESHIP RACE

Prominent Young Georgia Jurist Decides Not to Enter.

Judge Russell Declares That the People of His Circuit Do Not Wish Him To Leave the Judgeship of the Western Circuit.

Judge R. B. Russell will not be a candidate for the supreme bench. He makes this announcement through The Constitution this morning.

Judge Russell had never formally announced his candidacy. Still his name had been generally used in this connection and many of his friends have been working actively for him for several weeks.

He has been regarded as a very strong factor, as it was understood that northeast Georgia would give him a splendid vote. It has been stated that he would carry practically every county in the seventh, eighth and ninth congressional districts.

Judge Russell states that he is influenced in declining to enter the race by many reasons. He declares the people of his circuit wish him to accept the nomination of judge of the western circuit and he does not wish to precipitate a campaign upon them and that he also has personal interests which will prevent his entering the race.

One of the reasons given by Judge Russell for his declination is that he has found that many men were pledged to support certain other candidates even before Justice Lewis had sent in his resignation.

The refusal of Judge Russell to enter the race leaves it between Judge John S. Candler, of Atlanta, and Judge John C. Ross, of Macon.

Judge Russell's statement is as follows:

"Winder, Ga., September 24, 1902.—To the People of Georgia: A few days ago in response to what I hope was an honorable ambition to serve your interests upon the supreme bench, and upon voluntary assurances of support from numerous citizens and lawyers, of whose confidence any Georgian may well feel proud, I consented to allow the use of my name for the exalted position of associate justice of the supreme court to succeed Judge Lewis. I was not unaware of the responsibilities of the position, and conscious that in ripe scholarship perhaps I did not measure up to my ideal of a judge of the supreme court. But I thought my temerity might be forgiven if the public, upon comparison with my opponents, found me worthy. And I knew I could at least consecrate to the state an honest heart and tireless industry in the search and attainment of the law and justice in every case.

"In entering the list I was of the opinion that the vacancy, and any canvass to fill it, began with and dated from the resignation of Justice Lewis. I knew the time was short until the election and I erroneously supposed it was no shorter for me than for any other aspirant.

"Justice Lewis is a distinguished citizen of the section in which I have spent my whole life. I had no thought of superceding him. And as his admirer and friend I hoped he would not resign, but that the state would be enabled to retain his valuable services for years to come. I certainly did not keep my ear to the ground hoping to hear of his resignation while pushing the pen in anticipation thereof. Nor did any friend of mine. While I would feel honored above my deserts to occupy the station adorned by preeminent Georgians, living and dead, I do not think I have any quenchless thirst or insatiate hunger therefor to appease. I certainly neither intended to offer for two offices at once, nor to fill two at the same time, as has once or twice been done in recent Georgia history.

"Though my name has only been before the public a few days, I have received testimonials, all unsolicited, which I shall ever prize, though they are far above my deserts, and hundreds of assurances of support which I did not expect, and I firmly believe that by an active campaign, if such be proper for this office, I could be elected. But I decline further to allow the use of my name. The following reasons are conclusive with me:

"First, my fellow-citizens in my circuit—lifelong friends to whom I acknowledge a debt of gratitude for past kindness dating from my very boyhood—wil not consent that I decllen the nomination to my present position. This it had been my fixed purpose to do in advance of the election. These friends, while ready now to lend me the same enthusiastic support for

SOLDIERS MOBILIZE

Ninth Regiment Is Ordered Out at Wilkesbarre.

Derailing of Coal Train and Mobbing of Non-Union Men Caused Mobilization of Troops—Mitchell Not Bothered by the Presence of the Troops.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., September 24.—In compliance with the request of Sheriff Jacobs and numerous citizens of Luzerne county, Governor Stone issued an order at noon today directing the Ninth regiment, national Guard, Pennsylvania, to mobilize at Wilkesbarre. The regiment has its headquarters here, and three hours after the order had been received Colonel C. B. Dougherty, the commanding officer, had the regiment, with the exception of the Hazleton companies, ready for the field. The regiment consists of twelve companies and has a membership of about 750. There are quite a number of mine workers in the regiment, but all responded readily to the call. Colonel Dougherty says he does not apprehend any serious trouble.

Mitchell Won't Talk.

President Mitchell refused to make any comment on Sheriff Jacobs' action in asking the governor for troops for the Wyoming region. He said the presence of the militia would not interfere with any of his plans, which were to push the strike to a successful issue. Some of the Mitchell lieutenants think the sheriff acted rather hastily, and that the bringing of the troops here was for the purpose of enabling the mine owners to operate their collieries, but they would be disappointed, as the strikers are as determined as ever.

Sheriff Jacobs, in a statement issued to the public, explains at length why he called on the governor for troops. He says the outbreaks were becoming too numerous, and with the limited number of men at his command he could not cope with the unlawful assemblies that gathered in various places throughout the county.

A Central Railroad of New Jersey coal train, which was moving out of a mine siding at Warrior Run last night, was derailed by an open switch, which had been tampered with by unknown parties. The crew escaped by jumping and the cars were piled up in a big wreck. The coal which the train was carrying was intended for the New York market.

Men Shot and Beaten.

A big crowd of strikers attempted to prevent the nonunion men employed at the Exeter colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, at Sturmerville, from going to work this morning. A number of deputy sheriffs in charge of Thomas Burke tried to protect the workmen. A fight followed, in which several shots were fired. David Richards, a fire boss, was shot in the leg, and David Harriss and John P. Stroh were beaten on the head with clubs. Burke was also knocked down with a stone and rendered unconscious. Coal and iron police finally dispersed the mob.

Magistrate Ehret, of West Pittston, issued warrants this afternoon for twenty-five of the ringleaders engaged in the riot. A crowd of 500 men and boys refused to allow nonunion workmen to cross the Susquehanna river bridge at Nanticoke this morning. A deputy sheriff read the riot act and the mob dispersed. The presence of the military has already had a good effect. Everything is quiet at the mines tonight. General Gobin is expected here early tomorrow, and will probably make his headquarters here.

They Seek Henderson's Place.

New Hampton, Iowa, September 24.—The third district republican convention will reassemble here tomorrow to nominate a candidate to succeed Speaker Henderson. Five candidates are in the field tonight and a lively contest is in progress: C. E. Albrook, of Eldora; C. E. Ransler, Independence; P. B. Birdall, Clarion; Burton E. Sweet, Waverly, and M. F. Edwards, Parkersburg.

Of Ten Anthracite Coal Counties of Pennsylvania Troops Camp in Five.

FOUR REGIMENTS OUT AND MORE CALLED FOR

If the Disorder Continues Governor Stone Will Have To Put More Troops in the Field—Entire Strike Region Is Now Aflame.

Philadelphia, September 24.—Of the ten anthracite coal producing counties of Pennsylvania, state troops are tonight camped in five. Despite the presence of the troops in these districts, rioting and general lawlessness continued in the entire hard coal territory from Forest City, Susquehanna county, on the north, to Williamstown, Dauphin county, on the south, a distance of more than 100 miles.

The section of the strike region in the vicinity of Forest City, which has been comparatively quiet ever since the strike began, was greatly wrought up today by crowds of strikers interfering with and beating men who had returned to work and as a result Sheriff Maxey, of Susquehanna county, tonight asked Governor Stone for troops to assist him and other civil authorities to preserve the peace.

Many Troops in Field.

At present there are four full regiments, two companies of another and two troops of cavalry in the field. The Thirteenth regiment is camped at Olyphant, 6 miles north of Scranton; the Ninth is quartered at its armory in Wilkesbarre; the Eighth regiment and the Second Philadelphia city troops are under canvas on the top of a hill overlooking Shenandoah; one battalion of the Twelfth and the Governor's troop are in the Panther creek valley and one battalion of the Twelfth is preserving order in the city of Lebanon, where [illegible]on and steel workers are on a str[illegible] the disorder continues Governor Stone will be compelled to call out additional soldiers.

While there has been no big general riot the disturbances have been of such a serious nature as to cause the authorities much apprehension. Every effort is being made by the sheriffs of the several counties affected and the troops to prevent disturbances from growing to such an extent as to cause bloodshed.

Violence Everywhere.

Reports are coming in from every section of non-union men and others either being shot or clubbed. Houses of workmen have been burned or dynamited, and attempts have been made to hold up coal trains or derail them.

Coal is being shipped from many parts of the coal fields to market, but compared with the normal output the quantity is insignificant. The output for this week will be considerably less than the average normal production of one day, which is about 300,000 tons. The strikers claim that very little of the coal is freshly mined and that it is mostly coal "washed" from the culm banks. President Mitchell had no comment to make today on the movement of the troops into Luzerne county. He said the general strike situation is unchanged.

ANOTHER SHERIFF ASKS GOVERNOR FOR TROOPS

Susquehanna, Pa., September 24.—An urgent request for troops was made tonight to Governor Stone by Sheriff Maxey, of Susquehanna county. This morning colliery No. 2 of the Hillside Coal and Iron Company, at Forest City, resumed operations, and this evening as the men were returning from work they were set upon by a mob of between two hundred and three hundred men, women and boys, and followed to their homes and pelted by sticks and stones. Shots were fired on each side, but none of them took effect.

After the men were driven to their homes the mob surged through the streets and by order of the burgess all of the saloons of the borough were closed. So serious is the situation that Sheriff Maxey called the leading men of the borough together and after conferring with them asked the governor for troops.

NEW YORK'S MORMON MURDER.

Inquest Into the Death of Mrs. Pulitzer Under Way.

New York, September 24.—The inquest into the death of Mrs. Anna Pulitzer was begun tonight in Jersey City. The New York district attorney's office was represented and William F. S. Hart was present to watch the interests of William Hooper Young, who is under arrest for the crime. Nothing important was brought out at the brief session. The case went over until October 8.

The latest development in the case is the identification tonight of Young as the man who bought the trunk in which the clothing of Mrs. Pulitzer was shipped to Chicago. The dealer who sold the trunk identified Young as the purchaser, after looking at photographs of the prisoner

MAD MOBS HUNT MEN

Strikers Chase Non-Union Men in Vicinity of Scranton.

Coal Train Is Held Up and the Train Hands Threatened — Soldiers Hurry to Scene and Use Their Guns, Shooting Four Strikers.

Scranton, Pa., September 24.—Three calls were made on the Thirteenth regiment today to quell disturbances. The first came at 9 o'clock in the morning from Johnson No. 2 colliery, at Priceburg, where the strikers were holding up a coal train with obstructions on the track and threats against the train hands. Major B. Rushfield, with two companies, hurried thither on a special train, and dispersed the crowd. This evening soldiers were called to the same place to disperse a crowd that was chasing nonunion men returning from work. Two strikers, one with an ax and the other with a knife, were arrested by the soldiers and taken to the camp.

About 5:30 p. m. two Hungarians were returning from work at the Temple company's Sterrick Creek colliery, in Jessup, and were chased by a crowd of strikers.

Man Hunt Organized.

The fugitives fired several shots, and this brought the whole neighborhood to the scene. Immediately a general hunt was organized by the strikers and their sympathizers, with nonunion men coming from all adjacent collieries as their quarry.

Half a dozen different groups of nonunion men were chased by as many different crowds in as many different directions. Shots were freely exchanged. While the neighborhood was still in an uproar, a couple of companies from the camp at Olyphant, 4 miles away, arrived, and the huntsmen proceeded to seek cover.

Charles Webster, of Peckville, had three ribs broken and his head battered; Charles Foley had his head badly gashed with stones; Fred Mason was badly used up by blows from clubs and stones. All three work at Sterrick Creek.

Four Strikers Shot.

It was reported to Colonel Watres that four of the strikers had been shot by the fleeing workmen, but this could not be verified. The disturbances all took place within 5 miles of camp.

Colonel Watres had patrols out in all directions at night looking for disturbers, and keeps two trains in two different railroads constantly under steam to answer calls for protection.

The valley is 16 miles long, and all of its towns, except the ridge, are along the line of one or the other of the roads. There are 160 men still absent from camp, including the band, which has refused to turn out. All will be arrested as fast as guards can fin dthem.

Liverpool Cotton Quotations.

Liverpool, September 24.—At a meeting of the cotton exchange today it was decided to quote cotton futures in buyers, sellers and value.

WOUNDED LEG GIVES NO PAIN TO ROOSEVELT

President Has Reached Washington After a Comfortable Trip from Indianapolis.

WHEEL CHAIR IS USED TO CARRY PRESIDENT

Leg Is Tightly Bandaged and the Physicians Do Not Look for a Recurrence of the Swelling—Speedy Recovery Is Anticipated.

Washington, September 24.—Secretary Cortelyou, at 9 o'clock, made the following statement concerning President Roosevelt:

"The president's physicians report that he stood the trip home very well, and it is believed that the local inflammatory symptoms will subside in a week or ten days if the leg is kept absolutely at rest."

President Roosevelt returned to Washington at half past 6 o'clock tonight via the Pennsylvania railroad from Indianapolis, where he was compelled to abandon his northwestern trip because of an abscess on his leg which developed as a result of the trolley accident at Pittsfield, Mass. He stood the journey from Indianapolis remarkably well, and when he was carried in a wheel chair from the railroad car to his carriage he was in excellent spirits and appeared to be free from any pain.

With Mrs. Roosevelt the president was driven directly to the temporary white house in Jackson place, where, according to the present arrangement, he will remain until the wound is healed and he is able to again be on his feet. The president was taken to his room on the second floor of the house and made comfortable and his wound dressed. Later he was reported to be resting easily, and the expectation is that in ten days the president will be himself again.

Trip Uneventful.

The trip home from Indianapolis was an uneventful one. He remained in bed all day and executive business on the train practically was discontinued. Few letters or telegrams were written or received. A telegram was put on the train at Pittsburg from Mrs. Roosevelt stating that she had left Oyster Bay for Washington. The president slept soundly all through the night until 8 o'clock this morning. Even the noise in the depot at Pittsburg, where the train remained in the early morning for about twenty minutes, failed to awaken him. When Dr. Lung went to the president's state room shortly before 9 o'clock he found his patient in rare good humor and excellent physical condition, barring the wound on his leg.

The slight fever which the president had yesterday afternoon had disappeared and his temperature was normal. In fact, he felt so well that he told the doctor he would like to get up and go into the parlor of his car. Dr. Lung strongly protested against this, telling the president that it was absolutely nec-

FISTS ARE USED BY POLITICIANS

On the Eve of Convention the Connecticut Democrats Are Bellicose.

New Haven, Conn., September 24.—The delegates to the democratic state convention assembled here tonight to transact business preliminary to the convention proper tomorrow. The proceedings of the night wound up with a fracas which developed in the New London county caucus during a debate involving the indorsement of one or the other of the two candidates for governor. Hot words were followed by scuffles, and then came fisticuffs. No one was seriously injured, but the caucus went to pieces in perfect pandemonium.

Some one started a speech in favor of Nelbert B. Cary. This did not fit well with the men of the county claiming Charles F. Thayer as its favorite son, and in a moment a dozen men were on their feet. Some one speaking for Cary shouted:

"He's a world beater."

In an instant an elderly delegate from the other camp grabbed the speaker by the throat. The latter's cravat came off. Others interfered and the two combatants seemed to think they were being attacked. The fight continued until the delegation became pretty well scattered. Then came a lull, but it was only temporary. Fist fights soon followed. One delegate forgot that he was on the stage, and in his excitement fell sprawling to the floor. Four others seeking to get out of the rough and tumble rushed to the other side of the stage and landed against six rows of chairs at the side of the platform. The chairs slid away and the quartet went in a heap with fifty or more chairs. The shouting and the tumult continued and the meeting broke up in pandemonium.

MARBLE USED FROM GEORGIA

Stone from This State Selected by Capitol Commission of Maryland.

Baltimore, Md., September 24.—(Special.) Georgia marble was today substitued for Maryland marble by the building commission of the state capitol annex. The portico is to be built of the Georgia stone, and today it was decided to substitute marble for copper in the cornices.

Members of the commission said they favored Maryland marble, but owing to an apparent combination among local quarrymen to raise prices, the Georgia stone could be had much cheaper. The total saving by substituting the Georgia product will be about $10,000.

BOIES THRUSTS AT THE TRUSTS

Tariff Must Be Reduced to Reach the Combines, He Declares.

Waterloo, Iowa, September 24.—Former Governor Horace Boies today made public his letter accepting the democratic nomination for congres in the third Iowa district, now represented by Speaker Henderson. The letter is devoted entirely to the trusts and the tariff and the only adequate remedy for the evils with which the trusts are charged is declared to be the removal of the tariff on trust made products. He declares the trust question to be the most important that now agitates the public mind. The letter says in part:

"The teachings of democrats logically lead them to believe that our protective tariff system has made the organization of these trusts possible and so long as it is continued they also believe it will furnish a defensive breastwork behind which they can find shelter from every shaft that could reach a vital part."

Speaking of the position of democrats he says:

"It is the heart of the trust they would reach. To do this they know the wall that shelters it must be battered down at the place where it is concealed. If this should result in a reduction of our tariff system below a revenue basis they would help to build it up higher whenever or wherever a trust is not sheltered behind it. This is the present day doctrine of a tariff for revenue only, as I understand it and as I shall interpret it if I go to congress."

HE WILL FIGHT FOR MILLIONS

Harry Stratton To Contest Father's Will Leaving $12,000,000 to Sick People.

Denver, Colo., September 24.—I. Harry Stratton, of Pasadena, Cal., today, after a conference in this city between his attorneys, decided to contest the will of his father, Winfield S. Stratton, which left the bulk of his estate, estimated to be worth from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000, for the establishment of a home for poor sick people at Colorado Springs.

Under the provisions of the will, young Stratton forfeits the $50,000 which his father bequeathed him by making a contest.

WOUNDED LEG GIVES NO PAIN

President Roosevelt Has Returned to Temporary White House.

essary for him to remain quiet, and President Roosevelt good naturedly gave in. The pain in his leg had practically disappeared and the conditions there were so favorable that the doctor did not think it necessary to redress the limb. The president's leg is tightly bandaged and Dr. Lung does not look for a recurrence of the swelling, although this would be nothing unusual and would cause no alarm. During the forenoon's run, in describing his condition to a caller, the president said he could feel that something had happened when he thought about it and that was all. After eating a hearty breakfast, the president called for a book, remarking that as he was an invalid, he proposed to enjoy himself. He was propped up in bed with his left leg on a pillow and spent most of the day in reading.

Jar Was Avoided.

The running time of the train was slow in order to reduce the jar and as few stops as possible were made. Whenever the train stopped crowds gathered about the president's car, but there was no cheering. All the people seemed anxious to hear the latest information regarding the president's condition and the members of his party who stepped from the train were plied with questions. After dinner the president expressed a desire to see the members of his party and they went into his state room, a few at a time. He chatted pleasantly with all of them and expressed his great disappointment at not being able to continue the trip. He said he had strongly opposed the decision of the doctors to have the operation performed at Indianapolis. He wanted to continue his journey and make the speeches he had planned, but finally yielded to the strong pleading of the doctors, who represented that there was danger, if not properly attended to that the bone might become affected and an affection result that it would take months to cure. The president yielded, but remarked in his younger days he had broken a rib and his collar bone at a sheep herding, but had not allowed it to interfere with his work.

In his talk with his callers the president made known his determination to visit the northwest next spring, when he will extend his trip as far as the coast, during which time he will visit all the states in which he intended to stop on the trip just ended. The president feels very close to the people of the northwest, as many years of his life were spent in that section and it was there that he raised his regiment of rough riders at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. He will allow nothing to stand in his way of going there in the spring.

Praises the Sisters.

He had nothing but kind words to say of the treatment he received from the sisters of St. Vincent hospital at Indianapolis, where he was operated on. One of them was a nurse at Montauk when the great hospital was established on Long Island after the Spanish war, and she reminded the president of the fact that she had often seen him there and had admired him for the way in which he looked after the comfort of his men. The president was delighted to meet her and conversed with her for some time.

When the train bearing the president rolled into the station tonight there was a large crowd awaiting its arrival, but a special detail of police and detectives kept them in the rear so that few were able to see him. Mrs. Roosevelt, who had reached the city during the day from Oyster Bay, had been one of the earliest arrivals at the station. She was accompanied by Rear Admiral P. M. Rixey, formerly the physician attached to the presidential household. Secretaries Moody and Hitchcock and Dr. J. F. Urie joined them before the train's arrival. As soon as the train came to a stop Mrs. Roosevelt boarded it, followed by the cabinet officers and the others who had come to welcome the president home. They remained aboard for fifteen minutes chatting with the president before he was removed from the car. An invalid wheel chair was backed up against the platform and into this the president, borne in the arms of Drs. Long, Richardson and Rixey and other gentlemen, was lifted and wheeled across the narrow platform out through the baggage entrance onto the pavement next to which the white house carriage was standing.

Extended Happy Greeting.

The president extended a happy greeting to several persons whom he recognized as he was being wheeled to the carriage. He was attired as usual, except that the shoe on the left foot was off. He remarked to a crowd of officers and trainmen that he felt better than he looked. He apparently suffered no pain from the wound in his leg. As he was lifted into the carriage he was given several hearty rounds of applause by the bystanders. Mrs. Roosevelt already had taken her place in the vehicle and they were driven home. Here the president was assisted by the attendants to an ordinary cane seat chair placed on the pavement. Then a half dozen ushers and policemen carried him to his room on the second floor of his temporary home. This floor contains three large roms and a hall room with a bath at the extreme rear. The room fronting on Lafayette square had been made into a sitting and the other two into bed rooms. The president was taken to the second room from the front and made comfortable. Arrangements were made at once for dressing the president's wound and for other attention necessary after his journey. Drs. Lung, Rixey and Urie remained with him some time after he was taken to his room and gave their personal attention to every detail. Dr. Lung, the regular white house physician, will have immediate charge of the president's case, and should it be deemed necessary will consult Drs. Rixey and Urie in the further treatment of the wound.

There is an accumulation of business demanding the president's attention, and he will be able to dispose of much of it without serious personal inconvenience. According to present plans, during his period of recovery the president will spend his time at the temporary white house.

Mr. Roosevelt expects to view the parade of the Grand Army two weeks from today, but it is not yet known whether he will remain here during the entire interval between now and then.

Frederick Wellington Ruckstuhl has been appointed chief of sculpture of the St. Louis world's fair. He will have the active direction of the modeling of all sculptural effects at the exposition.

FROM TARIFF AND TRUSTS HE FLEES TO PHILIPPINES

Secretary of War Root Opens Republican Campaign in Illinois by Defending Insular Policy--Fails To Mention Trusts or Tariff.

Peoria, Ills., September 24.—Elihu Root, secretary of war, was the speaker tonight at the meeting of the Illinois republican clubs. The Coliseum was packed to the doors, and time after time the secretary was vociferously applauded. His address was confined entirely to the recent troubles in the Philippines and Cuba, and not once during the evening did he mention the tariff or the trusts.

In opening his address he paid a high compliment to the late William McKinley. He said in part:

"The work of pacification and construction in Cuba has been completed. Military government there had faithfully given effect to the humane purposes of the American people. With sincere kindness our officers had helped the Cubans to take steps necessary to establishment of their own constitutional government.

"Of all the executive problems following in the train of the Spanish war the problem of the Philippines alone remained. Success there had not been demonstrated, and it is still possible that the failure there might lead the American people to withdraw power from republican hands. Accordingly the Filipino policy of the administration was attacked."

Attacks on Administration.

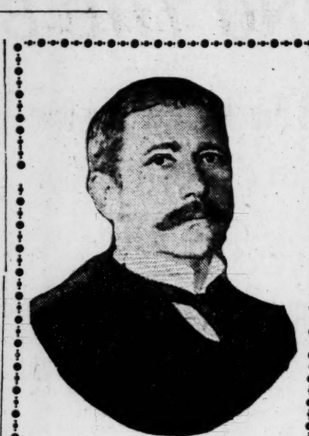

The secretary stated that in the early months in 1899, when the course of the United States toward the insurrection in the Philippines had been determined, there was no difference of opinion between the two parties as to the duty of the administration. Then he read a number of editorials from the press throughout the country, both republican and democratic, showing that there was only one thing to do, and that was to conquer the forces of Aguinaldo.

Then he spent some time in a denial of the stories told by the democratic party during the insurrection.

The secretary spent some time in telling of the attacks made upon the administration by different members of the senate and house, and said:

"The whole army and its generals were involved in common denunciation. The gallant and fearless Funston was stigmatized by the senator from Tennessee as a 'blatherskite brigadier.' 'I do not know who General Wheaton is particularly,' said the senator from Idaho, 'but I imagined he was a charity boy who was appointed to West Point by some representative or senator and educated by the government.'

"Said the senator from Utah, 'Did Chaffee alone, unaided, in coldness and in brutality and in savage and unrelenting disregard of every human sentiment or possibility of human suffering, conceive this iniquitous scheme? Whence, from what diabolical source was it derived? The American people ought to know. Is there any penalty beneath the sun adequate to be meted out to the merciless wretch who has thus brought such dishonor upon the American name and the American people?'"

Charges Are Denied.

To prove these charges untrue, Secretary Root quoted from statements made by the late President McKinley, Admiral Dewey, Governor Taft and Vice Governor Wright.

Continuing, he said:

"Throughout all this storm of detraction and abuse the republican majorities of the senate and public labored unceasingly to frame and perfect legislation under which the people of the Philippines have peace and order and individual freedom and prosperity. They studied the needs of the islands, the character of the people, the existing laws and system of government, and they produced and passed against democratic opposition a Philippine government bill which exhibits a high degree of wise statesmanship and opens to the Philippine people the path to that enlightenment and capacity for self-government for which Risal longed and to the blessings which the noble and gentle McKinley believed would descend upon them under the benediction of our flag. I think they and not the others were the true friends of the Philippine people."

PEOPLE TO DEAL WITH FRIARS

Governor Taft Explains to Filipinos Result of Negotiations at Rome.

MONEY FOR THE LANDS WILL GO TO THE CHURCH

Proceeds Will Be Used for Catholic Organization in Islands—Priests Will Be Selected According to the Wishes of the Majority.

Washington, September 24.—The bureau of insular affairs today furnished to the press copies of the speech made by Governor Taft on the occasion of the reception tendered him when he arrived in the Philippine islands. In the course of the speech, Governor Taft said:

"You can be very sure that it will be only a matter of a year or two before the American duty on Philippine products will be reduced to so small a figure as to make it practically free trade. Delays in congressional action on the tariff and postponement of the time for a popular assembly are only the outgrowth of a conservatism due to a doubt on the part of many as to real conditions in the islands, a doubt, I may say, which nothing will so quickly dispel as a quelt prosecution of agriculture and other pursuits and an avoiding of useless political agitation for the next year.

The Religious Question.

"The many questions requiring settlement between the Philippine government and the church led the president and secretary of war to direct me to visit Rome for a conference with the pope, to see if a basis of settlement might not be reached. After an audience with the pope, the instructions were referred to a committee of cardinals, and an answer was given me agreeing generally with all the purposes stated in the instructions, which included, among other things, the purchase of the friars' lands by the government.

"This answer proposed that further negotiation be had between an apostolic delegate and myself in Manila. With the hope of having less to do in Manila and by authority of the secretary, I replied by suggesting to the pope the form of a contract to be signed in Rome, submitting the questions at issue to a tribunal of arbitration to consist of two members appointed by the pope, two by this government and the fifth to be appointed by the viceroy of India.

"The questions were: First, the price to be paid for the friars' lands; second, the price to be paid for the occupation of parish churches and convents by American troops, and, third, the disposition of educational and charitable trusts, including the San Jose college case. The contract included a covenant that the members of the four great religious orders, who were all Spaniards, should leave the islands in two years after the first payment was made for the lands, and that only secular priests or non-Spanish members of the regular clergy should act as parish priests.

What Vatican Agreed To Sign.

"The vatican agreed to sign a contract, excepting the last covenant, which he declined to sign; first, because it related to the administration of religious matters not the proper subject of a commercial contract; second, because, by signing such a covenant it would give just offense to Spain, whose subjects these friars were, and as such were entitled to remain in the islands under the treaty of Paris, and because the vatican did not wish to give countenance to what were regarded as the exaggerated charges against them.

"Instead of this, however, the pope said, through Cardinal Rampolla, that he intended to reorganize the church in the islands, to recall the friars now in the islands from political intermeddling to the institutes of their order, to provide ecclesiastical education to natives, so that the priesthood ultimately should be entirely native, and now to introduce priests of other nationality than Spanish, chiefly from the United States, into the islands. He said that the money for the lands would go to the church for the benefit of the church in the Philippines, and not to the orders, and he finally reiterated what had been said earlier in the correspondence, that no priest would be sent to any parish in the islands whom a majority of the Catholics of the parish did not wish to receive.

Basis of Agreement.

"In view of the unwillingness of the vatican to enter into a contract for the definite removal of the Spanish friars, the secretary of war was unwilling to enter into a contract obligating the Philippine government and the American government to pay such indefinite sums without further investigation and preferred to recur to the original method of negotiation proposed by the vatican through an apostolic delegate, who is to visit the islands with authority to sell the lands, to settle the rentals due and to agree upon the question of charitable and educational trusts.

"This basis was agreed to and negotiations are to be continued here after all the data necessary have been submitted by the representative of the church to the government.

"It will thus be seen that the negotiations upon many of the issues are only begun, though the sale of the lands has been approved and that upon the question of the return of the friars to the parishes, the matter is completely in the hands of the people of each parish for a settlement by a quiet, peaceable and lawful expression of their desire to receive or not to receive any priest."

WHO'S THE BOSS? PLATT OR ODELL?

Odell Knocks Out Sheldon, but Platt Is Smiling.

Governor Seemingly Gets All He Demanded, but Platt Says There's Harmony, and Apologizes to Woodruff—Indorses Roosevelt.

Saratoga, N. Y., September 24.—Completing today, in three hours, a state ticket and promulgating a platform of principles without the least indication of friction and amidst much enthusiasm, the state republican convention adjourned sine die. The candidates, with three exceptions, are, at present, state officers. The planks in the platform which attracted most attention were those protesting against combinations and trusts and the declaration for improved canals.

The ticket nominated was:

For Governor—B. B. Odell, Jr., of Orange.

For Lieutenant Governor—F. W. Higgins, of Cattaraugus.

For Secretary of State—John F. O'Brien, of Clinton.

For Treasurer—John G. Wickser, of Erie.

For Comptroller—N. B. Miller, of Cortland.

For Engineer—E. A. Bond, of Jefferson.

For Attorney General—H. B. Cowan, of Madison.

For Judge Court of Appeals—William E. Werner, of Monroe.

The platform also indorses the administration of President Roosevelt and Governor Odell, discourses on the economy that has characterized the administration of state affairs, favors reciprocity with Cuba, congratulates President Roosevelt for laying the foundations of local government in the Philippines, and indorses the constitutional amendment allowing the legislature to regulate the hours of labor for working men.

Concerning Roosevelt.

Concerning President Roosevelt the platform says:

"We look forward with confidence to his election to the presidency in 1904, and so far as this convention has the power, we pledge thereto the earnest efforts of the republican party of this state.

On the subjects of the tariff and trusts the platform says:

"The greatest national issue is the maintenance of prosperity. The pledge given by William McKinley of abundant work and good wages, based on the passage of a protective tariff bill, has been fulfilled.

"The integrity of the protective principle must be preserved. That principle is required to maintain the highest scale of American wages and the supremacy of the American workshop.

"While we encourage business enterprises which have for their object the extension of trade and the upbuilding of our state, we condemn all combinations and monopolies in whatever form having for their purpose the destruction of competition in legitimate enterprise, the limitation of production in any field of labor, or the increase of cost to the consumer of the necessaries of life, and we pledge the party to the support of such legislation as will suppress and prevent the organization of such illegal combinations."

Harmony Prevails.

The friction which developed yesterday and which threatened to result in a party breach had entirely disappeared this morning and the leaders talked in the most harmonious way. Senator Platt said that if he made any aspersions on Mr. Woodruff he had forgotten them. Mr. Woodruff failed to remember any criticism of Senator Platt.

Governor Odell left early in the morning after having effected the retirement of Mr. Sheldon, and the delegates, almost as a unit, approved of the decision. Senator Higgins, who was named by the convention for lieutenant governor, was the original candidate of Senator Platt.

justice of the supreme court as they have heretofore accorded me, insist that they do not want a probably very active canvass precipitated for the position I now hold, and some are complimentary enough to say that they do not want to give me up as a circuit judge upon any terms.

"Second. Many of my best friends in other sections who have not hesitated to write that they prefer me, are embarrassed by pledges given in some canvass preliminary to Judge Lewis' resignation in which my name was not presented. I will not now, after reaching the age of 40 years, embarrass good and true friends. I never have in the past.

"Third. In addition to these reasons which affect others and therefore should control a grateful man not wholly selfish, and do so influence me, there are personal matters which so involves me financially that I am unable, with honor at this time, either to avoid or neglect them, and likewise am powerless to defray even the legitimate expenses of a state campaign. I decline the further use of my name in this connection without disappointment, chagrin or complaint, or the slightest trace of ill-feeling toward a single citizen. I confess the temptation has been strong to place my name before the people of the state, because I know better than any one else can the volume of enthusiastic support tendered me by all classes of our citizens, and in every section of the commonwealth. And though I have had a reasonably successfully career, and this is not the first time I have had an opportunity of judging the public pulse, I have never heretofore had as hearty and general support. But having been chosen unanimously by the people as judge of the western circuit, it is clear to me that my first and highest duty is to them and to serve them as faithfully as I can until such a time as will not deprive them of the democratic right of selecting for themselves, upon their own deliberate judgment, my successor, and as will at the same time allow me to return my trust to the same authority from which I received it.

"I have written more lengthily than I would, for the press of time will not permit me personally to write to my friends and supporters throughout the state.

"Their unselfish loyalty, their generous interest and their unstinted confidence are imperishably implanted amid the most grateful recollections of a heart from which neither time nor distance can efface or destroy their perenniel fragrance. And my only regret is that the probability of my candidacy has caused them fruitless care in my behalf. Very respectfully,

"R. B. RUSSELL."

BOOTH COMING TO AMERICA

Salvation Army General Will Tour the United States and Canada.

New York, September 24.—Arrangements are being made for the reception of William Booth, general and founder of the Salvation Army, who is expected to arrive from England October 4. General Booth will visit on his tour twenty-five cities in the United States and nine in Canada.

On Sunday General Booth will deliver three addresses in the Academy of Music, at 11 a. m., 4 and 8 p. m. The habitues of the dives and saloons of the city have been especially invited, and the well-known characters of the Bowery and lower East Side have received personal invitations to be present.

At a meeting on Monday, October 6, in Carnegie music hall, Mayor Low will preside and General Booth will speak on "The Past, Present and Future of the Salvation Army."

DRUNKEN WIFE STABS HUSBAND

She Then Seizes a Razor and Cuts Her Throat---Both Will Die.

New York, September 24.—On an alarm from the Maspeth police, an ambulance was sent early today from a Brooklyn hospital on the 4-mile run to the home of Joseph Alstrefski. The ambulance surgeon found the man lying on the floor in a pool of blood.

"My wife stabbed me," he gasped. "She had been drinking and was abusing our daughter when I came home. I protested and she stabbed me."

The woman lay on a bed apparently asleep. The surgeon began to work on Alstrefski's wound, while a policeman ordered the woman to get up and go with him to the station. He turned his back. The woman jumped up, snatched her husband's razor, and, before the policeman could turn around to stop her, cut her throat from ear to ear. Then both man and wife were hurriedly carried to the hospital, but the physicians said neither could live.

HON. R. J. LOWE IS CHAIRMAN.

WILL CONTINUE AT HEAD OF ALABAMA DEMOCRATS.

He Defeated H. S. D. Mallory, of Selma, by a Vote of 14 to 11. Wilson Is Nominee.

Montgomery, Ala., September 24.—(Special.)—The state democratic executive committee met here today with only eighteen members present, one short of a quorum, but by common consent there was no roll call, and the point was not raised.

The count of the vote in the second primary on attorney general showed that Massie Wilson received 18,874 votes and Alex M. Garber 16,379, a majority of 2,495 for Wilson, and he was declared the nominee. Baldwin, Bibb and St. Clair sent up no returns, though all went for Wilson.

The committee consumed the day and until 10 o'clock tonight hearing the case of Emmett O'Neal in his appeal in contesting the nomination of R. T. Simpson for representative in Lauderdale county. The county committee declined to go into the hearing of evidence on illegal ballots except where the voter had been challenged. O'Neal asked the state committee to require that it do so, claiming the casting of 300 illegal votes for Simpson. The state committee refused the petition, and the nomination of Simpson stands.

It was 10 o'clock when the old committee dissolved, the new was called to order. There were twenty-six of the thirty-six members present. R. J. Lowe, of Birmingham, and H. S. D. Mallory, of Selma, were put in nomination, the former being the chairman of the old committee. Lowe won by a ballot of 14 to 11. John C. Pugh was reelected secretary by acclamation.

The chairman was authorized to appoint a campaign committee for the pending campaign, which will elect its own chairman, and the committee adjourned.

Funeral of Alfred Marsh.

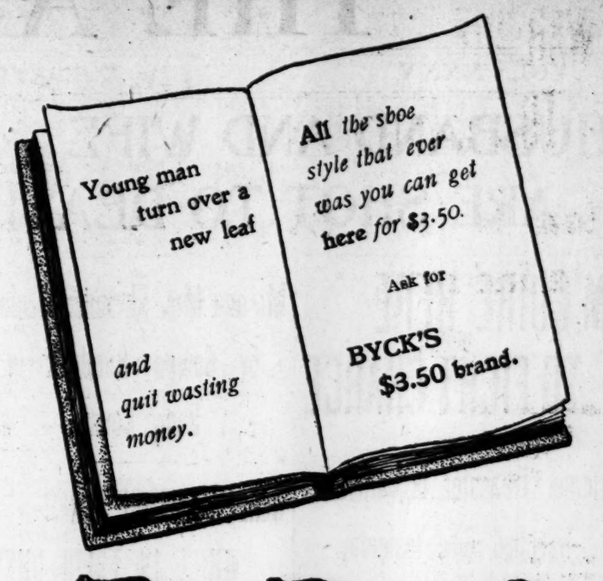

Monticello, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—The funeral services of Alfred Marsh, whose death occurred last night, were held in the Presbyterian church this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and were conducted by Rev. Arthur Harris. Mr. Marsh was a consecrated Christian and greatly beloved by all who knew him. At the time of his death he was seventy-five years of age, and is survived by a widow and son, Bert Marsh, and daughter, Mrs. Oscar Golden.

DYNAMITE USED TO STAY FIRE.

West Virginia Town Is Swept by a Destroying Blaze.

Clarksburg, W. Va., September 24.—The town of Shinnston, near here, was visited by fire last night, in which the Central hotel, Bryan's drug store and a number of other buildings were destroyed. Fine Brothers' clothing store was blown up with a heavy charge of dynamite to stay the progress of the flames. The concussion broke every window in the town.

Dr. H. A. Jarect, of Grafton, W. Va., was caught in the hotel and was injured in jumping from a second story window. The other guests escaped unhurt. The loss was about $50,000.

LILLER'S "LIE" IS TAKEN BACK

Apologizes for Saying That Russell Harrison Mangled the Truth.

Indianapolis, Ind., September 24.—The third annual convention of the Spanish-American war veterans came to a close this afternoon after tahe election of officers and the designation of Milwaukee as the next convention city.

The following are the officers for the ensuing year Commander in chief, Colonel D. John Fister, Chicago; senior vice commander, Colonel Thomas F. Lynch, New York; junior vice commander, Major Harry Hall, Philadelphia; inspector general, Captain Ellis Duncan, Louisville, Ky.; judge advocate general, Captain Newton W. Gilbert, Fort Wayne, Ind.; surgeon general, Major William P. Love, Youngstown, Ohio; commissary general, L. F. Hubbard, St. Paul, Minn.; chief signal officer, Lieutenant John McLennan, Michigan; chief of artillery, Wilbur M. Lee, Wisconsin; chaplain in chief, J. C. Schindle, Youngstown, Ohio.

A resolution was unanimously passed favoring a consolidation of the Spanish-American war veterans and the Spanish war veterans.

The Liller imbroglio was finally settled by that gentleman formally resigning his office as adjutant general and offering a written apology for his discourteous conduct of Monday in calling Colonel Harrison a liar, and for his other offenses. The letter is as follows:

"I beg to say that I was in error in the matter of the controversy in the department of Ohio relating to the departmental commander, and I desire to express my apology to you and to the members of the association for the part I took there. I likewise desire to apologize for my language and conduct on the floor of the convention Monday last."

The auditing committee, which was appointed to investigate Liller's accounts, reported that Liller's books were in such an unsystematic condition that no detailed report could be made.

After the report of the committee had been read the convention was in an uproar. From all parts of the hall Liller wsa called upon to account for the cash he had received. It was decided that no settlement be made with Liller until the affairs of the order had been untangled.

After an address by Commander Richmond Pearson Hobson the encampment adjourned to meet at Milwaukee next September.

Tonight William G. Liller, the ousted adjutant general of the Spanish-American war veterans, said in reference to an apology he had been required to make for calling Colonel Russell B. Harrison a liar that he retracted every word of it.

He said he intended to organize a new order in a short time. He intimated that many would leave the Spanish-American veterans' organization and follow him. The new order, he said, would be an anti-negro organization.

WARSHIP SAILS TO THE ISTHMUS

Cruiser San Francisco Goes to Guard American Interests.

She Carries Marines Who Will Be Detailed for Garrison Duty at Panama — Reports State Fighting Is in Progress in Colombia.

Norfolk, Va., September 24.—The United States cruiser San Francisco, which arrived at the Norfolk navy yard a week ago, sailed this morning for Panama, where she goes to protect American interests on the isthmus.

Besides her regular complement of marines and sailors, the San Francisco carries thirty-five marines from the barracks at the navy yard, who will be detailed for garrison duty on the isthmus.

Fierce Fighting in Colombia.

Kingston, Jamaica, September 24.—The Atlas line steamer Adirondack, which sailed from New York September 6, for Cape Haytien, Gonaives, etc., has arrived here direct from Santa Martia (a seaport town of Colombia), and reports continued fighting between the government forces and revolutionists in that neighborhood. The latter occupy a strong position in the rear of the town, having completely destroyed the railroad line, burned the bridges and sacked the banana districts. No trains are running and every means of communication with the place has been cut off. The officers of the Adirondack say that there is terrible suffering at Santa Martia as the insurgents are intercepting the supplies. The town is still at their mercy.

The Spanish steamer Antillian has just reached here from Colon, Colombia, bringing a report that the situation on the isthmus was extremely critical when she left there last Sunday. The rebels were then reported to be massed near the railroad between Colon and Panama and the government was sending troops, according to these reports, from Panama to Agua Dulce to cut off the rebels' retreat should they be beaten on the isthmus. The main rebel army under General Herera was reported to be within 7 miles of Colon. Officers of the Antillian say business at Colon has been suspended and that the privations there are great. The government soldiers at Colon are mainly youths and apparently are unable to stand the hardships of a campaign.

FLYING THE STARS AND STRIPES CASTRO'S WAR SHIP SHELLS CITY

Ciudad Bolivar Is Bombarded and Loss of Life and Property Is Caused.

Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad, September 24.—A leading German merchant who escaped from Ciudad Bilver, Venezuela, arrived here yesterday and made a statement under oath before the officials here setting forth that on August 20 the Venezuelan war ship Restaurador, when steaming up the Orinoco river for the second time in order to again bombard Ciudad Bolivar, hoisted the American flag in order to be able to reach that city without arousing the suspicions of the inhabitants as to her identity, and that by this strategem the Restaurador reached the custom house at Ciudad Bolivar and immediately opened the fire on the center of the city, causing loss of life and damage to property in the quarters inhabited by the foreigners. The merchant also stated that the foreign consuls and all the population of Ciudad Bolivar protested against the actions of the Restaurador.

Apology Made by Castro.

Washington, September 24.—The singular circumstance reported by the German merchant in the above cablegram was explained by the reception of two cablegrams from United States Minister Bowen, at Caracas, at the department of state this afternoon. The first dispatch stated that the Venezuelan gunboat Restaurado had approached Ciudad Bolivar flying the American flag. She did not lower the flag until she was very close to the shore, when she opened fire upon the insurgents from her position there, creating great consternation. When the Restaurado returned to La Guayra the fact was reported to Minister Bowen, who indignantly demanded a complete apology from the Venezuelan government, and also that the flag of the United States be saluted by the offending ship.

PRESIDENT CASTRO.

The second cablegram from Mr. Bowen reports that the Venezuelan government promptly acceded to these terms, made a suitable apology and the commander of the Restaurador hoisted the American flag and fired a national salute.

The matter is still under consideration between the state and navy departments.

Rebels Destroy Brigades.

Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad, September 24.—Two bridges on the (English) La Guayra-Caracas railroad were blown up with dynamite September 18 by the revolutionists.

PHIPPS GIVES BOERS $100,000

New Yorker's Generous Contribution to Destitute Burghers.

Money Will Be Used for the Relief of the Widows and Orphans, and Will Be Disbursed by General Botha — Phipps' Letter.

London, September 24.—A dispatch from The Hague today confirms the report that the donor of the $100,000 sent to General Botha for the relief of destitute Boers was Henry Phipps, of New York city.

In notifying General Botha of the gift, Mr. Phipps wrote from Beaufort castle, Scotland, September 20, that he and his family had followed the course of the war with anxious hearts and were eager for the sake of both sides that a jest ending might be made.

"Now that the war is over," continued Mr. Phipps, "it is a privilege, and I believe a duty, to do something to relieve the sufferings caused by the war. I feel that the best service I could render would be to provide $100,000 for the relief of the Boer widows and young orphans' fund, to be disbursed by you and two others. My desire is that the temporary misery of the women and children should be relieved and at the same time I trust nothing will be done which could be justly described as unfriendly to Great Britain."

General Botha, in his reply, dated Brussels, September 21, acknowledging this "most generous and unexpected gift," adds:

"I have not the slightest hesitation in giving you assurance that the money will be used solely and entirely philanthropically, and that it will in no way be applied to do anything which could be justly described as unfriendly to Great Britain. Having laid down our arms, and carried out loyally, as our late enemies admit, the terms to which we subscribed at Pretoria, we made peace in the fullest sense of the word, and my only object now is to try to alleviate as much as in my power lies the misery in which my countrymen find themselves after a war that has entirely ruined them."

Are Most Women in Summer—Pe-ru-na Is a Tonic of Efficiency.

Josephine Morris.

JOSEPHINE MORRIS, 236 Carroll street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"Peruna is a fine medicine to take any time of the year, but I have found it especially helpful to withstand the wear and tear of the hot weather. I have taken it now for two summers and feel that it has kept my system free from malaria, and also kept me from having that worn-out, dragged-out look which so many women have.

"I therefore have no hesitancy in saying that I think it is the finest tonic in the world."—Josephine Morris.

Peruna is frequently used as a mitigation of the effects of hot weather. What a bath is to the skin, Peruna is to the mucous membranes. Bathing keeps the skin healthy, Peruna makes the mucous membranes clean and healthy. With the skin and mucous membranes in good working order, hot weather can be withstood with very little suffering.

Frequent bathing with an occasional use of Peruna is sure to mitigate the horrors of hot weather. Many ladies have discovered that the depression of hot weather and the rigors they have been in the habit of attributing to malaria quickly disappear when they use Peruna. This is why Peruna is so popular with them. Peruna provides clean mucous membranes and the clean mucous membranes do the rest.

Hon. T. Y. Fitzpatrick, congressman from Kentucky, writes from the National hotel, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"At the solicitation of a friend I used your Peruna and can cheerfully recommend your remedy to any one suffering with catarrh or who needs a good tonic."—T. Y. Fitzpatrick.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, president of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

NOTHING DOING FOR HEBREWS

Hay's Protest Finds No Favor in Berlin Though Roumania Is Condemned.

Cologne, September 24.—The Keelniche Zeitung, which is frequently inspired from Berlin, refers to Secretary Hay's Roumanian note as follows:

"However pitiable the position of the Jews in Roumania may be, individual states mut ask themselves whether an states must ask themselves whether an justifies them in imposing this jurisdiction upon these subjects. Great Britain and the United States must make it clear how they conceive the whole business is to be managed. Germany, by itself, is in no way concerned in the question. The fact that the treaty of Berlin was signed in Berlin does not impose the obligation of defending it upon Germany any more than upon the other signatories. It follows that we by no means feel called upon to play the leading role, the more so as we are under no illusion as to the difficulty of the enterprise.

"Roumania would have done better to frame her Jewish legislation otherwise than she has. The measures taken by Roumania are hopeless. When she recognizes this fact, she will, perhaps, modify her legislation, in so much as it is very much to her interest that the Jewish question disappear from the order of the day."

BY FORGERIES HE WON MONEY

Large Amounts Secured by Carnegie Bookkeeper. Sensation Is Expected.

London, September 24.—L. M. Greig, a bookkeeper in the London office of the Carnegie Steel Company, who was remanded on Friday last on the charge of forging checks amounting to $9,500, purporting to have been signed by Colonel Millard Hunsicker, chairman of the Nickel corporation, was again remanded today after a brief hearing.

Counsel for the prosecution said that probably others were implicated in the case which promised to develop largely. Their information disclosed that not only had forgeries been committed, but embezzlements and theft of correspondence from Pittsburg to the Carnegie company. Counsel handed in forged checks for $90,000 and $50,000 respectively. He said the forgeries were all of great magnitude.

The prisoner, he declared, kept up a lavish establishment at Kingston-on-the-Thames, and steps were being taken to prevent the removal of its handsome furniture. Counsel also handed the magistrate a letter from a prisoner in Exeter jail, which, the magistrate said, threw quite a new wlight on the case.

Counsel added that an examination of the books showed not only that Greig's forgeries were for very large amounts, but that there had been an extensive falsification of the books. The prisoner apparently had been carrying on a large business. At various addresses in the city the police have seized a mass of documents and correspondence. They also discovered that chloride of lime had been used in erasing names from checks.

Colonel Hunsicker told a reporter of the Associated Press subsequently that some of the money had been recovered, but that the loss probably would amount to $75,000.

Nothing Known at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, September 24.—Nothing could be learned here of the alleged forgeries of L. H. Greif, of the London office of the Carnegie Steel Company. Greig had been employed in the London office several years, but it was not known here that he was an Englishman. The checks which were the basis of the crimes were sent direct to London from the Pittsburg office drawn on the Royal Bank of Scotland. The London office had no power, it is said, to issue checks.

KING IGNORED BY THE QUEEN

In Her Will Marie Henriette Left Nothing to King of the Belgians.

Brussels, September 24.—The will of Marie Henriette, queen of the Belgians, was opened today. It directs that she be buried beside her son and that there shall be no public lying in state. The queen bequeaths her twelve horses to her private secretary, Baron Goffinet, upon whom King Leopold today conferred a commandership in the Order of Leopold in recognition of the baron's devotion to the late queen.

The other bequests made by her majesty were of a private character. She left nothing to King Leopold.

FIREMEN ADJOURN MEETING.

Brotherhood Will Meet Next at Buffalo, N. Y.

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 24.—The eighth biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen concluded its sessions in this city at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The ninth biennial convention will be held in Buffalo, N. Y. Such was the decision reached this afternoon after the most heated contest of the convention. It required three ballots to decide the race among rival cities. Birmingham, Ala.; Milwaukee, Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio, were the cities contending.

The morning session was occupied with the race for membership on the board of grand trustees.

After a close contest George Goding and A. H. Hawley were declared reelected, and W. L. French was found to have won the third place on the board.

The afternoon session opened with the report of the committee on salaries. The committee reported in favor of retaining the same salaries except in the case of the grand secretary and treasurer, whose salary was materially increased, and the salaries of the office employees of the grand lodge were also given a raise. The bond of the grand secretary was also increased, owing to the addition which has been made to the reserve fund.

SEISMIC SHOCK IN MEXICO.

Earth Trembled Very Sharply at the Capital.

Mexico City, September 24.—An earthquake shock was felt here yesterday afternoon, although appearing to be a light one, and causing little alarm. It cracked a large number of buildings and today the police reports show that the water pipes burst in several streets. The earthquake was quite sharp in Pueblo, causing some alarm and reports coming in show that the seismic disturbance was felt eastward to Vera Cruz and other cities and towns on the gulf of Mexico.

EMPEROR OF COREA FALLS BEFORE REAPER'S SCYTHE

Paris, September 25.—In a dispatch from Seoul, Korea, the correspondent of The Figaro says it is reported that the emperor of Korea is dead.

A dispatch from Seoul last Monday said the celebration of the anniversary of the coronation of the emperor had been postponed in consequence of the spread of cholera there, but the real reason of the postponement was alleged to be lack of funds.

Emperor Yi Hieung succeeded to the throne in 1864. He assumed the title of emperor in 1897. It was reported in 1898 that the emperor and the crown prince of Korea had been poisoned. They both recovered. It was then believed that the poisoner was a lady of the emperor's household, and she was supposed to have been actuated by jealousy or political motives.

TWO MEN KILLED IN A RIOT.

Deputy Sheriff and Mexican Shot to Death at Port Arthur, Tex.

Port Arthur, Tex., September 24.—There was an incipient riot here last night, in which two men were killed. Two Mexicans were discharged yesterday at the Guffey refinery, and last night became very threatening and boisterous. City Marshal Moran and his deputy, Edward Smith, attempted to arrest the men, when one of them shot Smith, inflicting a mortal wound. Both officers returned the fire, killing the companion of Smith's assailant. A posse was quickly formed and started after the slayer of Smith, with the avowed purpose of lynching him, but up to a late hour tonight the Mexican had not been apprehended.

SHAW AND THE MONEY MARKET

Secretary Considering Plan To Relieve the Stringency.

Washington, September 24.—While Secretary of the Treasury Shaw has made no announcement of his intention to employ means further to relieve the stringency in the money market, it is known that he has under consideration the advisability of increasing the amounts of government funds on deposit at national bank depositories to the full market value of the bonds on deposit with the government. At present government funds to the amount of the par value of the bonds on deposit are placed in the banks. If the proposed scheme should be adopted by Secretary Shaw it would increase materially the amounts of public money on deposit with the banks, thus relieving the stringency by the increased amount.

REACH DEADLOCK ON TARIFF.

Reichstag Majority Splits Over Meat and Animal Duties.

Berlin, September 24.—The government and the reichstag majority have reached a deadlock on the tariff. The imperial secretary of state for the interior, Count Von Posadowsky-Wehner, enunciated to the reichstag tariff committee today more sharply than ever before the government's determination not to accept the bill as amended at the first reading and the committee immediately revoted the meat and animal duties to the same rates as at the first reading, to which Count Von Posadowsky-Wehner had particularly objected.

Herr Herold, the centrist leader, affirmed that without those duties the centrists would not support the bill, and one by one, representatives of the agrarians, of the town conservative factions and portions of the national liberals sustained Herr Herold's position.

CHIEF CROKER IS ATTACKED.

Charges Against Head of New York Fire Department.

New York, September 24.—Charges against the chief of the New York fire department, Edward F. Croker, were served upon that official today. They allege among other things incompetency in the management of great fires; conversion of public property to private use, and conduct unbecoming an officer and prejudicial to discipline. He is directed to appear for trial next Monday.

BOODLERS ARE STILL IN JAIL.

They Seek in Vain for a Reduction of Bond.

St. Louis, September 24.—In the circuit court Judge Douglass today refused to grant the application of Otto Schumacher, John Helms and John H. Schnettler for a reduction of bond from $45,000 to a lower figure. The reduction was sought by the three men in order to make possible their release from jail. Later Judge Douglass made a similar adverse ruling on the application of William M. Tamblyn, of Cleveland, Ohio, the fourth of the indicted ex-delegates now in the city jail for a reduction of his bond to a figure under $30,000.

The four men were then taken from jail and arraigned before Judge Douglas. The reading of the warrants, charging all four with bribery and all except Tamblyn with perjury, was waved by the men and all pleaded not guilty.

PUJOL DEFEATS BLACKMAN.

He Wins in Race for Congress at New Orleans.

New Orleans, September 24.—Returns from over sixty towns and voting precincts in the seventh congressional district indicate that A. P. Pujol defeated W. F. Blackman in the democratic primary today. Pujol's majority is 460, and it is doubtful if Blackman can overcome this when the full returns are received.

FIRST DISTRICT REPUBLICANS

Will Not Put Out Candidate Against Hon. Rufus E. Lester.

Savannah, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—The republicans of the first congressional district have decided not to run a candidate for congress against Hon. Rufus E. Lester. This decision was arrived at this morning at a meeting of the committee named to select a candidate.

L. M. Pleasants, chairman, presided and W. E. Moore, of Guyton, was the chairman of the meeting.

After speeches by Colonel J. H. Deveaux, W. E. Moore, J. C. Simmons and W. H. Styles a resolution was passed that it was inexpedient to run a candidate at this time. The committee indorsed the administration of President Roosevelt and favored his reelection.

Other campaign matters were referred to L. M. Pleasants and J. H. Deveaux.

It was decided that the republican registration did not warrant the putting out of an opposition candidate to the democratic nominee.

A GALE ON LAKE MICHIGAN

Wind Attains Velocity of 40 Miles an Hour, but No Fatalities.

Chicago, September 24.—One of the heaviest gales of the season prevailed on Lake Michigan today, but so far no fatalities have been reported. The wind rose at times to 45 miles an hour and ranged all day between that and 38 miles.

At the life saving stations double watches were stationed in the lookout towers and crews were held close to quarters in expectation of trouble.

SEVEN THOUSAND PERSONS WITNESS DOUBLE HANGING

Will Mathis, White, and Orlando Lester, a Negro, Executed at Oxford, Miss., for the Murder of Two Revenue Officers.

Oxford, Miss., September 24.—From the same scaffold, and in the presence of 7,000 spectators, Will Mathis, a white man, and Orlando Lester, a negro, were hanged here today for the murder of two deputy United States marshals.

The men ascended the scaffold without fear or hesitation. Lester confessed that he did the shooting, but said that Mathis told him to do it. Mathis, in a statement, admitted the truth of the negro's assertion. He said that he was ready to die, and had made his peace with God. The trap was sprung at 12:50 p. m., and at 1:04 o'clock the physicians pronounced the white man dead. Lester was pronounced dead half a minute later. The executions passed off in an orderly manner.

History of Crime.

On the 16th of last November Deputy United States Marshals John A. and Hugh Montgomery went out 15 miles east of Oxford to arrest Will Mathis upon the charge of illicit distilling. It was learned that the officers arrived at Mathis' about sundown, and, although it was Saturday, Mathis was engaged in killing a hog. He met the officers at his gate and they proceeded to read a writ to him and informed him that they would take him on to Oxford that night. Mathis requested them to let him finish cleaning the hog, so his wife would have something to eat while he was gone.

The officers went into the house and that is the last known of them, of which any one is sure, until their charred and mutilated bodies were found in the ashes of Mathis' burned house next morning.

The negro, Orlando Lester, was helping Mathis, and Bill Jackson was also on the premises. The part each played in the tragedy has been told differently by each one concerned. Mathis claims that Whit Owens loaned the negro a gun and told him to shoot the officers, which he did, against Mathis' will. Lester claims that he was sent after the gun by Will Mathis and that Bill Jackson and Mathis did the shooting. Bill Jackson said he left before the killing took place and Owens has never made any statement at all.

After the Montgomerys were killed, Mathis took his wife to her father's, Whit Owens, and returned with Owens and Lester and burned the house in order to hide the bodies of the two murdered men. The bodies were mutilated and burned, but no one will probably ever know the details. Mathis then rode off on John A. Montgomery's horse and went to the Yocana river swamp. Here, for three days and nights, hunted by bloodhounds and scores of armed men, Mathis struggled to elude the officers but on Thursday after the killing he surrendered to his pursuers. The officers had already arrested Whit Owens, Orlando Lester, Mrs. Mathis and Bill and George Jackson, and placed them in the Oxford jail. When news was telephoned to Oxford that Mathis had surrendered a bonfire was built in the square, the court house bell rung and great demonstrations made. The accomplices of Mathis, who were in jail, believed the enraged mob had caught Mathis and were burning him at a stake. The screams of the terrified wife were heartrending. When Mathis was brought in the next day he was given a preliminary trial before the coroner's jury and made a confession of his guilt, as did Orlando Lester. Both afterwards retracted their confessions, stating that they told just what they knew the people expected them to tell because they feared they would be mobbed if they denied their guilt or refused to talk. Mrs. Mathis, also, said that her first statement was false and wrung from her through fear.

Will Mathis has given several confessions to reporters, all different and all so manifestly false that they cannot be for a moment credited. He insists that he is entirely innocent and that he is suffering for others. He believes himself to be a hero and boasts of his deeds as a moonshiner and desperado.

CALLED TO DOOR AND SHOT DOWN

Edward Adams Killed by Negro Assassin.

Whipped by White Men for Beating Woman, George Caughman Seeks Revenge—Bloodhounds on Trail in South Carolina. Other News in Brief.

Columbia, S. C., September 24.—(Special.)—A pack of bloodhounds was sent from the penitentiary to Newberry today to run down George Caughman, a negro, who last night assassinated Edward Adams, a large farmer, by calling him to his door and shooting him down.

This was the culmination of a series of lawless acts. Caughman beat a woman living on Adams' plantation. The farmer and some friends, it is said, went to Caughman's house at night, took him out in the woods and tied and whipped him. In revenge for this, Caughman slew Adams.

Fugitive Shoots Himself.

At 11 o'clock tonight information was received from Newberry that Caughman had been caught by the dogs, and had shot himself fatally.

Luther Dent Commits Suicide.

Luther Dent, a young married man, 23 years old, died at his home near the corner of Marion and Tobacco streets yesterday afternoon, as the result of laudanum poisoning. Dent had been despondent for some time, and to end a life of trial and pain the young man drank a small bottle of laudanum, such as is ordinarily purchased at drug stores for 10 cents. He was found in his room several hours after taking the poison, but all efforts to revive him were futile.

For some time Mr. Dent had been in the employ of the Virginia Life Insurance Company. His wife was not at home at the time of his death, having been absent for several days on a visit to relatives in Lexington.

Bystander Is Killed.

Yesterday, in front of J. M. Pennington's store, about 8 miles below Green Pond, Jacob Gilliard and Fred Legare, two negroes, were scuffling with an old musket, when the gun was discharged, the load taking effect in the neck of a negro named Edwards, who was standing near by. Edwards died shortly afterwards from the effects of his wound. Gilliard and Legare are under arrest.

Afraid of Highwaymen.

The countyy treasurer of Aiken today published a notice that he would not go into the country, as heretofore, to receive taxes at specified points.

"I do not think I am called upon to risk my life and the county's money by doing so," he says.

The reason given is that highwaymen are abroad throughout the county, and he would be courting death by traveling in the country with money in his possession. Six highway robberies have occurred in Aiken within the last few weeks. No one has been arrested, and the treasurer cites this in justification of his action. In view of this condition, it is probable the many millionaires who spend part of their winters in Aiken will bring down extra artillery with them, or keep close to cover.

South Carolina Presbytery.

The fall session of the South Carolina presbytery was held at Richland church, Oconee county. Rev. J. L. McLin, of Anderson, was elected moderator. The reports from the different churches were very gratifying, and showed that substantial growth and progress are being made in all departments. Rev. R. Livy Grier was received as a member of the presbytery, coming from the A. R. P. synod of Kentucky. Rev. F. H. Wardlaw, of Indiantown, Marion county, was also received into the presbytery. The next meeting will be held at Easley, in May, 1903.

WOMAN'S VANITY WAS VERY COSTLY

Application for Pension Is Turned Down.

Raleigh, N. C., September 24.—(Special.) The state auditor today completed the examination of the new pension applications. He found some queer things. Several women who applied for pension as widows of soldiers swore they were married to a soldier prior to April 1, 1865, which fact is imperative, but also gave their ages as from forty-four to fifty.

The 44-year-old one was, therefore, only 7 years of age when married. Of course, these were all rejected.

North Carolina News Notes.

The corporation has not, it appears, any power to take any action as regards railway accidents. The law requires it to investigate them and it has investigated several, but there the law appears to stop short.

It does not appear that any arrest has been made for violation of the anti-expectoration ordinance in force in Raleigh. There are plenty of violations of it, many of them defiant, but they are unnoticed.

At the request of the Farmers' State Association, Governor Aycock appoints seven of its members delegates to the National Farmers' congress at Macon. These delegates are J. W. B. Battle, John W. Atwater, Ransom Hinton, A. T. Uzzell, W. R. Chesson and C. F. Lambe.

It is learned that the principal feature of the biennial report of the state tax commission, to be made through the governor to the legislature, will be the ways and means of increasing taxes. Income taxes will be suggested as a means of securing a large revenue. The tax on incomes now is only on those in excess of $1,000, but it is understood that the commission will suggest reducing the exemption to $600 and making the tax 5 per cent on incomes in excess of the latter figure.

In 1901 there were built in the state only sixty-three public school houses for whites and forty-five for negroes. Thanks to the great awakening in educational matters this year, 239 have been built for whites, fifty-six for negroes and three for Croatan Indians. It is officially reported that there is also a notable improvement in the quality of the houses.

At the hamlet of Pelham, Rockingham county, yesterday, the local preacher married five eloping couples. He is doing a large and steady business in the marrying way.

HANNAH AND GIBSON MEET ON STUMP IN TENNESSEE

Hot Campaign for Congress Opens in First District. Democrats Determined To Wrest Office from Republicans.

Knoxville, Tenn., September 24.—(Special.)—The first joint congressional campaign that the second congressional district of Tennessee has had in many years was opened at Loudon, near here, today. The contestants for the second's seat in congress are Hon. Henry R. Gibson, the republican nominee, and that party's candidate for reelection, and Colonel Harvey H. Hannah, the nominee of the democratic party, brother of Gerald Hannah, of Atlanta.

Judge Gibson is an old man, perhaps past his sixtieth birthday, while Colonel Hannah is in the prime of life, less than thirty-five years of age.

Judge Gibson claims to have made a war record in the civil strife of the sixties, but this claim was disputed by the local post of the Grand Army of the Republich, which, a few years ago, created the greatest internal strife the republicans of east Tennessee have known in late years in having Gibson removed from the Grand Army of the Republic, charging that his alleged war record could not be substantiated.

Colonel Hannah is a soldier candidate, having served most efficiently in the Spanish-American war as the lieutenant colonel of the Fourth Tennessee, which saw service in Cuba. Hundreds of these Fourth Tennessee veterans are voters in the second congressional district, and that they will vote for Hannah there is no doubt, be they republicans or democrats. Colonel Hannah, in his address today, boldly attacked Judge Gibson's war record. He likewise assailed his record as a congressman at Washington, charging that he had failed to get as much for this district as might have been accomplished.

Judge Gibson's speech was in the nature of a review of what he has done for the district during the past eight years he has represented it, and of what he intends to do if he is reelected. He expresses absolute confidence of being resent to Washington for the next two years. In a recent interview he declared he wanted only two more years, when he would retire gracefully after ten years of service for his district. Gibson has held public office for about thirty years, while the only office Colonel Hannah has ever had was as lieutenant colonel of the regiment above mentioned, for a period of less than one year while the regiment was in service, and when he was private secretary to Governor Robert L. Taylor during the governor's last administration.

COL. HARVEY H. HANNAH, Candidate for congress second district, Tennessee.

The second congressional district lost one of its strongest republican counties (Sevier) by the action of the last state legislature, and gained a county (Hamblen), which is nearer democratic. Two years ago Sevier county gave Gibson a majority of about 1,400, and Hamblen county, which was then in Brownlow's district, gave him a republican majority of about 100. It is easily seen that this, together with a stronger democratic sentiment and an equally stronger determination on the part of the democrats of the district to elect one of its party to congress and the volunteer soldier vote referred to, make the chances of Colonel Hannah very favorable indeed.

A large crowd was present at Loudon today to hear the candidates, both parties being liberally represented. Speeches have been set as far up as October 28.

J. LYDE MILLAR NOMINATED.

REPUBLICANS NAME CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE.

Convention Called by Chairman Vaughan — Several Tendered Place, but Declined.

Birmingham, Ala., September 24.—(Special.)—The convention of the ninth district republicans here today nominated J. Lyde Millar, of Birmingham, for congress. He is a contractor, a former easterner, and an old-timer republican. He is regarded as a man of good average ability, but of no political prestige or experience.

The democrats in this district thought they would nominate one of their biggest new men, and the fact that their nominee does not nearly measure up in statesmanship, politics or ability with the democratic nominee, S. N. Underwood, is liken in democratic circles to mean that the opposition will make no serious effort to carry this district.

Hon. William Vaughan, by request, called the convention to order today, and W. H. Standefer was made permanent chairman. A committee of nine was raised to select a nominee, and this committee, after several hours of consideration, selected Mr. Millar.

James Bowroen and Erskine Ramser were urged to accept the nomination, it is stated, but declined. James Vonhoose was approached, and is understood to have agreed to run if his nomination could be made unanimous. It is stated that the majority of the committee favored Mr. Vanhoose, but, as all did not, his friends withdrew him, and Mr. Millar was chosen.

Millar was formerly an attache of the revenue office here.

Today's convention also elected a district executive committee.

FOUND DEAD MAN IN ROAD.

NEGRO SHOT TO DEATH NEAR CLERMONT, FLA.

Bullet Hole in Back Showed He Had Been Murdered—Suspect Has Fled.

Bartow, Fla., September 24.—(Special.) Information reaches here of a killing that occurred a day or two ago about 2 miles from Clermont, a little town not far from here.

The report reached Clermont that the dead body of a negro had been found lying in the public road 2 miles away, and when a party of citizens went to investigate they discovered that the dead man was one of the turpentine hands of Booth & Decker.

A bullet hole in the negro's back, just under the shoulder blade, and another in his thigh indicated the manner in which he met death.

The negro was identified as H. L. Dinkins, and upon inquiring into the case it was learned that William Sumpter, another negro who worked for Booth & Decker, had a misunderstanding with Dinkins about some money, and in company with some other negroes Sumpter went to meet Dinkins, who was on his way to Clermont.

Just how it occurred is not known, but Sumpter ran away from the scene of the killing, but was captured the next day. A negro by the name of O'Neal, who was an accessory to the crime, has not been apprehended.

At South McAlester, Ind. T., a meting of the Leading coal operators and mine owners in the Indian Territory was held Tuesday. It is learned that a plan was presented by Fuel Agent C. Scholze, of the Rock Island system, looking to an early consolidation of the largest mines in the Indian Territory.

BIG LAND DEAL IN FLORIDA.

JUDGE G. N. HOLCOMBE BUYS 400,000 ACRES.

Will Stock with Sheep and Cattle and Will Plant in Grasses.

Bartow, Fla., September 24.—(Special.) Judge George N. Holcombe, of Arcadia, has just closed a deal for over 400,000 acres of DeSoto county land along the Kissimmee river, reaching as far north as the line of this (Polk) county, and is negotiating for the purchase of the lands in the northern half of Kissimmee island on the Osciola side. This gentleman has been in the stock business since his boyhood in Arizona, and contemplates stocking this vast tract of land with sheep and cattle and planting large tracts in various grasses, velvet beans, etc.

Alabama Veterans.

Montgomery, Ala., September 24.—(Special.)—Colonel Falkner has written to General Harrison, commander of the Alabama division of the Confederate Veterans, asking him if he cannot change the date of the reunion of the state division from November 12 to October 21. The idea is to have the reunion fit the date of the formal dedication of the Confederate home at Mountain Creek, scheduled for October 23. If the date shall be changed an excursion will be run to Mountain Creek for the veterans and a grand barbecue spread at the home for their entertainment.

Democrats Sure Winners.

Montgomery, Ala., September 24.—(Special.)—Congressman Bowie, of the fourth district, is in town attending the meeting of the state executive committee. He expresses the utmost confidence in the ability of the democrats of his district to withstand the utmost assaults the republicans can make on them. He figures it out that he received in the late primary more than half any possible vote that may be polled in November, and he already has some accessions in sight, especially in Chilton county.

FEDERATION MAKES PROTEST.

Objection Raised to Employment of Non-Union Musicians.

At a largely attended meeting of the Federation of Trades, at their hall on Forsyth street, last evening, a protest was made against the employment of non-union musicians in the coming state fair. This protest is made against the engaging of Liberatti's band. A committee from the local musician's union called upon the fair management and claimed that they were ignored. The secretary last evening was directed to address a letter to the secretary of the fair association, asking an explanation.

The matter of carpenters and painters, engaged in the postoffice, working more than the eight house a day provided for in government contracts was brought up and unless the present method of working over time is not corrected, the matter will be brought to an issue. Patrick Moore is the chairman of this committee.

A committee composed of Jerome Jones, P. H. Moore and William Strauss was appointed for a smoker to be given this evening in connection with the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors and Trainmen to the visiting delegates of the Carpenters and Joiners Brotherhood of America. Arrangements have been completed for a big time and prominent citizens and labor leaders will speak.

Special Train for Students.

Montgomery, Ala., September 24.—(Special.)—The boom which has struck the colleges of Alabama is illustrated by the novel enterprise of the Judson Female college and the Military institute for young men at Marion. They chartered a train and had their students from all eastern and southern sections of the state to gather at Montgomery and ran them over to Marion on a special this morning. Some seventy-five girls and boys made up the party, the biggest crowd that ever went to college in Alabama on a single train.

To Entertain Old Veterans.

Montgomery, Ala., September 24.—(Special.)—The local camps of Confederate Veterans are making timely preparations for the entertainment of the state division, which meets here in November. The Street Fair Association, which made such a success of it last year, will not give a show this fall, as so it has donated $300 of the surplus in its treasury to the veterans for purposes of hospitality to their comrades. The local camps are thus in funds for all needful uses.

MRS. GRACE BRUCE-DAWSON,

No. 138 Broadway,

GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Feb. 18, 1902.

Wine of Cardui is an untold blessing to the wife who is in daily fear and trembling dreading the time when a new life is born. That time of intense pain is banished if only Wine of Cardui is used during pregnancy. I had a miscarriage six years ago and it seemed to break down my general health and I was in misery and pain for two years, although doctoring constantly. I then took Wine of Cardui for eleven weeks and it changed me so I hardly knew myself again. I felt so well and happy. I now became pregnant again and the anticipation of the coming event kept me in rapture and yet dread that the first experience would again be my lot, but thank God and Wine of Cardui, in due time a lovely boy came to my home, a cute, healthy, happy child, fat and good natured enough to satisfy any fond mother's pride. I had no serious trouble after his birth, but felt well and so glad it seemed the choicest blessings had fallen to my lot. I feel that a happy married couple with a child have something to live for and I look forward to the joy which only parents know. My thanks are due you. I only wish I could speak to every individual wife and I would say, take Wine of Cardui and you will be well.

Grace Bruce-Dawson

IF Mrs. Bruce-Dawson of Grand Rapids, Mich., had taken Wine of Cardui six years ago she would not have suffered miscarriage. When she finally did take Wine of Cardui she became a strong, healthy woman fit to undertake any duty of womanhood.

Hundreds of thousands of mothers besides Mrs. Bruce-Dawson have known what suffering at childbirth is and have also known what it is to get relief from Wine of Cardui and have an easy confinement.

With this great remedy within their grasp today women need not fear to become mothers. Wine of Cardui builds up all functional weakness and makes childbirth practically painless. It does this by regulating the deranged menstrual function, relieving bearing down pains and healing inflammation and ulceration. Wine of Cardui worked this wonderful change in Mrs. Bruce-Dawson's condition when doctors were powerless to help her. Wine of Cardui will work this wonderful change in you if you will try it today. This successful remedy is not only the safeguard of the mother but the girl just entering young womanhood and the middle aged woman approaching the change of life acknowledge its value. It is woman's best remedy for every ill peculiar to her sex.

Have You Kidney or Bladder Trouble?

The Case of Mrs. Nancy Ball.

There are no diseases that more quickly and surely derange the entire constitution than Kidney or Bladder trouble, and it behooves every man and woman suffering from these diseases to have themselves cured at once. The body depends upon the Kidneys to throw off the waste matter of the system, and when it fails to do this the result is an interference with digestion, a sudden stoppage of the free circulation of the blood and a serious weakening of the heart. Also rheumatism could not exist if it were not for weak and deranged Kidneys.

Mrs. Nancy Ball, proprietor of the Ball House, Columbia, Miss., says: "I was for a long time a great sufferer from dropsy complicated with Kidney and Bladder troubles; my feet and hands were swollen and at times I was unable to walk about. My family physician had exhausted his skill in the treatment of my case without giving me any relief. I was then induced to give Smith's Sure Kidney Cure a trial and to my utter astonishment the first bottle relieved me, and I am in perfect health and able to attend to all my duties about the hotel. I consider Smith's Sure Kidney Cure the greatest medicine of the age."

Mrs. Nancy BALL, Columbia, Miss.

Smith's Sure Kidney Cure contains nothing harmful but nevertheless it will entirely cure Bright's Disease, diabetes, dropsy, gravel, stone in the bladder, bloated bladder, frequent desire to urinate, pains in the back, legs, sides and over the Kidneys, swelling of the feet and ankles, retention of urine, scalding pain in the bladder, wetting the bed—in short, every form of Kidney, bladder and urinary trouble in man, woman or child.

Price 50c and $1.00 a bottle of druggists generally or direct from the chemists.

BIG AUDITORIUM WILL BE ERECTED

Movement Is Again Discussed by Macon Citizens.

Need of Building Is Apparent, and Plan Is Suggested Which Meets with Much Favor—Considered Good Investment. Other News in Brief.

Macon, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—It is probable that the movement to build an auditorium in Macon will be revived at an early day and pushed to completion. The project may proceed on the line suggested by a prominent business man, to-wit: that the proper site be obtained and bonds be issued to erect the auditorium. He considers that the auditorium would be a good investment and it could be easily bonded. He recognizes the fact that Macon badly needs an auditorium.

If Macon had the proper auditorium it could easily become the "convention city," because many organizations would hold their annual meetings here on account of the central location of the city, and the delegates and visitors generally would be saved much expense in railroad fares. Numerous conventions already meet here yearly, but the number would be much larger if Macon had an auditorium for their accommodation. It is now believed that the auditorium will be built at no distant day.

Jones County Fair.

Hon. L. C. Morton and Colonel J. T. Williams, of Jones county, came to Macon today as a committee from the Jones County Fair Association to see the Central railroad authorities with the view of having them to run a special train on the Macon and Northern railroad from Athens and intervening points for the accommodation of persons who may wish to attend the fair.

The fair will begin on Wednesday, October 1, and continue for four days. Messrs. Morton and Williams say it will be a great success. The fair will be a fine exhibition of the products and resources of the good old county of Jones. It is proposed to bring the exhibit to Macon the following week at the time of the Farmers' National congress and compete for the prize offered for the best county display.

Hon. J. M. Terrell will deliver an address at the fair on October 2, and Governor Candler will speak on October 3. It is expected that addresses will be delivered by other distinguished gentlemen on the first and last days of the fair.

Macon Oil Inspectorship.

It was recently announced in some of the newspapers that Commissioner of Agriculture Stevens has reappointed Dr. Thomas Cheatham oil inspector at Macon and several of the candidates, in consequence of this publication, retired from the contest for the position. Today, however, the impression has gotten out that the appointment has not been made yet, and will not be until October 1, and some of the applicants have renewed their work of getting indorsements and are preparing to bombard the commissioner with them.

However, there are persons who declare that the commissioner has determined to reappoint Dr. Cheatham and it will be a waste of time and energy for other applicants to attempt to succeed Dr. Cheatham. Dr. Cheatham has filled the office one term and the commissioner considers that Dr. Cheatham has rendered faithful and efficient service and there is no good reason why he should not be reappointed. The office of oil inspector at Macon pays about $1,000 per annum.

Funeral of Mrs. Emma Dasher.

There was a large assembly of mourners this morning at 11 o'clock at Mulberry Street Methodist church in attendance on the funeral services of Mrs. Emma Dasher, who died last Sunday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Coburn, of Germantown, Pa. Rev. W. N. Ainsworth, the pastor, officiated. Mr. Boone sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," and Mrs. Stallings sang "Lead, Kindly Light." There were many beautiful floral tributes. The interment was in Rose Hill cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. W. G. Solomon, C. T. King, R. L. McKenney, T. E. Artope, John R. L. Smith and J. N. Talley.

The deceased was the widow of the late Joseph Dasher, who was a well known citizen of Macon, and a sister in law of Arthur L. Dasher, a prominent attorney of Macon. Before her marriage she was Miss Emma H. Snow, of Alabama. She had two sisters, Mrs. Charles B. Snow and Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, of Boston, and one brother, C. H. Snow, of Dalton, Ga. She is survived by three children—Charles E. Dasher, secretary to Captain C. E. Gillette, of the government surveying corps, at Savannah; Earles L. Dasher and Mrs. C. A. Coburn.

REV. BRANTLY M. CALLAWAY IS BURIED AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—The funeral of Rev. Brantley M. Callaway occurred today at 12 o'clock. The interment took place in the family burying ground. It was one of the largest funerals seen in Wilkes county. Rev. R. E. Harris, of Thomson; Dr. W. W. Landrum, of Atlanta; Rev. Williams, of Elberton, and Dr. Kilpatrick, of White Plains, officiated. President Pollock, of Mercer university, was present.

A Sketch of His Life.

Brantley Mercer Callaway was born in Wilkes county on the same place where he had lived all of his life November 24, 1838. He was the youngest child of Rev. Enoch Callaway and Martha Reeves. His father was also born on the same place and lived there all of his life. He was the youngest son of John Callaway and Berthony Arnold, who came to Wilkes county from North Carolina in 1782, and settled the place where Dr. Brantley Callaway lived. John Callaway was a soldier in the revolutionary war, and settling in Wilkes county just at the close of the war, raised a large family of children, and his descendants are numerous and are scattered all over Georgia and Alabama. He died about 1820 and his widow died about 1840.

Rev. Enoch Callaway was one of the early Baptist ministers of this section, and was a contemporary of the Marshalls and Mercers. He also raised a large family, and his descendants are scattered all over Georgia, and many of them fill positions of trust and usefulness.

Brantley M. Callaway, the subject of this sketch, attended the county schools near his home in the western portion of the county until he was 17 years old, when he entered Mercer university, then located at Penfield, in Green county. He completed the junior course there and then left college and taught school for a time in Wilkes county.

On the 11th of January, 1859, he married Lucy B. Howard, a daughter of Robert Howard and Mary Glenn, of Oglethorpe county, and went to Gainesville, where he taught school for a year. He had to leave Gainesville and return to Wilkes county on account of the failing health of his father, who died in 1859. He then made Wilkes county his home, taking up his residence on the place where his father had died, and engaged in farming on his plantation, which he carried on successfully until his death. He was converted and embraced the Christian faith when he was 12 years of age, and united with Sardis Baptist church, being baptized by his father.

He was called to the pastorate of Clarks Station church in Wilkes county in October, 1859, and his ordination, which was called for by that church, followed soon after, and he continued the pastorate of that church from his ordination until his death, a period of forty-three years. He also served as pastor for long periods the following churches in Wilkes county: Sardis, Blaverdam, Elshing Creek and Danburg; also the church at Lincolnton and Claud's Creek, and Indian Creek, in Oglethorpe county. His ministerial labors were principally confined to his immediate section of the state. He served as pastor only country churches.

He was a strong man, physically full of activity and energy, and managed all business affairs entrusted to him with prudence and good judgment.

For over twenty years he was a trustee of Mercer university, and for the past six years he had been the president of its board of trustees, and he gave to that institution not only the zeal and energy prompted by his love for it, but also the benefit of his good business judgment.

He was also at the time of his death a trustee of Monroe Baptist Female college and of the Georgia Baptist Orphans' home.

He took an active interest in all county and state affairs, and while he never sought political preferment nor was he in any sense of the word a politician, he was a strong factor in this county on all questions and issues affecting the public welfare, and his advice was sought and followed in many public matters.

He leaves surviving him his wife, Mrs. Lucy B. Callaway, and six children, three of whom—Miss Anna Callaway, Edgar A. Callaway and Miss Ellen Callaway—reside in this county, and Judge E. H. Callaway, of Augusta; W. R. Callaway, Esq., of Waynesboro, and Brantley M. Callaway, now at the University of Chicago.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION TO FIGHT FOR TEMPERANCE

Athens, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—The Sarepta Baptist Association held another interesting session today. One of the special features was the report of the committee on temperance. The committee urged a continued fight for legislation to suppress the liquor traffic, but said that the ultimate triumph of temperance depended more largely upon the graces of God coming into the hearts of men. They urged the preachers to preach temperance, and the parents to instill it into the minds and hearts of their children. The discussion which followed was all along this line of thought.

Rev. S. Y. Jameson preached the missionary sermon this morning, and it was an effort of great power.

The union meeting, Oglethorpe district, will be held at Comer, on the fifth Sunday in March, 1903. The union meeting, Jackson district, will be held at Apple Valley church, on the fifth Sunday in August, 1903.

The sermon last night was preached by Rev. B. J. W. Graham, associate editor of The Christian Index.

At the session of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Sarepta association, talks were made by Mrs. Harvey Hatcher, Mrs. H. W. Williams, Mrs. C. B. Petrie, Rev. Joel T. Daves, Mrs. John D. Easterlin and Miss Louise Lane. Reports from different societies showed them to be in good condition.

The association discussed the secular newspaper this afternoon, and it was the general sentiment that the newspapers were doing a great work in many ways, and should be encouraged.

The association adjourned this afternoon.

SWITCHMAN FATALLY HURT.

Joe Carter Falls from Moving Train in Macon.

Macon, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—Joe Carter, a Central railroad switchman, was, perhaps, fatally injured this afternoon while trying to get on a moving train. He slipped and fell and was dragged and beat against the cross-ties. One leg was broken in two places and other injuries inflicted.

Mississippi Girl Wins Laurels.

Columbus, Miss., September 24.—(Special.)—Miss Sara Field Barrow, of this city, who has been attending the University of Chicago, has been the recipient of quite an honor at the hands of the trustees of that institution. After having taken a three years' course in the English department, she has been elected to the chair of assistant in English. Miss Barrow graduated from the Industrial College here about three years since, receiving the B. A. degree. She then took up studies at the Chicago University, and as a reward has received this high compliment.

Mississippi's Industrial College.

Columbus, Miss., September 24.—(Special.)—Since the opening of the state Industrial College here last Wednesday with an enrollment of five hundred pupils, one hundred and fifty additional students have entered. This makes the largest student body in the state, and shows the name this great school has made for itself throughout the state. Not only Mississippi girls have matriculated, but students from many other states are also here. All dormitories are packed, private residences are full, and still applications for admission are necessarily turned down every day.

Georgia Show Case Company.

Columbus, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—The Georgia Show Case Company today applied to the superior court for a charter. This is a new Columbus concern, consisting of James A. Johnson, J. M. Britt, J. Edgar Britt and T. U. Butts. The capital stock of the company is $20,000, with the privilege of increasing to $100,000. When this plant is built Columbus will have two show-case factories. The Columbus Show Case Company has done a splendid business for a year or two, and is now preparing to build a large plant on southeast commons.

HE FIRED BULLET INTO HIS BREAST

John Moreland Attempts Suicide at Gainesville.

Asked Hardware Salesman To Show Him Revolver, with Which He Tried To Kill Himself. Called for Physicians. May Recover.

Gainesville, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—John Moreland, who came to Gainesville from Spartanburg, S. C., a few months ago, attempted to commit suicide in the hardware store of S. W. Davidson & Co. shortly after 8 o'clock this morning.

He walked into the store and asked for 5 cents worth of cartridges, which were given to him by a clerk. Walking down the counter further to where the revolver show case was he asked to be shown one. The clerk handed him a revolver of 32-caliber and in a moment's time Moreland had inserted a cartridge and placed the muzzle to his breast and fired. He fell to the floor, but in a little while had recovered sufficiently to ask some one to go for a physician.

Drs. Ham and Smith were summoned and after making a hurried examination had Moreland removed to his home on Athens street, where it was found that the ball had glanced and did not enter the cavity, though Moreland was given a close call, and may yet die from complications that are likely to arise.

Asked as to why he wanted to kill himself, Moreland said that he was in trouble. Asked as to what kind of trouble, he declined to talk further, and as he was suffering considerable pain nothing more could be gotten out of him.

Moreland has been employed in the Gainesville cotton mill, and a few weeks ago he was the organizer of the strike there. He is about thirty-five or forty years of age and is unmarried, although he has three times sought a marriage license from the ordinary, who refused to grant it because it was reported that the woman Moreland wanted to marry had never been given a divorce from her husband.

One of the attending physicians stated this evening that Moreland would, in all probability, recover.

MORTUARY.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, Columbus.

Columbus, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, aged 89 years, died last night at her home 12 miles north of the city, in Lee county, Alabama. She is survived by eight children. Mrs. Harris was a member of the Primitive Baptist church. The funeral occurred this afternoon.

B. H. Moore, Columbus.

Columbus, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—B. H. Moore, (28 years of age, a young insurance man, died at the city hospital yesterday. He is survived by a widow. The remains were sent to his old home at Centerville, Ga., near Stone Mountain, where the funeral occurred today.

Want Bobby Walthour.

Columbus, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—Bobby Walthour, the famous Atlanta bicycle rider, may be one of the attractions of the Columbus fall festival. His manager has written to this city statin gthat Walthour would be open for an engagement. It would be easy to arrange a tracvk at Wildwood park, and a series of races between Walthour and Nelson would draw thousands of people. Walthour won a number of races in this city quite a number of years ago, when he was a mere boy, and his riding at that time attracted much attention among local cyclists.

Another Grade Established.

Columbus, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—So large have been the number of applications for admission to the grst grades of the public schools that it has been necessary to create another first grade at the Sixteenth street school. Miss Marcella Griffith has been elected as teacher. The Columbus public schools now have eight first grades, exclusive of the first grades in the colored department of the schools.

Columbus Guards.

Columbus, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—The Columbus Guards are to move their armory from the Webster building to their new quarters over the Third national bank, where the company will have several modern club rooms.

Significant.

The New York Sun, republican, feels constrained "as a responsible observer of events of importance in this country" to report as follows:

"The immediate effect of President Roosevelt's proposition for a constitutional amendment conferring upon the general government the control of corporations is toward consolidating and reinspiring the democratic party and splitting the republican party."

Once More Than Enough.

The action of the city council in putting a curb upon the street carnival is a step in the right direction. As was to be expected, the local lodge of Elks, under whose auspices the fair is held, gave assurances of hearty cooperation with the authorities in the suppression of hoodlumism and in the elimination of such features of the show as may be considered objectionable.

It is clear that the Elks are not responsible for the features to which objection has been made and there is no warrant for wholesale attacks upon the order. The local lodge simply made an unfortunate deal, that is all there is to it. The Elks will doubtless be heartily glad when they get their show off their hands, and they are not likely to allow themselves to be again victimized.

One thing is very certain—the street fair experiment will not be repeated in Atlanta. There is no use indulging in criticisms of anybody for the present little unpleasantness, but it is a very safe prediction that there will be no repetition of this experiment.

The street fair, properly conducted, may be all right for smaller places, but the streets of a city the size of Atlanta should never be given over to such uses.

The Mother of Trusts.

A campaign orator once announced flamboyantly to a crowd that "we have $24.75 per capita of money in this country!" One of the sturdy workingmen in front of him replied: "The trouble about that, sir, is that most of us only have the per capita and some other fellows have got our $24.75!"

The story fairly illustrates the fashion of thinking that most of the common people are doing over the trust issue. Campaign managers and orators on the republican side breezily inform them that "there are no trusts," or that, at the worst, not more than 5 per cent of them are robber trusts, and try to convince men that the trusts are the most brilliant and convincing evidences of our great national prosperity. Even the esteemed and astute Philadelphia Press stultifies itself by falling in with the president's Cincinnati speech and seeking to argue that a country without trusts is a country without activities, employment for the workingman and prosperity for the whole people.

But the ordinary citizen, after a long season of allowing his eyes to be shut by such plausible and demagogic logic, is now awake to the truth of his situation. A little plain arithmetic applied to the ratio between his wages and his expense account for the daily necessaries of life reveals facts to him that all the spellbinders in the nation cannot wipe out. The prices he is now paying are away beyond the figures of the years prior to the enactment of the Dingley tariff of "protection for protection's sake." He realizes that since that act went into effect most of the trusts have come into existence and that now, when he asks the why of enhanced prices for home-produced commodities, the answer invariably comes back to him: "The trust did it!"

Tariffs are enacted for one purpose, or two. Tariffs by the democratic gauge are intended primarily to produce the necessary revenues for an economically administered government. If, thereby, incidental protection is afforded to certain American industries that otherwise could not survive foreign competition, well and good. But tariffs by the republican measure are meant to not only get revenue, but to give protective bonuses to industries in certain lines and localities by shutting out foreign competition and giving the monopoly of the home market at any range of prices the greed of the monopolists may require. In this latter effect appears the opportunity and power that creates a trust, consolidates production, freezes out independent home competition and robs the people by government permit.

The people are no longer deceived. They know that the tariff is the mother of trusts and are becoming daily more determined to destroy her fecundity and kill off her cormorant brood.

Negro Rights North and South.

The right to live is greater than the right to vote. At least it is so everywhere except in Pennsylvania and Illinois. And we infer the exceptions from the press dispatches we printed yesterday from those states.

In Pennsylvania a coal company employed a corps of negro miners from the south to operate a mine that had been abandoned by striking white miners. It does not matter why the white miners struck and refused to go back into the mines. That is a matter between themselves and the operators. The essential fact is that a large number of colored miners who were hired to dig coal have been menaced and pursued by mobs until the military forces of the state have had to be called out to maintain the peace and protect the negro workmen with Gatling guns and bayonets. As a result they are to be discharged and sent away from the district and so deprived of the natural and American right to undertake the work ready to their hands and enjoy the fruits of their honest labor.

And this happens in the great republican state of Pennsylvania, where the negro is so strenuously beloved and where the air reeks with denunciations of the southern people for refusing to extend to the ignorant among them the privileges of the ballot. In the eyes of the Pennsylvania republican every negro should cast his ballot freely, provided he casts it for the republican party. Thousands of negro voters in Philadelphia constitute the solid Black Watch of the boodle republican machine that curses that city. But when it comes to his right to work, the republican brethren are not so prognathous and philanthropic. When he takes the job offered him in the coal mines he is threatened with murder and has to be guarded by the militia. He finds to his sorrow that republicanism in Pennsylvania stands for his ballot, but not for the rights of his brawn or the need of his family for bread. Yet that is Pennsylvania republicanism in its broadest and most unblushing display.

In Illinois the negroes about Eldorado had their industrial school broken up, were mobbed nightly, and yet are; hundreds have fled the place to save their lives and have had to sacrifice their hard-earned homes and farms. The people of Illinois who consented to the Tanner outrages at Verdon and Pana are consenting to the daily assaults upon the rights and persons of the negroes of Eldorado. Governor Yates has ordered a company of state troops to be quartered in the town for the winter to try and preserve order and keep the remaining negroes from slaughter. And that is all blandly reported from the great republican state of Illinois!

Surely the negro will one of these days get his eyes open to the duplicity of the party that has so long ridden him for its profit! These recurring incidents of the unwelcomeness of the negro in the north and of the determination that he shall not become a factor of its industrial system must eventually warn the leaders of the race that northern republicanism is a snare and delusion to their hopes of finding better things north of Mason and Dixon's line than south of it.

Here in the south no instance occurs of the necessity for the calling out of state troops to protect negroes who want to do honest work and earn a decent living. On the contrary, opportunities to work are abundantly held out to the negroes every day and there is not one of them in the south as we write who cannot have work, wages and ample security for his industrial rights.

These strong contrasts between the treatment of the negro in the two sections must bear wholesome fruits later on. The negro is growing wise to the fact that we first stated—that he is safer, happier and more a man where his right to work and live is guaranteed than where he is used solely as a tool by republican politicians.

A National Figure.

The splendid victory achieved in the republican primaries by Hon. David H. Mercer, of Omaha, is of much more than local interest, since it probably insures the return to congress of one of the ablest and best of the younger republican members.

Mr. Mercer won over a machine that has dominated Omaha politics and whose bitter opposition was due, primarily if not solely, to desire to secure the place he has so ably filled for one of its leaders. There was a hard contest, but the popular congressman came out of it with a magnificent victory to his credit.

The result was an emphatic indorsement of congressman Mercer's services, and he deserved it at the hands of his party. He is an able, forceful member of the house, a man who stands out prominently for his success in matters of legislation, and one who possesses in the highest degree that personal popularity so essential to success in Washington. He is recognized, moreover, as one of the best political managers in the republican party, and the action of the republicans of his district will meet the hearty approval of the party at large.

Some of the leaders of the faction defeated in the primaries show a disposition to plead the "baby act" and bolt the nomination, but they are not likely to secure many followers. The district is republican by quite a large majority, Mr. Mercer having been elected there even when all the other districts in the state were carried by the democrats and their allies.

Judge R. B. Russell.

The statement contained in The Constitution of today from Judge Richard B. Russell, of the western circuit, announcing his determination not to become a candidate for the state supreme bench, will be received with widespread interest throughout Georgia.

One of the youngest members of the judiciary of the state, Judge Russell is already recognized by the members of the legal profession as one of the ablest judges on the bench.

The splendid tone of Judge Russell's statement in assigning among the reasons for his decision a desire to first meet the wishes of the people of his circuit cannot but increase his popularity all over Georgia and strengthen his hold on the affections of his own people. Enjoying already a ripe experience on the bench, Judge Russell is still a young man with a long period of service for the state before him. Performing this service with the same fidelity to public trust which has characterized him in the past, Judge Russell can look forward to a rich and gratifying reward at the hands of the people of Georgia.

Mr. Platt's Prophecies.

When several weeks ago the Hon. Thomas Collier Platt put on his wisest look and declared with solemn emphasis that the end of the coal strike was immediately at hand, a good many people, believing the New York senator was still the vigorous mentality he had been pictured, put faith in the consummation of his prophecy. As the days and weeks passed without any improvement in the strike situation, these trusting ones were forced to conclude that however strong Senator Platt might be on political prophecies, he was certainly out of his element when he tackled the industrial situation.

Now comes another shock, and a very serious one, to the confidence in the Platt prophetic instinct—this time involving his supposed omniscience in matters political. For days he has been declaring that the republicans of his state—the crowd of which he has been regarded the absolute dictator—would name George R. Sheldon for the lieutenant governorship. "I have said it and it goes" was the burden of the Platt edict, and the astute writers for the New York newspapers, taking their cue from that, have been unanimous in their declarations that it would be Sheldon.

Suddenly Governor Odell, who had let Platt do all the talking, took a hand and Sheldon was knocked out so completely that he is even now scarcely a memory. The—to the Easy Boss—painful details are told in our news dispatches. Platt now says it is all right. It may be all right for his party, but it means the finish of belief in Platt omniscience.

Platt may still be "boss" in politics, but as a prophet he is distinctly on the bum.

Secretary Shaw, judging from his campaign speeches, will take up his residence as a trust official in New York at the end of his term in the treasury.

The republican effort to introduce a free trade "raw head and bloody bones" into the campaign has caused the horse laugh to reverberate once more.

General Corbin saw in Emperor William "the planet's greatest man." Per contra, the emperor saw on Corbin a uniform that beat the band.

Little Jim Eckels has perpetrated an anecdote in one of his speeches. And it was a good one! What do you think of that, now?

The solicitude of the republicans for the "small competitors" of the trusts is like the solicitude of the fisherman for the minnows.

King Alfonso insists that he has the kingly right to choose his own wife. This appears to be a brand new idea in royal circles.

What hurts Uncle Horace Boles is that he has got to outrun a selling-plater instead of a crack-a-jack two-miler.

We hope that preacher who likened the president to David did not have in mind the slinging abilities of his excellency.

The attempt to read Billy Mason out of the republican party is creating a lot of fun at the county fairs in Illinois.

A nephew of Russell Sage is going on the stage. Anybody that is kin to Uncle Russ has to rustle for their grub.

Suppose the republicans should elect Cannon speaker of the house—isn't he liable to go off also?

The Littlefield boom for speaker seems to have slipped its trolley as soon as it got out of the shed.

The democrats of Colorado nominated a woman for a state office. Whither are we drifting—say?

The New York republican convention shaped things up just as they had been Platted.

The president will do his best to keep the beet sugar districts from souring on him.

Rural Literary Notes.

Many of our leading authors have quit the writing business and gone to work for a living.

Fame comes to many late in life—just like that $10 the other fellow owes you.

While splitting rails the other day our leading poet severely sprained both his hands, and now he cannot lift a glass of "moonshine" to his lips without assistance.

When an editor strikes a would-be writer over the head with a literary club, it frequently happens that literature runs in that man's head ever after.

TALKS ABOUT ATLANTA.

(Augusta Chronicle.)

Atlanta should welcome the veterans of Sherman's army with a parade of the fire department.

(Macon News.)

Atlanta is to have a silk manufacturing industry. Atlanta represents the spirit of southern progress. With all her faults, we are proud of her!

(Birmingham, Ala., News.)

It must go hard with Atlanta that the position of her baseball team in the middle of the percentage column doesn't attract any attention at all.

(Ellijay Times.)

It is said that the first depot built in Atlanta was contracted for twelve dollars. Two men carried the log poles on their shoulders to build the structure.

ATLANTA'S MAYORALTY RACE.

How It Is Viewed by a Distinguished Georgia Legislator.

(Martin V. Calvin in Augusta Chronicle.)

Colonel Evan P. Howell in his first speech, a night or two ago, landed right in the middle of the contest, and took on his old-time stump-speaking energy the very first round. Colonel Howell bubbles over with personal magnetism, hence his audiences are enthusiastic and yelling from the time he enters the hall till he quits speaking.

The most casual observer cannot fail to note the strong current, rapidly swelling to flood-tide that will land Colonel Howell in the mayor's big red chair. In the Howell meetings, and from one end of the city to the other, the slogan is: "Hurrah for Howell! Close up! Hurrah for Howell."

A gentleman, replying to a question as to the secret of this wide-spread and steadily intensifying enthusiasm for Howell, said: "Why, it is perfectly natural. The people can always be trusted. They never forgot a man who has manifested a lively interest in their welfare. Evan Howell has not only manifested that kind of interest, but he has lived it day by day, year by year. He has never been too busy, on short or long notice, to do anything or go anywhere to further the interests of Atlanta and to promote the welfare of his fellow-citizens. The people are going to elect him mayor because, without disparagement to either of his competitors, they know that, just at this juncture in the affairs of the city, in him the occasion and the man have met."

That is high praise, and well deserved; for the facts so succinctly stated by that citizen are known to all men throughout the state.

It is not astonishing that the people of the state generally are watching the mayoralty campaign with interest. Atlanta is the state's capital city. All the people from Nicojack to Tybee lights are proud of her growth and the prestige she has won. So it is natural that the exclamation, "Hurrah for Howell" should be heard outside Atlanta as well as within her borders.

Why for Captain Howell.

(Rev. A. E. Seddon in "Southern Evangelist.")

The three-cornered race for the mayoralty in Atlanta is getting to be very interesting. Of the three candidates, Captain E. P. Howell seems to me entitled to most favorable consideration. As former editor of The Conttitution, as a colleague of Henry Grady, as a staunch old Confederate who now loyally upholds the stars and stripes. As one of the original and most active founders of the Y. M. C. A., as the head of a family, every member of which is actively interested in the advancement of our city, he is entitled to support at the polls. It is safe to say that there never is a philanthropic movement started within our gates that does not owe much to Captain Howell. Hospitals, schools, benefit associations of all sorts claim him a generous and active friend and supporter. Captain Howell is a member of the West End Christian church and as such has been a most active worker and generous giver toward the handsome new church which is an ornament to the West End of Atlanta. If every citizen of Atlanta were my way of thinking in this mayoralty race, Captain Howell would reach the goal by the unanimous vote of the citizens.

Georgia Press on Captain Howell.

(Thomasville Times-Enterprise.)

That's a hot fight for mayor in Atlanta. Our ducats are going up on Evan Howell.

(Cedartown Advance-Courier.)

From present pointings Colonel Evan Howell will be Atlanta's next mayor. We very much hope he will be. His defeat would be deplored by the people of the entire state.

(Sandersville Herald.)

Hon. Evan P. Howell has entered upon the speech making stage of his campaign for the mayoralty with telling effect. We count on the Washington county man against all comers.

(Darien Gazette.)

The people of Atlanta will elect Hon. Evan P. Howell mayor on Wednesday week. He deserves this much for his past services rendered to the greatest city in Georgia.

(Columbus Enquirer-Sun.)

Atlanta's three-cornered mayoralty race is almost as interesting as an Alabama gubernatorial contest.

(Waycross Herald.)

Evan Howell has resigned as a member of the board of Aldermen of Atlanta. He will be elected mayor of Atlanta and he deserves to be.

(Bremen G. Gateway.)

When Atlanta has elected Evan P. Howell as mayor of that great city, we shall lift our hat to those people as having acted truly wisely.

WITH THE STATE PRESS.

(Brunswick News.)

There are now ten applicants for the office of doorkeeper of the Georgia legislature. Is this to be taken as an indication that it will require more than the ordinary force this year to keep the boys in their seats?

(Macon News.)

The growth of great fortunes is as logical a consequence of the varied degree in which men are mentally endowed as is the production of books or paintings. It is demonstrated in many ways each day that the average man is not capable of making wise and good use of money, so it is neither unreasonable nor wrong that those best fitted to tend the world's treasury should be given its keeping. But they should remember that it is only the nature of a trust. The rich man should make his place that of a cashier in a bank. To those whose checks are good he should never refuse payment. And when he closes his bank there should be just enough left in the vaults to insure his helpers the comforts of living. Then, we think, he would find the eye of the needle full large enough for him to go through without even stopping.

Free Passes.

(From the Bainbridge Argus.)

We have often wondered why the railroads bestowed these "courtesies," as they never seemed to receive a quid pro quo. It may be attributed to "damned custom," or the effort to keep on the good side of those who hold their rights and property in their hands. We cannot imagine else. We, therefore, see no harm to come to the state for its officials, legislative, judicial or municipal, or "any other man" accepting free transportation at the hands of the railroads. We would like to hear from Editor Guerry to the contrary.

A Logical Succession.

(Harmony Grove Citizen.)

If Judge Russell goes on the supreme bench that makes another vacancy, which brings on more talk. In case this happens it is said that Hon. C. H. Brand will be a candidate for the vacancy. If he becomes judge, then that creates another vacancy. From a standpoint of logical succession, or from any other standpoint, Hon. R. L. J. Smith, of Jefferson, Ga., would naturally become solicitor general of the western circuit.

OVATION FOR HOWELL IN "FIGHTING" FIFTH

Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Night in Cleveland's Hall.

HEARTY RECEPTION FOR COLONEL JOHN B. GOODWIN

Harry L. Schlesinger Aroused the Enthusiasm of Audience by Pulling Off His Coat—He Saluted Captain Howell as the Next Mayor.

In spite of the inclement weather a large and enthusiastic crowd attended the meeting in the fifth ward in the interest of the candidacy of Captain Evan P. Howell last night. All the chairs and benches in Cleveland's hall—where the meeting was held—were occupied, while a number of persons stood in the rear of the room or sat in the windows along the sides of the hall, for want of seats.

Those who spoke were Captain Howell, Colonel John B. Goodwin, Harry L. Schlesinger, Madison Bell and Sam W. Small. Colonel Goodwin, who has just returned from the meeting of Odd Fellows at Des Moines, where he was honored by being elected grand sire, was given a veritable ovation. He declared that Captain Howell was the only logical candidate for the mayoralty and that the part he had taken in the upbuilding of the city compelled the admiration and gratitude of the people.

While speaking Mr. Schlesinger created a furore by pulling off his coat, declaring at the same time that that was the way he intended working for Captain Howell's election. He polled the meeting and received an emphatic response favorable to Captain Howell. Amid much applause and cheers he saluted Captain Howell as the next chief executive of Atlanta. All of the speakers had something interesting to say and they were warmly received and applauded.

Dr. Stephens Presided.

Dr. L. P. Stephens was elected chairman of the meeting, while D. N. McCullough was elected secretary. The meeting, said Dr. Stephens, was held for the purpose of hearing from the next mayor of Atlanta and he introduced Captain Howell amid cheers. Captain Howell said it was the duty of every candidate to go before the people he expected to vote for him and tell them what he stood for and what he favored. He said the records of men could be consulted at any time and the people wanted to know what candidates proposed doing when elected.

"One of my opponents has charged in a public speech," said he, "that I am going to spend a large amount of money in my campaign. Well, I'm not. I haven't got it in the first place, and if I did have it I couldn't use it in my election and then take the oath of office. When a man is elected he is required to swear that he has not used money to secure the office, and I don't propose to swear a lie. (Cheers.) I'll never buy a vote if I have to get office that way. (Applause.) I am going to pay my legitimate expenses, and that is all." (Cheers.)

He said he had heard that one of his opponents had already promised promotion to two members of the police force in the seventh ward in the event of election. One of these men, he said, he understood was told he would be made chief of police.

Mr. Howell said it was not right that a police commissioner should be privileged to get his boy out of the police barracks without bond or bail when he had done wrong.

"If I am elected," declared Captain Howell, "every man that gets into trouble must give the necessary bond if he gets out before a trial. If he is deserving and I know he is being persecuted instead of prosecuted, I'll go on his bond myself, as I have done in many a case before. (Cheers.) I believe in treating all men alike, be they poor or rich. (Applause.) Any man who uses his office to make flesh of one and fish of another is not fit for the office.

Should Work for City.

"I know of a policeman and detectives going about this ward serving a police commissioner and not the city. They are working for a candidate for mayor at the dictate of a police commissioner. I know his name and he won't stay there long. (Cheers.) They have enough to do to protect this city and its people without working for candidates while they are being paid out of the treasury of Atlanta. It isn't right. I am not making an attack on the police department, for there are good men and officers in it, but some men are not doing right. Before this campaign is over I'll show up a combination arranged to put a ring on this town that will be a disgrace to the city."

He went on to say that some time ago the Young Men's Business League took up the question of securing a national park for Atlanta and that the members came to him and asked him to go to Washington to urge the matter before the proper authorities. He said he had always endeavored to answer the call of his friends and he went. Accordingly, he conferred with men at the national capital and had been assured by the secretary of war that the park bill would be passed. He declared that the bill itself refuted the charge that he aspired to be one of the commissioners because he could not get the office under the conditions of the measure.

Mr. Howell said he was in favor of helping every ward in the city according to what each deserved. He referred to needed sewer work and other improvements, saying a moderate bond issue would bring about the desired results. A bond issue such as he suggested, he said, would not add more than 10 cents to the taxes of each man in the city and that those who came after would see that the bonds were taken up as they matured. To increase the tax rate, he asserted, would run people away from Atlanta and prevent homeseekers coming here.

"Let the tax rate stay as it is," he said, "and issue bonds for permanent improvements. There is no reason why Marietta street should not have an asphalt paving the same as other thoroughfares in town. (Cheers.) The people who are paying the taxes should be given proper water facilities and if you increase the system you add to the revenues and can pay for the improvements."

He stated he had never been in favor of low wages; he always had held that the workingman was worthy of his hire. "I believe," said he, "in living and helping others to live. When a man springs the old adage of 'live and let live' he's fixing to cheat you." (Cheers.) He thought that when a man had grown old in the service of a corporation he should be provided for. Speaking of his own experience he said he had always kept that point in mind and had never turned his back on any man who had served him faithfully. He said the records of all the candidates were before the people and it was for the voters to express their preference. If elected, he declard, he would use his best endeavors to encourage capital to come here, invest and establish concerns that would provide good wages for many people.

Ovation to Goodwin.

Captain Howell's speech was received with enthusiastic approval, and when Colonel John B. Goodwin answered to the call for a speech his appearance on the stand was the signal for another outburst of applause. Colonel Goodwin said that since his return from the west he had made it a point to find out how the candidacy of his old-time friend, Captain Howell, was getting along and had received most gratifying reports. (Cheers.) He declared that a city of the importance of Atlanta demanded the best services of the best citizens that could be obtained, and, knowing Captain Howell as a great factor in the upbuilding of the city, he thought, if such was possible, he should have had no opposition. (Applause.)

"But," continued Colonel Goodwin, "as that is not the case, and other candidates are in the field, it is purely a question of selection. You should select a man who, in your judgment, is best fitted to stand, not so much before the people of Atlanta, but before the world as the chief executive of this, the fairest city of our southland." (Cheers.)

He said he felt it a duty to attend the meeting and tell—without any disparagement of the other candidates—why the election of Captain Howell was desirable. He said he had no doubt as to how the election was going; that he was not given to jumping at conclusions, but everything pointed to the fact that Captain Howell would be the next mayor of Atlanta. (Cheers.) He declared Captain Howell represented the interests of men of all callings and conditions; that no man was better able to discover the needs of the city and point out what should be done than he.

"I feel gratified that so many should have come here this evening despite the inclement weather," said he, "and to my mind there should be no question about Captain Howell's election."

Great Enthusiasm Manifested.

Colonel Goodwin resumed his seat amid great cheering. Harry L. Schlesinger was next called upon and he was warmly received. He said he was proud of the privilege to speak to a meeting in the interest of Captain Howell's candidacy and he stated he intended telling why he was for the candidate. He declared that when the city of Brunswick was fever stricken Captain Howell had come to him and said he would do anything to aid the sufferers.

"And he did," exclaimed Mr. Schlesinger, "to the tune of $6,000, which was raised largely through his individual efforts. (Cheers.) Then came the Ware furniture factory fire not long ago. Many of the people in the vicinity were burned out and subjected to want. I went out about 5 o'clock on the morning of the fire and half an hour later I met Captain Howell and Colonel Hemphill at the place. Captain Howell told me he could be called on for anything to aid those in distress, and he was backed by Colonel Hemphill. (Applause.) Now, that's why I'm for Captain Howell. He's for the people and I'm for him." (Cheers.)

"Some of these candidates tell you he built the capitol and several other things, but they haven't told you he built the north side, the south side, the east side and the west side. Oh, no. They are peculiarly silent on that point. Some of the city fathers built a viaduct and they haven't got through telling about it yet, but what would the bridge amount to if you didn't have the city?" (Cheers and applause.)

Suddenly Mr. Schlesinger pulled off his coat, hung it on a nail close at hand and, speaking to Captain Howell, who occupied a chair at the side of the hall, exclaimed:

"You don't owe Harry Schlesinger anything for pulling off his coat and working for you for mayor, for in doing so I am working for the best interests of this city!"

The cheering at this point was deafening and Mr. Schlesinger had difficulty in making himself heard again. As soon as the applause subsided somewhat, he said:

"All in this hall who are in favor of Captain Howell for mayor, signify the fact by saying 'Aye!'"

The response was an "aye" that fairly shook the room, and then the cheering was renewed. Not a voice replied when he said:

"Those contrary minded signify it by saying 'No!'"

Bell Makes Eloquent Speech.

Madison Bell was the next speaker. He is a young man and was heartily applauded as he took his stand on the speaker's platform. He said he was reared in the fifth ward and took an interest in Captain Howell's candidacy because Captain Howell had been prominently identified with the upbuilding and prosperity of the city. He referred in glowing terms to Captain Howell's record as a confederate soldier and spoke eloquently of his efforts in assisting to bring order out of chaos after Sherman har laid the city in ashes.

He said Atlanta owed it to itself to put a man at the helm of the municipal craft that would be an honor to the town. Captain Howell, he declared, was such a man. He asserted the city was on the threshold of greater prosperity and advancement and a mistake made at this time would throw the wheels of progress out of gear. His remarks were cheered to the echo.

Sam W. Small was then called upon to speak and his appearance was the signal for more applause. Mr. Small said those qualified to vote were supposed to cast their ballots for the best behoof of the city. The ballot, he said, represented the person of the man depositing it in the ballot box and should not be cast in indorsement of any man whose moral character was not up to the standard required of all good citizens. Referring to the charge that too many Howells had been given positions of honor, he said it was the boast of other cities that such good men had their names linked with enterprises that had done much for the town and its people. He thought it came with ill grace from any one to complain of the prominence of the Howells in all things looking to the prosperity of Atlanta.

"I thank God," said he, "that we have such men as those to foster and be identified with the enterprises and institutions which mean the prosperity of this city." (Cheers.)

He said he was glad some of the other candidates were so modest that they did not claim to have built the capitol and railroads, "because," said he, "one fellow was helped by some other fellows who knew more about what they wanted than he did and knew better how to get it." (Applause.)

Mr. Small told several amusing anecdotes and had his hearers in rare good humor. His speech was warmly applauded. When the meeting adjourned a number of those present congratulated Captain Howell and assured him of their earnest support.

REVEL HELD IN CHECK AS PRAYERS ARE SAID

MEMBERS OF COUNCIL FIND NOTHING IMMORAL

After the Fair Reopened at 9 O'Clock Last Night the Committee of Council Made Its Investigation—Report Awaited with Interest.

The merry midway supplement to the Elks' street fair suspended hostilities during prayer meeting hours from 7 till 9 o'clock last evening.

When the festivities first came to a standstill at 7 o'clock many wild rumors began to float about over the city as to the cause of the shutdown.

It was whispered that the carnival company had become very indignant over the fact that the council had held a special meeting to discuss the advisability of closing down the show, and had themselves held an indignation meeting and were threatening to leave the town of their own volition.

There was another rumor, which was being circulated out in the western part of the city, that the show had closed down because the managers had heard that the members of the council were going to inspect all the shows, and the management did not want the esthetic tastes of these gentlemen tested. No foundation could be found anywhere for this rumor.

A report was said to have been circulated out Peachtree street to the effect that Carrie Nation had hit the town, and had with her wicked hatchet strewn tents and tent cords up and down the entire length of Marietta and Decatur streets.

There was much distress over the closing of the shows, and consequently many citizens constituted themselves as a self-appointed committee to investigate and discover if possible the cause for the closed tent doors.

The committee finally called in the assistance of a reporter of The Constitution, who after a few minutes investigation reported that Captain Jennings of the police force had ordered all the shows to be closed till after the prayer meetings at the different churches should be dismissed.

Again in Full Blast.

When the clock at the court house struck the hour of 9 everything was in readiness, the spielers had sufficiently whetted their voices, the dancers had applied an abundant supply of lubricating oil, the crowds were impatiently waiting before the ticket sellers, and with a mighty rush the fun was on.

Soon after the opening of the shows four mild mannered men were seen to be quietly working their way through the crowd up to the tent wherein was displayed the eruption of Mont Pelee.

They were noticed to have a critical air about them, and seemed to be on an inspection tour. Some one asked who they were and a reply from a bystander, who seemed to be taking in all that was passing, was to the effect that those men were four members of the city council.

After they had gone the rounds of the different shows Alderman Longino, Councilman Key, Councilman Winn and Councilman Hill were asked how they enjoyed the fair. It seemed to be the unanimous opinion that of the shows they had seen none were what could be termed indecent or grossly immoral. All agreed that the "Old Plantation" was really good, and one was overheard to say that he intended to see it again. It was also agreed that the Mont Pelee eruption was something that would be instructive to the school children.

There was a smaller crowd on the streets than on the two previous nights. No arrests were made on account of disturbances at the scene of the fair.

Chief Ball says he does not anticipate any further trouble unless it comes Saturday night, and says that he will be prepared for any disturbance that may come that night.

HUSSARS WIN IN BIG SHOOT.

Encampment in Liberty Proves Decided Success.

Savannah, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—The encampment at the new quarters of the Liberty Independent Troop, near Hinesville, Liberty county, is now in progress and bids fair to be a decided success. The companies represented are the Georgia Hussars, the Tattnall Meldrim Guards, the Effingham Guards, the Liberty Guards. The companies from McIntosh and Wayne were disappointed in being unable to participate.

A large crowd enjoyed the prize shoot this morning, the prize being competed for by a picked squad from each of the companies in attendance. The prize was captured by the Georgia Hussars on a score of 164 out of a possible 250. The Independent Troop came out only 4 points behind the Hussars with a score of 160. The Independent Troop took second and third prizes. C. R. Way, of the Georgia Hussars, took the individual prize, scoring 40 out of a possible 50.

The prize tilt took place this afternoon, the Liberty Guards team winning, after which Colonel P. W. Meldrim, commanding the regiment, made an address. The troops and citizens generally were disappointed when it became known that Governor Candler would not be present as anticipated.

The encampment will continue through Friday.

Keyser Zinn.

This German ware revived seems a gracious note to the memory of Falstaff and The Black Forest, and the designs are worth noting: steins, tankards, platters, bowls—almost everything for table and sideboard.

SHORT ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

THE TECHNOLOGICAL SCHOOL chapter of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity formally opened its new club rooms in the Austell building Tuesday night. The rooms are handsomely fitted and are among the handsomest college fraternity quarters in the state. The chapter at the Tech was established last April.

MRS. MARY G. DICKSON, WHO owns the property on Forsyth street adjoining the postoffice building, has appointed Frank P. Rice to represent her in the appraising of the property that has been condemned by the government. The United States authorities have appointed John D. Malsby and the two have selected Thomas J. Peeples as the third member of the board to evaluate the property.

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER THE body of Miss Edna Kincaid were conducted yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the residence, 234 Fraser street, by Rev. Dr. England. The interment was in Westview cemetery. A large number of friends of the deceased attended the funeral. Many handsome floral tributes, testifying to the love and esteem in which the deceased was held by her friends, were offered. The Sunday school of St. John Methodist church sent a beautiful design.

THE FUNERAL OF KIRBY S. ELLISON occurred yesterday. Funeral services were conducted at 10 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Ellison's sister, Mrs. L. Smith, 53 Humphries street. The interment was in Oakland cemetery.

GOVERNOR CANDLER YESTERDAY commissioned William Cullen Bryant, Jr., of Jackson, Ga., as a colonel on his staff. This raises the number of colonels on the governor's staff to seventy.

COLONEL JAMES A. BENSON, OF Washington, Ga., who has been in Atlanta for several days, returned to his home yesterday afternoon. Colonel Benson is a prominent capitalist and landholder of Wilkes county. He owns a large amount of valuable realty in Atlanta.

THE PRISON COMMISSIONERS have been notified by the Parrott Lumber Company that on December 1 this company will give up its camp at Richwood, which employs 130 convicts. The company still has the convicts for some time, according to the contract, and has subleased their labor to the Mill-Haven Company, which will employ them in a mill near Savannah.

JOHN F. WILY, OF DURHAM, N. C., was yesterday appointed by Secretary Phil Cook as commissioner of deeds in North Carolina for Georgia. His commission was mailed to him yesterday.

ASSISTANT STATE COMMISSIONER of Agriculture Robert F. Wright has returned to the city after a short visit to his home in Elberton. Colonel Wright reports that crops in Elbert are hardly up to the standard.

L. M'HENRY, ONE OF THE SPIELers at the fair, was fined $10.75 by Judge Broyles in the recorder's court yesterday. He was charged with insulting a lady who attempted to see the big snake.

L. T. SIMMONS AND J. W. HAWkins were each fined $15.75 in the recorder's court yesterday on the charge of cutting down one of the tents of the street fair.

WALTER CARLYON, A CONDUCTOR on the Southern railway, was arrested on the charge of disorderly conduct yesterday. He was charged with creating a disturbance on a street car. He was required to put up a cash collateral of $100.

THEATERS.

The Grand.

"A Stranger in New York," who has become quite familiar by his annual appearance in Atlanta attracted a small crowd at the Grand last night.

The company presenting the most popular of Hoyt's plays was, taken as a whole, only fair. Jack Campbell, as the irrepressible "Stranger," and William Kellar Mack, in the part of I. Collier Down, were head and shoulders above the rest of the cast. As to the feminine roles, chivalry obliges silence.

The musical numbers were indifferently rendered. Percy Walling alone seemed to be able to sing.

The specialty (sic) of Campbell and Mack was the feature of the show.

The Bijou.

Bad weather and counter attractions had but little effect on the attendance at the popular Bijou last night. A good sized and delighted gathering of theatergoers manifested interest in the offering by their presence, and demonstrated approval by applause that was quite continual and enthusiastic.

It is quite true that the show could be a better one than it is, but even at that there are at the least three numbers either one of which is quite a show in itself, and worth the price of a seat for the whole show. The trio of acts would lend attractiveness to any bill of vaudeville in the land, for they are positive features. Leon Morris and his educated comedy ponies is a fit feature act for Broadway. The ponies are splendid entertainers and the wrestling "Banner" and "Madison" are good laugh producers. The wonderful acrobats Prevost and Prevost are presenting a good comedy act in "Fun in a Turkish Bath," and the Darrows are scoring a great hit with shadowgraphs and sand and smoke pictures.

Every effort is being made to secure a bill for next week that will be an especially strong one.

The mission of the drama is fulfilled when it depicts life as it truly exists. A combination of pathos, heroism, villainy and comedy commends itself to students of the play as well as to those who seek entertainment. The moral lesson that such a play teaches is pure and wholesome. "Human Hearts," an established melo-drama, deals with these elements in a natural manner and leaves no chance for artificial methods. Its presentation is announced for next Friday and Saturday nights, with a bargain matinee Saturday, at the Grand.

Augustus Thomas' comedy success, "On the Quiet," with Thomas W. Ross in the leading role, will be the attraction at the Grand next week.

It will be recalled that "On the Quiet" was the vehicle with which William Collier scored such an unqualified success last year at the Madson Square theater, New York. Mr. Thomas, the author, selected Mr. Ross for the present road tour, and Managers Snesgreen and Reynolds have surrounded him with a notable company, many of which were in the original cast. Charles Frohman has secured the English rights to the piece and will produce it in London during the present season.

COUNCIL FAILS TO STOP FAIR

Puts an End to the Game of Chance Features.

COUNCIL MEMBERS ARE TO INVESTIGATE

Messrs. Longino, Key and Winn Will Pass Upon the Moral Tone of the Exhibitions Being Made at the Elks' Carnival.

Council yesterday afternoon failed to stop the Elks' street carnival. The meeting was held as a result of a special call issued by the mayor, who desired that the city fathers consider the advisability of putting an end to the fair, which has been in progress on Marietta street since Monday.

The only action taken by council was the adoption of a resolution discontinuing the shooting gallery and ring-throwing features, while a committee of three, consisting of Alderman Longino, Councilman Key and Councilman Winn, was appointed to make an investigation with the chief of police to ascertain if there were any immoral exhibitions at the fair. This committee is authorized to have all such stopped instanter. The Order of Elks was required to hire as many extra policemen as might be necessary to prevent disorder, the salaries of these men to be paid by the organization.

The manager of the concern agreed that he would close those shows in the vicinity of the Presbyterian church last night which might interfere with the prayer meeting held at the church.

This, in brief, was what council accomplished at the meeting. Several resolutions were introduced, a number of speeches were made and representatives of the Elks' order were heard from. Mayor Mims opened the meeting and Alderman Welch was elected to preside in the absence of the mayor pro tem. When the mayor's call for the meeting was read Councilman Hill declared he thought it would be manifestly unfair to the Elks to revoke the permit which had been granted in good faith and so accepted. He said he had not visited the carnival, but had been assured it was not immoral. He moved that council adjourn, but the motion was defeated.

Wanted To Remit Fines.

Alderman Welch introduced a resolution providing that the permit be withdrawn and that the carnival people be given twenty-four hours in which to remove their tents and booths from the street. Alderman Longino also introduced a resolution stipulating that, as the permit of the council had made disorder possible, the mayor, upon recommendation of the recorder, be requested to remit all fines imposed in cases of this character. The Welch resolution was defeated by the adoption of a substitute, and no action was taken on the resolution by Dr. Longino.

Councilman Beck characterized the fair as a public disgrace to the city. He said it was of a peculiarly disgusting nature and would not be tolerated in other cities. Mayor Mims explained that he had called the meeting because of the number of complaints received regarding the fair and the character of the shows. He said if he had known what kind of exhibition it was to be he would never have signed the permit.

Attorney Walter Visanska, who said he was a member of the order, declared the shows were not immoral, that the booths had been erected at places assigned by the chief of police, and that the order of Elks nor the carnival people were responsible for the disorder which may have occurred. He said the snake-eating act might be repulsive to some people, but it could not be called immoral.

The dances, he said, were no more immoral than those to be seen any night at any of the local theaters. He desired to know if council was going to put the Elks in the attitude of breaking their contract with the fair company.

Colonel T. B. Felder stated he had long been a member of the local lodge of Elks, and he felt it an honor to be connected with the organization, "despite the statements of a distinguished minister who said recently he would rather his son was in the Georgia penitentiary than a member of the Elks lodge."

"All I want to say," said Mr. Felder, "is that it appears the average son of the average minister would come nearer gracing the penitentiary than the Elks."

Indorsed by Educator.

He thought council should have known what sort of show was to be given before the permit was granted and he believed the attacks of what he termed "the long-haired clergy that had acquired virtue through decay" should not be taken too seriously. When the show was at Milledgeville he said, Dr. Chappell took the young ladies of the normal school to the show and gave the management a testimonial stating the exhibition in its entiety was perfectly moral.

"If you revoke this permit," he asserted "you make the members of the Elks lodge responsible to the carnival company for any damages that may accrue."

Councilman Key said he did not know what sort of show was to be given when he introduced the resolution in council which secured the permit for the fair. If he had been a member of the Elks lodge, he said, he was sure he would not have favored the character of show this evidently was. While it might not be immoral in itself, said he, yet it had a tendency toward immorality, and he cited the number of young men who had been carted off to the station house nightly since the carnival began.

Councilman Kontz thought it would be a good idea to allow the Elks to provide extra police protection, and he urged that the shooting gallery and ring casting shows be stopped. Councilman Winn introduced a resolution covering the matter, stipulating that a private policeman be stationed in front of every tent and booth to preserve order. Dr. Longino said he was for the Welch resolution putting an immediate stop to the whole show. Councilman Lewis amended the Winn resolution by providing that a committee of three be appointed to assist the police in determining which were immoral acts. The Winn resolution was adopted by a vote of 9 to 5.

Those present at the meeting were Aldermen Welch, LaHatte, Pierce, Terry and Longino and Councilmen Hill, Garrett, Key, Glass, Harwell, Kontz, Winn, Fincher, Beck, Warren and Lewis. A large number of the members of the Atlanta lodge of Elks were present while the meeting was in progress and they frequently cheered the remarks of Colonel Felder and Mr. Visanska.

HOWELL TO SPEAK IN SIXTH TONIGHT

Will Address the Voters at Phillips & Crew's Hall.

JOHNSON HAS A NEW PLAN

Alderman Woodward Speaks in Fifth Ward Tonight and in First Ward Tomorrow Night — Howell Committee Meets and Plans Campaign.

Captain Evan P. Howell, candidate for mayor, will address the voters of the sixth ward this evening at 8 o'clock at Phillips & Crew's hall, on Peachtree street, near Edgewood avenue. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the ward committee of the Howell campaign committee in that ward.

Tomorrow night he will speak in the fourth ward at the vacant store, No. 246 Decatur street, between Pratt and Moore streets, near the old Atlanta and West Point railway freight depot. When this meeting is over, Captain Howell will have spoken in every ward in the city.

Next Monday night there will be a big rally at the Grand in the interest of his candidacy for mayor. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Young Men's Howell Club, the members of which will attend the meeting in a body, marching from their headquarters to the opera house.

The next meeting of the club will be held Saturday evening in the rooms of the organization, 415 and 417 Kiser building. All the ward committees of the club will report.

Will Speak from Carriage.

It was announced yesterday that Alderman Harvey Johnson, one of the mayoralty candidates, had abandoned the plan of holding indoor meetings, and during the remainder of the campaign would speak from a carriage which will be driven about the city. He will be accompanied by some of his friends, who will also speak.

He will begin his speaking today, visiting the Southern shops at noon to address the men at that place. At 6 o'clock in the afternoon he will speak at the corner of Walton and Marietta streets, in the fifth ward, and two hours later will speak at Silverman's corner, in the sixth.

Those who are expected to accompany him on his rounds are Colonel Clifford L. Anderson, Lowry Arnold, Councilman James L. Key, Colonel T. B. Felder, John S. Parks and Councilman J. Frank Beck.

Alderman James G. Woodward, the other candidate for mayor, will address the voters of the fifth ward this evening at Cleveland's hall, corner Marietta and Thurmond streets, while tomorrow night he will speak in the first ward at Eubanks' hall, 226 1-2 Peters street.

Plan for Howell Campaign.

A meeting of sixth ward citizens, composed of personal friends and supporters of Captain Howell, in his race for mayor, met at the Howell campaign headquarters at noon yesterday in order to arrange the details of the sixth ward mass meeting, which has been announced for tonight at 8 o'clock in the hall of Phillips & Crew, on Peachtree street. Thomas Egleston was called to the chair and made an earnest talk, urging the importance of concerted action on the part of all friends of Captain Howell in order to secure a full vote at the primary election.

Harry Schlesinger followed Mr. Egleston in a vigorous appeal to all present to see that nothing was left undone to poll the full strength of Captain Howell's supporters on election day. He called attention to the danger of over-confidence and urged all present at the meeting to make just as earnest an endeavor as if the situation was unsatisfactory instead of being encouraging, as it seemed to him to be.

Robert F. Maddox, in a brief but businesslike statement, took the position that it was the duty of every friend of Captain Howell to constitute himself a committee of one to see his friends and impress them with the importance of attending the ward meetings, and called on every person present to undertake to secure the attendance of, at least, five of his friends at the sixth ward meeting to be held tonight. Judge Ernest C. Kontz, Captain W. D. Ellis, Jr., and R. C. Alston followed in enthusiastic speeches on the same line.

The secretary of the meeting requested The Constitution reporter, who was present, to state that the papers had announced a meeting of the Young Men's Howell Club for last night, but that the announcement was erroneous, because the meeting of the Young Men's Howell Club was called for next Saturday night at the club's headquarters in the Kiser building.

It was stated at the meeting that the campaign, so far as public speaking was concerned, would be closed by a mass meeting at the Grand opera house on next Monday night under the auspices of the Young Men's Howell Club, at which meeting the public would be invited to attend. It was announced that the drum corps and the Fifth regiment band would be on hand to provide music before and during the meeting and that short speeches would be made by prominent citizens.

WOODWARD SPOKE IN FOURTH WARD

Meeting Held at Decatur Street and Boulevard Last Night.

Alderman Paid His Respects to Other Candidates, but Devoted Greater Part of His Time to a Discussion of His Own Official Acts.

Alderman J. G. Woodward spoke to a good crowd of voters in a vacant store at the corner of Boulevard and Decatur street last night.

He confined his remarks chiefly to his own record in office, claiming that his services to the city have been such as to demand recognition.

He paid his respects to the other two candidates, stating that neither can afford "to throw any rocks at his glass house," so far as personal matters are concerned, and that the official records are all the proof he needs of his services to the city.

He said in part:

"It is a pleasure to see so many out on a night so inclement.

"I am in this race. It is true I have not resigned. I am carrying out the duties of the office to which I was elected.

"As to eligibility, I took this matter up with the city attorney and have taken no further interest in it.

"I shall run no mud slinging campaign. I think each man should run on his record.

"As to records, neither of my opponents has any bouquets to throw at me. Their records are known as well as mine.

"One of my opponents has accused me of being egotistic. Unfortunately he has none. I have been active in council and in every office to which I have been elected. One of my opponents has been an alderman for three years. If he has done anything I don't know it. May be that is the reason he has no egotism.

"As to the other, I know of nothing he has done for the city unless it was when he resigned.

"I introduced the measure which resulted in the construction of the Grant street bridge. I started the movement for electric lights. I inaugurated the movement for building the present station house.

"When I was chairman of the street committee there was only one brick yard here. On request I readvertised the bids, which brought a new brick yard to Atlanta—one worked by free labor.

"I was instrumental in moving the water works from Lakewood to the present site. I introduced a resolution that all this work should be done by free labor. All this is on record.

"Some time later I started a measure to open Alabama street. This ended in a compromise when the railroads paid half of the cost of the Mitchell street viaduct.

"Coming to a later date. When I was mayor it was a stormy period. The people of Atlanta do not know what I went through.

"I tried to keep the two street railway companies apart, and did do it for a year and a half. Had the matter been properly managed they could have been kept apart until today.

"Through the new street railway company I had the Whitehall viaduct built. This belongs to the city and any other company that can pay the price can cross it.

"Everything that I recommended to council when mayor is today an accomplished fact. For accomplishment I consider it the best administration the city has ever had. I recommended the federal prison, the Carnegie library a public comfort house at Oakland and a sinking fund commission. They are all here. I consider the establishment of that commission one of the best pieces of work in the city's history.

"In my second year my chief aim was to get the Whitehall viaduct. This, as you know, is here.

"My friend Howell tells a story about the peckerwood and the polecat. I am the biggest peckerwood in the hole. Johnson may be the little one. Captain Howell must be the polecat.

"A great deal has been said about jags. Had I been guilty of all they charged me with something would have been found wrong. I defy any man to put his finger on any official act of mine not in the interest of the city.

"As to the jag deal, my two opponents have no bouquets to throw at me.

"As to the Air Line railroad, I hardly think Captain Howell had much to do with it, as he was at that time holding a federal job.

"Whenever the captain attempts to throw mud he gets on the wrong track, for his glass house is much bigger than mine.

"I commend Captain Howell for the good work he has done, if he has done any, but he has not done it all. He had nothing to do with improving Peters street. The people along the street did this work themselves.

"When I went out of office the plans for the Peters street viaduct were complete. It could have been built without a cost of one cent to the city. It was my resolution which finally brought the agreement to build the bridge.

"As to his dodging. When we were discussing the Whitehall tunnel he was absent from every meeting. He is a director of the Central railroad and owns property in West End. He was interested in both sides, so he dodged the issue.

"As to the national park, nearly all the land which it is to include belongs to the Howell family, and then, too, he wanted to be a park commissioner.

"As to salaries, if city employees I believe in good salaries, no matter who pays them. I am in favor of reinstating the salaries of the policemen, firemen and school teachers, which were cut in 1897. I have worked hard to have this done and am in favor of it yet.

"I'll tell you another thing I am in favor of. I tried to get a free school book library. Many people are not able to buy books for their children. I do hope to see a free school library.

"We want to better our different departments. I especially want to see our schools improved. In the last ten years only one grammar school building put up. More school buildings must come.

"We must also have an extension of our sewers. The people on the west side deserve to have better sewerage service.

"In conclusion, I am in this race to win. I do not expect to buy it, as I have heard one of my opponents expects to do. A man who will offer to buy a vote should be spurned.

"I have walked this town over and I have found my chances very flattering. Just as sure as the sun rises tomorrow J. G. Woodward will be nominated. I could have left the office with enough money to last me the rest of my life. I left it poorer than I went.

"I did what I thought right and if elected I shall again do what I think right. I wear no man's collar. I have accepted campaign money from no one. I shall go into office indebted to the people and to no one else."

A meeting will be held in the interest of Alderman Woodward at the corner of Marietta and Foundry streets tonight beginning at 8 o'clock.

Escaped from Officers.

Huntsville, Ala., September 24.—(Special.) E. J. Riles, a former lawyer of Macon, Ga., who was arrested in Dallas, Texas, and was in the custody of Detective Patterson en route to Macon, where he is wanted for forgery, escaped from his captor today while Patterson was asleep on the train. Riles, who was not handcuffed, took his grip and calmly walked out of the car in this city. He has not been heard of since. Patterson states that when he arrested Riles in Texas he agreed to come back to Georgia without requisition papers on condition that he would not be handcuffed. He made oath that he would not attempt to escape. Rewards have been offered for the recapture of the escaped prisoner.

In the Social Realm

Rankin-Manly.

The wedding of Miss Valeria Lamar Rankin and Mr. William Doughty Manly took place last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the palatial home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Fannie Lamar Rankin, on Capitol avenue. Rev. Theron Rice performed the impressive ceremony in the presence of a brilliant assemblage of several hundred friends.

As the strains of the Tanhauser wedding march were heard the bridal party descended the broad stairway, the ushers coming first. They were Hon. Eli Shorter, of Alabama; Dr. John Alton Harris, of London, uncles of the bride; Mr. Lamar Rankin, Mr. Shepard Bryan, Dr. Michael Hoke and Mr. Dick Palmer.

The first two ushers carried the white ribbons which formed an aisle from the hallway to the drawing room, and through this aisle the bride passed, accompanied by her uncle, Mr. Walter Lamar, of Macon, who gave her away. She was preceded by her sister, Miss Alberta Rankin, who acted as maid of honor, and was met at the improvised altar in the drawing room by the groom and his best man, Mr. John Manly, of Augusta.

During the ceremony the bridal party stood in the circular end of the drawing room, where the arch was hung with American smilax and garlands of white roses. Palms of luxurious foliage formed the background, while feathery ferns here and there softened the effect of the whole. In this apartment the decorations were entirely of white and green; the mantel was banked in roses and ferns and the lace draperies of the arched windows were veiled in delicate sprays of smilax, caught here and there with roses.

These elaborate decorations continued throughout every apartment of the beautiful home, the touch of color changing in the second parlor and in the coffee room, where pink roses were used instead of the bride roses in the dining room, music room and library.

In the dining room, where the bridal party were served an elegant supper, the table at which they were seated was circular in shape and covered with an elegant cloth of Venetian lace. The centerpiece was an elevated plateau of white roses and ferns, bordered with delicate sprays of fern and white buds. The silver and crystal candelabra had shades of pale green and silver, and hanging from the chandeliers were love knots of green and white ribbon. At each plate were souvenirs in tiny white satin boxes containing the wedding cake and adorned with knots of tulle and orange blossoms. On the love knots of white satin were the names of the guests in gold letters. The bonbons were in white and green and the ices were in the design of bride roses and wedding bells. At the table with the bride and groom were the ushers, best man, maid of honor and the bride's friends, Misses Janie Speer, Susan Calhoun, Lena Swift and Julia Porter.

The wedding guests enjoyed the delicious supper served at tete-a-tete tables in the various apartments on the lower floor.

The orchestra rendered a brilliant musical programme during the evening and the occasion was a notably enjoyable and happy one.

The bride's gown was a superb creation in white crepe de chine en train.

The skirt had a yoke of rose point lace and was shirred at intervals to the knees, where flare was given in a triple Paquin flounce made in tucks and hand-embroidery. The front width of the skirt was tucked and bordered on either side by bands of rose point lace caught with Roman pearls. The corsage was shirred and its yoke of lisse was finished with a bertha of rose point lace caught with pearls.

Her veil was adjusted with a coronet of orange blossoms held by a sunburst of diamonds, the gift of the groom.

The maid of honor wore an exquisite frock of white lisse trimmed in lace and a short veil of tulle.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Fannie Lamar Rankin and inherits from a distinguished family all the qualities of brilliant and admirable womanhood. She is a brunette beauty of the patrician Italian type, and is possessed of manners charming and vivacious. She has been a distinct favorite in society since her girlhood.

Mr. Manly is a native of Americus, Ga., but for the past few years has made his residence in Atlanta. He is identified with the banking business, and, while achieving pronounced success in the world of business, he is making a host of friends in social life. He and his bride left last night for a trip north.

During the reception following the wedding ceremony there were in the receiving party with the bride's mother Mrs. Eli Shorter, of Eufaula, Ala.; Mrs. John Alton Harris, of London; Mrs. Walter Lamar, Mrs. John Young, Mrs. Scofield and Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, of Macon. Mrs. Rankin wore a superb gown of white lace, applied in medallions of black, and a touch of pink about the corsage. Mrs. Harris was regal in white satin with overdress of Brussels lace. The corsage was finished with pink roses and lilies, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Shorter wore an elegant gown of black satin trimmed in point lace, and her jewels were notably handsome. Mrs. Walter Lamar was becomingly attired in pale green silk. Mrs. Young, of Jacksonville, wore a lovely gown of white crepe de chine trimmed in chiffon and lace.

Among the out-of-town guests present besides the family were Mrs. Augustus O. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Schofield, Mr. and Mrs. Cabaniss, Mr. George Plant, Mr. Lamar Washington, of Macon.

Leake-Greene.

The wedding of Miss Genevieve Leake and Mr. Forest Greene was solemnized last evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Leake, on South Pryor street.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Theron Rice and was witnessed by the near relatives and intimate friends.

The entire lower floor was thrown open and decorated with palms, ferns and La France roses.

Miss Erma Ellis, of Greenville, Ala., was maid of honor, and wore a dainty gown of white chiffon elaborately trimmed in real lace. Her flowers were La France roses.

The other attendants were Misses Emma Wallace, of Marietta, and Leila Leake, of Marietta.

Mr. Herbert Greene, the groom's brother, acted as best man, and the groomsmen were Mr. Paul Leake and Mr. Herbert Knapp.

The bride's gown was a stylish traveling suit of blue cloth with hat to match, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

A reception followed the ceremony, after which Mr. Greene and his bride left for an extended trip north.

After their return they will be at home to their friends in their lovely new cottage on Grant street.

To Wed October 8.

Marietta, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Mary Barnard and Mr. Robert Grier, both of San Francisco, which will take place in that city Wednesday, October 8th, will be an affair in which many Atlanta people will be interested, since Miss Barnard spent several weeks there last winter visiting friends and relatives. Miss Barnard is an exceedingly pretty young woman, and had many admirers while in Atlanta. Many people of Newnan and Marietta will also be interested in the news of her approaching marriage, as Miss Barnard has many friends in both these places.

Mr. Grier is a wealthy contractor of San Francisco, and belongs to one of the most prominent families of that city.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Grier will spend several weeks sight-seeing in Mexico, possibly making Georgia a visit before returning home.

Rollins-Hargis.

Kingston, Ga., September 24.—(Special.) Miss Lena Rollins and Mr. James Emory Hargis were married at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rollins yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. They left immediately for Atlanta, where they will reside in future.

SOUR BREAD.

Annoyed the Doctor.

If you get right down to the bottom of your stomach trouble it is wrong food, and the way to correct it is not by drugs but by using the right food.

A physician in Barron, Wis., writes an instructive letter on this point. He says: "I am a practicing physician, 45 years old, and about 6 feet in height. When I began using Grape-Nuts last spring I weighed 140 pounds, was thin and poor, had a coating on my tongue and frequently belched wind and gas and small pieces of undigested bread or potatoes, which were very sour; in short, I had acid dyspepsia.

I consulted a brother physician, who advised me to eat about four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts at the commencement of each meal and drink Postum Cereal Coffee. I had been in the habit of drinking coffee for breakfast and tea for dinner and supper. I followed the advice of my brother physician as to diet and experienced relief at once.

Ever since that time I have eaten Grape-Nuts with sweet milk and cream each morning for breakfast and I now weigh 155 pounds, and am no more troubled with sour stomach. I am very fond of Postum Food Coffee and attribute my relief as much to that as I do to Grape-Nuts.

Often when I am called out in the night to see a patient and on my return home I feel tired and hungry, I eat the usual quantity of Grape-Nuts before going to bed and then sleep soundly all night." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

SOLDIERS' HOME WAS DEDICATED

Appropriate Exercises Held at Home Yesterday Morning.

SPEECHES WERE HEARD BY MANY VETERANS

Addresses by Colonel W. L. Calhoun, Governor-Elect J. M. Terrell, Hon. L. F. Livingston, John Temple Graves and Others.

The new Soldiers' Home building was formally opened yesterday morning with exercises peculiarly appropriate to the occasion.

A large crowd was present, including the inmates of the home, Confederate Veterans of different camps, members of the Ladies' Memorial Association, Daughters of the Confederacy and other auxiliary organizations. The badges of Camp Walker, Camp Atlanta and Camp A of Wheeler's cavalry were prominent.

Many of the veterans, in addition to those occupying the home, wore their uniforms of gray, which appeared very natural under the floating confederate flags. Here and there the empty coat sleeve and the peg leg were seen, strong reminders of the real cruelty of war.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Dr. A. R. Holderby.

President Calhoun then welcomed those assembled, after which he gave a history of the home from the time the movement for its erection was inaugurated by Henry Grady until the present day.

He told of the efforts of the board of trustees to get the state to accept the home after it was built, how it was rejected time and again, but finally accepted in 1900. Colonel Calhoun then told something of the work of the home, of the destruction of the old building, in September, 1901, and the work of erecting the new building.

Hon. J. M. Terrell Talks.

Colonel Calhoun was followed by Governor-elect Joseph M. Terrell, who made a short but forceful address, which was easily the feature of the occasion.

Governor-elect Terrell, in beginning, thanked Colonel Calhoun for introducing him as the "friend of the confederate soldier," saying that no proud encomium could be placed upon him which he would value as highly.

After paying a beautiful tribute to the gallantry of the confederate soldier, Colonel Terrell concluded by saying that he believed that Georgia owes a debt to every one of her sons who fought under the Stars and Bars, and that while he was living not one of them would go down to the grave uncared for if his protest would be of any avail.

Hon. L. F. Livingston, member of congress from the fifth district, was the next speaker. He said that the gallantry of the confederate soldier was only equaled by the faithful devotion of the women of the south, and that the work of the confederate veteran after the war was as courageous as his action on the field of battle.

In picturing the condition of the confederate soldier on returning from the war, Colonel Livingston said:

"As you know, his name was then written at Washington city as a rebel, and I regret that many in our national capital would still write it 'rebel.'"

A veteran in the audience created considerable amusement at this point by breaking in with the statement:

"Yes, colonel, and they're liars up there, too."

Graves' Plea for Loyalty.

Hon. John Temple Graves followed with an address in which he made a plea for loyalty to the republic of today, as well as to the memories of the confederacy. He said that the confederate soldier is honored in the north and that the people of that section are fast learning to honor the principles for which they fought. These remarks were met with prolonged applause.

Short talks were also made by General A. J. West and Colonel J. Courtland Lyons, of Charleston. President Calhount announced that a portrait of Henry W. Grady had been presented to the home by Mrs. J. R. Gregory, of Atlanta.

The musical part of the programme added much pleasure to the occasion. Mrs. Yeates sang "The Bugle Call" and a chorus, "Dixie." At the close of the exercises all the veterans joined in singing "We Are Old-Time Confederates." Led by Captain Tip Harrison, they made the welkin ring, many of them getting so enthusiastic at times as to cease singing long enough to enliven the occasion with the far-famed "rebel yell." The audience was dismissed with prayer by Dr. T. P. Cleveland.

One of the most attractive rooms in the home is that on the first floor which has been furnished by the staff of the Georgia division of the United Confederate Veterans. On its lintel it bears the name of the division's commander, General Clement A. Evans.

FROM PRISON CELL BEASON GOES TO FACE ANOTHER JURY

HAVING just served an eight-year sentence for forgery in the Maryland state prison at Baltimore, Robert Beason will in a few days face a jury to be tried for the same offense at Fort Valley, Ga.

Sheriff M. L. Cooper, of Houston county, arrived in the city yesterday from Baltimore with his prisoner, and had him placed behind the bars at the police station last night. He will leave with him today for Fort Valley.

Robert Beason, alias Frank Smith, alias C. A. Smith, alias Jim Smith and a few other "aliases" of the Smith persuasion, it is said, has had a checkered career. He is reported to be a shrewd crook and one whom the bank cashiers feared. Besides being wanted for forgery, it is claimed that he is also charged with embezzling about $40,000.

In the early part of 1894 it is alleged that he forged checks on the Fort Valley banks to the amount of $900. During the same year he was charged with forging checks on some one of the Baltimore banks to the amount of $1,500. For nearly a year he was a fugitive from justice, being sought after by the authorities of both towns.

He was finally captured at Orlando, Fla., but before the Fort Valley authorities could get possession of him the Marylanders had secured him, and in a short time had him safely behind the bars in that state.

The Fort Valley authorities had not forgotten, however, for they had taken all necessary precautions, and as soon as his sentence was served in Baltimore Sheriff Cooper was upon the scene and took him in charge when he walked out of the Maryland prison.

Beason's surprise was so complete when he found that he had really done little else than walk out of the Maryland into the Georgia penitentiary that he could but gasp: "What will the end of me be?" He said, he said, been looking forward to the time when he would be a free man, and when he gained his liberty Tuesday only to be confronted by his old friend, Sheriff Cooper, and to be told that his liberty was to be a period of short duration, he was dumbfounded.

"You cannot imagine how a fellow feels under such circumstances," said Beason. "I walked out of the Maryland prison Tuesday morning with my hopes high, in the very best of spirits, and feeling that I had one more chance to be a free man and a worthy citizen. Imagine, if you can, the awful revulsion that came over me when I was met at the door by Sheriff Cooper and was told that I was wanted in Fort Valley for the same offense for which I was sent up in Baltimore. My spirits sank within me, for I felt that my last chance had slipped from under me.

"I do not know what the end of it all will be. I'll be carried back to Fort Valley, and if convicted will doubtless have to serve another term of eight or ten years, and then—well, then I'll be too old to be of any account to any one. Verily, verily, my son, the way of a transgressor is hard."

He turned his face away from the reporter, and, leaning against the iron grating of the door, wept bitterly for a few minutes.

"Yes, I had the best chance that ever a fellow had when I first began life, and had I only made up my mind to live within my income and let severely alone women and wine, I would today have been one of the wealthiest and most respected men of south Georgia.

"I could tell you the story of the wrecked happiness of a wife and little children, but you can look at me and guess that story without my telling you."

He will be carried to Fort Valley today by Sheriff Cooper.

COTTON LOSS IN HEAVY RAIN

Georgia Cotton Planters Feel the Effects of Hard Rain.

UNFAVORABLE CONDITION ALL OVER COTTON BELT

Rain and Unsettled Weather Is Predicted for Atlanta Again Today. High Barometers in West Offer No Hope for Prevailing Conditions.

The weather today is likely to continue unsettled, with occasional showers.

Reports from throughout the cotton belt tell of heavy rains in the southern and southwestern sections, and heavy losses to the open cotton is predicted. High barometers in the far northwest and southwest promise no relief while these conditions prevail.

The rainfall in Atlanta up to 7 o'clock last night was 1.13 inches, the wind prevailing from the south, beginning about 10 o'clock and ending at 7 o'clock in the evening. There was lightning recorded at eight minutes after 1 o'clock, and the heaviest showers came at 1:45 and 3:38 o'clock.

The rainfall in New Orleans last night was reported at 2.08 inches, with a severe thunder storm.

In the report received from Savannah at 7 o'clock last vening no rainfall was recorded, while in Augusta .60 of an inch fell. In the central and northern parts of the state the rains were general, and the storm seems to be taking a southerly direction.

Throughout the districts affected by the rains, the picking of cotton was not only put to an end for the immediate present, but the cotton in the bolls will be further damaged. While this is true of the crops in Georgia, it is not expected that they will suffer nearly as great damage as those in certain parts of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi, where in some localities the rainfall ranged from one and a half to over three inches. According to the last reports of the agricultural department, Texas has suffered more than any other portion of the cotton belt, and, with the additional damage from the recent hard rains, a very short crop is predicted for this section. As Texas averages from one-fourth to one-third of the entire yield of cotton in this country, it is expected that this general shortage will mean higher prices, and Georgia, which has suffered far less than her western neighbors, expects to make up a majority of her loss in shortage by means of these higher prices.

While cotton has been unquestionably damaged, minor crops are being benefited by these rains. Farmers and planters, too, have been complaining that the moisture was not sufficient to mellow land for fall plowing. This condition will, of course, be benefited. Fall plowing has also been very generall delayed in all parts of the state because of every effort being made to pick the cotton, which is reported as being generally open. A lack of an adequate amount of labor has also been reported as a serious handicap, both in the matter of harvesting cotton and fall plowing.

Among the crops that will be benefited by the rains are peas, potatoes, turnips, late bottom corn and fodder.

BIG ATTENDANCE FOR THE TECH

Session Begins with More Than Five Hundred Applicants.

MANY FROM OTHER STATES ASKING FOR ADMISSION

A Most Successful Year Is Expected by President Lyman Hall—Preliminary Examinations for Entrance Will Be Held All This Week.

The session of the Technological school was formally begun yesterday with the largest attendance in the history of the institution. It is estimated that over five hundred students will register this fall, and that the total number of matriculates for the year will exceed six hundred.

The applicants are busy with entrance examinations now, and the real work of the term will not be begun before Monday.

President Hall stated that he was gratified at the very successful beginning, and that he expected the session of 1902-03 to be a record breaker in every way.

Of the five hundred applicants for admission a remarkably large number are from other states. Several prospective students have arrived from Massachusetts, New York, Indiana and Kentucky. Four men from Texas, five from Mississippi, twelve from South Carolina, ten from Chattanooga, in addition to others from Tennessee, and big delegations from Alabama and Florida, will stand the preliminary examination, and Virginia and North Carolina will have representatives.

The capacity of the dormitories has been far exceeded, and over two hundred will be forced to board in the city.

From Various States.

The fame of the school is attested by the number of men coming from other states in which technical schools are located. There are applicants who reside almost in the shadow of Clemson, Auburn, Virginia Polytechnic, Texas Polytechnic and the University of Tennessee.

The courses in mechanical engineering will be unusually thorough this year on account of the installation of the new equipment. The work of placing and regulating the machinery will all be done by the advanced students in this department.

There will be a marked increase in the textile school.

In athletics and physical training the work has been actively begun. Coach Andree, of the football team, has had the squad in training since Monday, and Captain Young expects a successful season. The Technological school has the most complete gymnasium and course of physical culture of any college in the south, and the compulsory work under scientific supervision will be started immediately.

The growth of the school has been remarkable. When Captain Lyman Hall accepted the presidency of the institution in 1896 there were only eighty students enrolled, and the equipment was meager. Now the Tech is unquestionably the leading technical college south of Cornell, with thirty-five instructors and five hundred students.

MONEY SITUATION AFFECTS COTTON

Early Weakness in Stocks Aggravated Weakness in Cotton.

IMPROVED IN THE AFTERNOON

Due to Rally in Stocks and Tumble in the Price of Money—Closed Steady with Prices 3 Points Higher to 4 Points Lower.

New York, September 24.—The cotton market opened steady with prices unchanged to 3 points lower, this being an indifferent response to surprisingly weak Liverpool cables and bearish foreign private cables. But as Liverpool continued to decline, and as the stock market gave signs of underlying weakness, selling orders came in freely and soon had prices declining rapidly. A bad jump in the price of money and extreme weakness in the stock market later aggravated the weakness in cotton, and not until January had dropped to 8.69 and March to 8.47 was there a change for the better. Trade was active in a feverish way with commission houses and room longs active sellers. Europe offered cotton here and some pressure came from Chicago. New Orleans, however, was a consistent buyer and the better judges of the market here took on moderate lines below 8.75 for January. Wall street sold comparatively little cotton today, but was reported to have unloaded a large line around top yesterday. In the afternoon there was a decided change for the better in the market on general buying and a lull in the liquidation. This improvement was due in part to a rally in the stock market and a tumble in the price of money. Late crop reports were unfavorable, and the impression was quite general that weak long interests had been shaken out. Wall street furnished a goodly number of supporting orders, and business generally broadened out again. The close was steady with prices net 3 points higher to 4 points lower. Total sales of futures were estimated at 350,000 bales.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, September 24.—There has been no change in the character of business passing today in cotton goods. The demand here has been fair in the aggregate and prices firm. Print cloths firm with more buyers than sellers. Woolen goods firm in men's wear with a quiet current demand. Dress goods steady, buying chiefly in staples.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, September 24.—European markets were affected by rumors of a panic in Wall street as a result of the small supply of loanable funds. This impression caused the sharp break abroad. From the opening the local trade thought they saw quiet buying for the account of the bull party, which was most marked in January, and continued all day. A rally followed after midday, though there was an active business. September was particularly strong on the covering of shorts, who have retained their interest late in the month. Liverpool is expected to rally sharply from the depression of today, as the southern markets have not declined in sympathy with the foreign markets. The trade is looking forward to a poor bureau report on October 31.

Southern Exchange Cotton Letter.

New York, September 24.—The cotton market failed to shake off yesterday's hoodoo, and in consequence there were not as many buyers as sellers. Liverpool set the crowd to thinking by opening 3 to 4 points lower and closing well nigh 7 points below yesterday's close. The belief now is that the demoralized condition of the cotton market is a sequel to the rapid decline in the stock market, and at the present rate of call money the traders, whose operations are more prominent in the cotton market, are experiencing a squeeze in monetary matters, thus causing them embarrassment in this direction. The market here was active during the morning session, due to numerous stop orders being reached and a fusillade of short sales. The opening was fractionally lower than last night and soon took a downward tendency which the scattered bulls could not overcome. Estimated Houston tomorrow 5,000 to 6,000, against 11,413; Galveston 13,000 to 14,000, against 6,484; New Orleans 8,000 to 9,000, against 2,621 last year. Estimated eleven ports today 35,000, against 23,825 last year.

Atlanta Brokerage Co.'s Cotton Letter

New York, September 24.—The slump in stocks had bad effect on cotton futures in the forced liquidation on the part of the Wall street clique and some very heavy blocks of cotton were let down regardless of quotations. The market opened steady in tone with first prices unchanged to 3 points lower. The English market was weak and lower by 4 to 5 points. There was liquidation by commission houses on an extensive scale and the room as a general thing was bearish for a reaction. Evidences were strong that the bull ring was selling out some of its January cotton, taking in March shorts. Receipts were hardly what was looked for. Late cables from English markets were pessimistic. Private wires say there is little demand for spot cotton in the south. The weather is again bearish, but this, as well as crop news, was ignored. Advices from dry goods and cotton centers failed to reflect any change in conditions. Business was quite active and well distributed.

SLUMP IN STOCKS WAS DUE TO TIGHT MONEY MARKET

New York, September 24.—The unexpected news that President Roosevelt was compelled to abandon his trip and submit to surgical treatment proved an additional burden upon the stock market this morning. Opening prices showed threatening breaks of from 1 to 3 points in the important leading stocks. First prices proved to be the lowest for the time being, and vigorous support by large financial interests succeeded in rallying the market to or above last night's level by 11 o'clock. The reassuring bulletins of the president's condition helped the rally.

It was at that time that loans began to be made, and the fact was disclosed that the banks were continuing their policy of calling loans. The result was another violent slump, which carried prices lower than before, losses extending up to 5 points in some of the leading stocks. Missouri Pacific's loss was 4 3-4, St. Paul's 4 5-8 and Louisville 5, while the list of 3 point losses or over was considerable. The call money rate soared to 25 per cent. The pressure to sell became very urgent and the large speculative combinations, which have persistently held up to prices for several weeks past, unloaded very large holdings, and abandoned all attempt to sustain the market.

Gold Plentiful in England.

London, September 24.—The money situation in New York is much commented on in London, but there is no apprehension outside of the bull contingent on the stock exchange, who failed to cover before yesterday evening's bank. Partners in some of the largest American and British banks in London, in conversation with a representative of the Associated Press, agreed in saying there was no cause for anxiety. A member of one of the most important international firms said:

"There is a good supply of gold here whenever New York wants to pay for it. We shall be glad enough to employ money in New York at 6 per cent. New York can get $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 in London whenever it wants to borrow it at what we consider a remunerative figure. The simple fact is that exchange rates are still too high for it to pay to send gold there.

"Regarding the general trade balance, America already owes England more than enough to absorb all the grain bills which are coming over this autumn. If America wants more gold she must borrow here and pay for it."

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

New York, September 24.—After a stormy day on the stock exchange the close was quiet, but with the undertone still slightly unsettled. It was a day of violent fluctuations and of many changes in the course of prices. Twice there was a dangerous break which threatened demoralization, and twice there was an average recovery. Just at the last there was some very large selling by holders who seemed desirous of taking advantage of the vigorous rally in force and who seemed yet to harbor doubts whether the storms of forced liquidation had spent their force. But there undoubtedly was a general sentiment at the close that the position of the banks had been effectually strengthened, and that the violent loan contraction might be hoped to have reached its limit for the present. The news of the sighting of the steamship having on board a consignment of nearly $1,500,000 gold was a strong sentimental influence on the market, as was the sharp break in sterling. The opening break in prices, which ran from 1 to 3 points for the active leaders, was aggravated by the unexpected news of President Roosevelt's disability. The reports given out from the president's train served to reassure fears on that score. There was a suspicion also that yesterday's late heavy liquidation had been due to some advance information of the operation on the president. The consequence was that prices recovered pretty generally during the first hour. The opening rate for call loans was announced at 18 per cent, and after a momentary reaction to 15 per cent, the rate soared to 25 per cent. Stocks were then unloaded in enormous volume with the demand apparently reduced to nothing. There was a heavy slump of prices throughout which carried prices of many leading stocks from 3 to 5 points below last night's level, before any effective resistance was shown the decline. The banks were cutting down accommodations on call to brokerage firms and proceeding with the drastic measures, which were inaugurated yesterday for recuperating their reserves. Assurances were heard from all sides that abundant resources were available for all regular business purposes, but nothing further was heard of the soothing assurance that there was no danger of money flurries. The great speculative combinations which have taken out loans and bought stocks on margin on this assurance for some time past had nothing to do but to sell out their stock and repay the loans. Various estimates are current of the extent of these loans for speculative purposes, and the closeness of the combination amongst the speculative interests, which have acted together, is not clearly defined, but it is believed that resources to the extent of $60,000,000 have been subject to centralized direction in the speculative campaign which was undertaken. The action of the banks this week marked the abandonment of the hope that had been entertained that measures of relief by the treasury deparement and the automatic relief of gold imports would save the situation through the crop moving period. Talk was renewed today of an intention on the part of the secretary of the treasury to increase the deposits with the banks up to the market value of government bonds for security, but no official sanction could be secured for this report. This discussion, though, was an effective factor in the late rally in the market. Meantime customs collections have changed the early gain by the banks this week into a loss of over half a million to the subtreasury. There was deposited today at that institution $450,000 for transfer to Chicago and $100,000 for New Orleans. An effective agency in the rally was the changed attitude of the brokers for a speculative combination which sold thousands of shares yesterday, but which turned to the buying side at the low level today. Their operations were centered in the Gould stocks, and resulted in carrying Western Union 1⅞ and Manhattan 2¾c over last night's level. The smallness of the net changes generally marked the effectiveness of the second recovery in the market.

Bonds suffered quiet severely in the liquidation, but rallied vigorously in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value, $6,170,000.

United States 2s declined ¼ and the old 4s advanced ¼ per cent on the last call.

Money on call strong at 10@25 per cent; closed offered at 18; prime mercantile paper 6 per cent.

WHEAT WAS WEAK CLOSE WAS LOWER

Excessive Rains in Corn Belt Strengthened Corn Prices.

LIGHT RECEIPTS HELPED

Undertone in Oats Strong and a Fraction Higher, Though Trading Was Light—Provisions Were Firm Most of the Day, Closing Higher.

Chicago, September 24.—Weakness prevailed in wheat on the board of trade today, and when it was found that manipulation in September was apparently at a standstill, more attention was paid to natural influences, which had a downward tendency. September wheat closed unchanged, while December was ½c lower. Corn closed higher with September up 1c and December ⅝@½c better. December oats were ⅝c higher and January provisions closed from 12½ to 15c higher.

The general impression in the wheat pit was that the September shorts had all covered and the market early was weak. Later in the session there was talk of a large shipping business at Duluth, which, combined with the strength in corn, brought about a slight rally. The same interests that have been active in buying September were good buyers today of December stuff. The principal factors were fine weather in the Northwest with liberal receipts in that section and selling by the northwest here. An estimate on the Russian wheat crop of 540,000,000 bushels, the largest on record, was a weakening factor. September opened unchanged to ¼c lower at 79¾@80c, sold down to 78c, rallied to 82½c and closed unchanged at 80c. December opened a shade to ¼@⅜c lower at 69⅝@69½@69⅝c, ranged between 69@69½@69⅝, closing ½c lower at 69½@69¼c. Primary receipts were 1,659,000, compared with 139,000 bushels a year ago. The clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 691,000 bushels. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 847 cars, which with local receipts of 138 cars, none of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 985, against 951 cars last week and 769 cars a year ago.

After a slight decline early in the day corn was strong in spite of the weakness in wheat. Free selling by a leading commission house was the cause for the early weakness. Excessive rains throughout the corn belt, together with light receipts were the main bull influences.

LUCIEN APPLEBY WINS AT THE WIRE

By Wild Burst of Speed Defeats Jack Demund and Corrigan.

ALTHEA UPSETS THE TALENT

Backed Down by Her Owner from 15 to 1 to 8 to 1, She Wins as She Pleases — Four Second Choices Finish in Front.

Chicago, September 24.—Lucien Appleby captured the feature race at Hawthorne today in a sensational finish from Jack Demund and Corrigan, in the order named, all lapped on the wire. Appleby, favorite at 7 to 5, and carrying 123 pounds, turned into the stretch nearly five lengths back, but finished with a wild burst of speed in the final eighth and got the verdict by a half length. Jack Demund secured the place by a nose.

Althea upset all calculations of the talent in the first race by winning off by herself, after being backed by her owner from 15 to 1 down to 8 to 1 at post time. Four second choices in the betting won the other events. Weather wet; track sloppy.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs: Althea, 109 (Donnelly), 9 to 1, won; Ida V., 109 (Coburn), 4 to 1, second; Little Duchess, 109 (Helgeson), 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:21 1-2. Lady Rice, Tea Rose and Queen Esher ran.

SECOND RACE—Seven furlongs: Lord Touchwood, 112 (Hoar), 3 to 1, won; Rankin, 115 (Winkfield), 7 to 2, second; Senator Morrison, 115 (Mathews), 7 to 2, third. Time, 1:34 1-2. Egg Nogg and Gilfain ran.

THIRD RACE—Mile and seventy yards: Wyola, 105 (Helgeson), 5 to 1, won; Lady Meddlesome, 98 (Pierrot), 16 to 5, second; Pirates Queen, 98 (Robinson), 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:54. Compass, Hub Prather, Albert Enright, Bedner and Fillbuster ran.

FOURTH RACE—Mile: Lucien Appleby, 123 (Donnelly), 7 to 5, won; Jack Demund, 107 (Coburn), 3 to 1, second; Corrigan, 119 (Robbins), 11 to 5, third. Time, 1:48 1-2. Marque ran. Water Edge bolted at the start.

FIFTH RACE—Five and one-half furlongs: Hattie Walker, 105 (Coburn), 16 to 5, won; Musical Slipper, 105 (Wilkerson, 15 to 1, second; Lady Jocelyn, 108 (Mathewson), 6 to 5, third. Time, 1:11 3-4. Hide and Seek, Chicago Girl, Courage, Goody Two Shoes and Hedera ran.

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs: Scotch Plaid, 109 (Birkenruth), 2 to 1, won; Orlo, 100 (Pierrott), 2 to 1, second; Little Jack Horner, 105 (Prior), 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:20. Judicious, Beauty Book, Moabina and Barley Corn ran.

AT GRAVESEND

FOUR HORSES ARE RIDEN TO VICTORY BY LYNE

New York, September 24.—The feature of the racing at Gravesend today was the riding of Jockey Lucien Lyne. Out of five mounts he piloted four winners and was unplaced in the other. His ride on Merito, favorite in the last race, was superb. Getting off none too well, he rated his mount, and in the stretch took command and won from Lady Sterling.

Andrew Miller's Wild Thyme won the Albemarle stake, which was the only stake event on the card. The mile and a quarter handicap for all ages was won by A. Shield's Andy Williams, who, after trailing his field for a mile, moved out and won easily by two lengths. The weather was cloudy and the track good. Summaries:

FIRST RACE—About 6 furlongs, handicap: The Musketeer, 117 (J. Martin), 5 to 1, won; Clorita, 102 (Michaels), 5 to 1, second; Asterta, 92 (Redfern), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:10. Operator, Daly, Star of the West, Belle of Lexington, Demurrer, Young Henry, Dr. Riddle and Mark Latie also ran.

SECOND RACE—One mile and a sixteenth, selling: Old Hutch, 106 (Lyne), 9 to 10, won; Essene, 98 (Shea), 30 to 1, second; Bar Le Duc, 106 (Redfern), 11 to 5, third. Time, 1:47 3-5. Boaster, Rocky, Hot, The Referee, Chiron and May J also ran.

THIRD RACE—The Albemarle stakes, 5 1-2 furlongs: Wild Thyme, 104 (Lyne), 11 to 5, won; Lady Albercraft, 100 (Rice), 4 to 1, second; Sparkle Esher, 94 (Shea), 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:07. Court Maid, Lady Josephine, Gloriosa, Stamping Grounds, Unterock, Fading Light and Kentucky Rose also ran.

FOURTH RACE—Mile and a quarter, handicap: Andy Williams, 104 (Lyne), 9 to 5, won; Hunter Raine, 102 (Redfern), 13 to 5, second; Francesco, 115 (Rice), 7 to 5, third. Time, 2:06 4-5. Three starters.

FIFTH RACE—About 6 furlongs, selling: Eva Russell, 112 (O'Connor), 8 to 5, won; Toga, 99 (Callahan), 20 to 1, second; Christine A, 99 (J. Martin), 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:11 2-5. Dark Planet, Lovina, Ring Dove, Julia Arthur, Semper Vivax, Dunluce, Harrison, Chicle, Merida, Witful, Attorney, Burning Glass and War Cry also ran.

SIXTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards, selling: Merito, 113 (Lyne), 8 to 5, won; Lady Sterling, 98 (Rice), 6 to 1, second; Animosty, 103 (Cochran), 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:45. Ascension, Mary Worth, Bisserta, Grail, Past, White Owl, Pretoria and Destitute also ran.

Winners at Baltimore.

Baltimore, September 24.—Anna T. won the final heat of the 2:24 pace, which was brought over from Tuesday at Gentlemen's Driving park today. Time 2:20½. Summaries:

2:15 trot. Nigger Jack won; Roberta second. Best time 2:15¼.

2:10 pace (unfinished): Pilot Boy first; Dick R. second. Best time 2:13¼.

2:15 pace (unfinished): I. T. Washburn first; Perhaps second. Best time 2:14¼.

No Races at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., September 24.—The grand circuit trotting races were postponed until tomorrow, on account of rain.

LORD DERBY AND THE RAJAH TAKE $17,000 IN PURSES

Readville, Mass., September 24.—Purses of $21,000 were offered for the events of the New England breeders' meet at the Readville track today. Lord Derby captured the $10,000 purse in the 2:07 trot, while the other big purse, $7,000 for the New England futurity foal of 1899, was won by The Rajah, sired by the Prince of India. B. F. Dutton's pacing team, Dariel and Connor, tried twice against their own team record of 2:10, and succeeded in lowering their former record a second and a quarter each heat.

Lord Derby broke just after starting in the 2:07 trot and Anzella took the pole and led all around, Lord Derby just escaping the distance flag.

In the second heat Chain Shot took the lead with Anzella second and Lord Derby way behind at the half, but here Lord Derby began to assert his rights and rapidly overhauled the field, beating Chain Shot by a head. In the third and fourth heats Lord Derby won easily. The best racing of the day occurred in the 2:09 pace, the game little horse Locanda winning after losing the second heat through a break.

A field of nine horses started in the 2:24 trot. The Louisville mare, Maxine, won in straight heats. Summary:

2:07 trot, purse $10,000: Lord Derby won second, third and fourth heats and race; Anzella second, taking first heat; Chain Shot, third. Best time, 2:06 3-4.

2:09 pace, purse $2,000: Locanda won first, third and fourth heats and race; Terrill second, taking second heat; Bitonica, third. Best time, 2:07 1-4.

2:24 trot, purse $2,000: Maxine won three straight heats and race; Katrinka, second; Invader, third. Best time, 2:06 3-4.

New England futurity, purse $7,000: The Rajah won second and third heats and race; Direct View second, taking first heat; Kyrillis, third. Best time, 2:15 1-2.

GEORGIA ELEVEN AIMS AT RAPID TEAM WORK

Athens, Ga., September 24.—(Special.)—The football team of the university has been practicing for about a week and the men are making a creditable showing. The college is taking much interest in the team and each afternoon large crowds witness the practice.

Probably all the material from which the team will be made up is on the field. At present, however, it is impossible to give any idea of its strength, the men who will compose it, or what kind of a showing they will make against other colleges. The applicants are lighter than they were at the beginning of the last year, though somewhat heavier than in the Auburn game. The men are swifter than in the past and Georgia hopes to put on the gridiron a team which will win from its opponents by headwork and fast playing.

The schedule is so arranged that the men should be in their best trim by the Sewanee and Auburn games and be able to give these teams a run for their money. With ordinary luck Georgia should win the games with the Tech, Wofford, Alabama and Davidson, have a good chance to best Clemson, fight on even grounds with Sewanee and come out on the field Thanksgiving to play football of the style of '96.

Dickinson has returned to college and will play one of the backs again this year. He is a strong player and his presence will encourage the team.

Quarterback is a much sought after position. The applicants for this place are Harmon, Monahan, Middleton, Ridley, Twitty, Bower, Blount, Cranston, Dearing and Anderson. Monahan was quarter last year. His chief drawback is his lack of weight. Harmon is somewhat heavier and is very quick and active. Ridley held the position last year before he was injured in the Clemson game. He is not so quick as the other two, but is heavier, a good player and on last year's work won the position of end on Heisman's all southern team.

Ketron is being tried at fullback. Last year he played center on the Georgia team, but a heavier man is needed at this position if he can be gotten. Ketron is very active and will make a good man wherever he is put. McIntyre, from Savannah, will probably be tried at full also.

Beaver is trying for a guard. He is considerably heavier than he was last year and plays with an energy and perseverance that goes to make up the good player. Baxter is back again and will probably try for an end. He has held this position two years, always giving satisfaction. He is the swiftest man in college, winning the 100-yard dash, the 220 and the 440 in the track meet with the Tech last year. This enables him to get off quickly when the ball is kicked.

Willingham is a new man, but one who gives promise of a future. He has plenty of time before the end of his course to make a record. Worsham is trying for a place. He is a good man. Ritchie is an old man who has a good chance of making the team this year. He played good ball last year and is promising material.

Liddell is one of the best developed men in college. His physique indicates great strength. He should strengthen the team. At present he shows lack of training, but this will shortly be remedied. Nix is a good heavy man. He played last year. This year he will probably be tried at center.

The team will need a good deal of practice to bring the players into the best condition and care will be taken to see that none of them are overtrained before the Auburn game. It will be through this strict training and hard practice that the team will finally be rounded into good form. The coach will have his hands full for some time in carrying on this work. He has stated that he will immediately fire men whom he catches breaking training, even if doing so harms the team. This will make the men keep at work, and in this he has the heartiest support of the student body.

So far the men have been at work at light practice, falling on the ball, passing it and practicing the different plays. It will be some time before they line up for a game.

CANNON DRIVES HIS CAR RECORD BREAKING MILE

Providence, R. I., September 24.—World's records were smashed at Narragansett park today and the second annual race meet of the Rhode Island Automobile Club was a great success despite execrable weather.

George J. Cannon was the sensation of the day. He clinched his title to the steam championship of the world by driving the famous car of his own construction in 1:05 1-4, the fastest mile ever made over the Narragansett park track. The previous world's record was 1:07 2-5, held by Mr. Cannon himself. Then to complete his fame, the young Harvard student set a new world's record for steam cars for 5 miles at 6:06 flat, reducing the previous mark from 6:43 1-5, another record of his own.

Alexander Winton and his Bullet were held back by the strong wind, but they covered 6 miles in 6:39 3-5. Five miles were covered in 5:30 3-5, and the fastest single mile was 1:05 3-5. The slowest of Winton's first 5 miles was faster than any time of Fournier last year.

Percy Owen won the thirty horsepower and free-for-all gasoline classes and the sweepstakes.

The first race for motor bicycles, 5 miles, was won by George M. Hendee's Indian in 6:34 2-5. The open class for electric carriages, 2 miles, was won by Knight Nefel in a car of his own make. His time was 4:23.

RAIN STOPPED THE RACES.

The Pacing and Trotting Contests at Piedmont Park Have Been Postponed.

The races scheduled to be run at the Exposition race track yesterday afternoon were postponed on account of the rain.

The programme of yesterday will be pulled off Friday afternoon and the card that had been arranged for this afternoon will be run Saturday.

These races have created great interest in the local sporting circles and a large crowd of horsemen will be in attendance. All the events have large entry lists of first-class harness horses and warm contests are promised.

Washington and Lee Wins.

Lexington, Va., September 24.—The Washington and Lee university football team defeated Miller's school of Albemarle county, Virginia, 11 to 0, in the opening game of the season here today.

Judge Blount Resigns.

Pensacola, Fla., September 24.—A. C. Blount, jr., judge criminal court of record for Escambia county, has tendered to Governor Jennings his resignation, to take place October 1. Judge E. D. Beggs, of this city, is a candidate for appointment to the position.

AT DELMAR

TWO OF THE FAVORITES UNDER WIRE IN FRONT

St. Louis, September 24.—Hand Spinner and Ravensbury were the winning favorites at Delmar today. In the third race Hand Spinner and Ed Layson, the outsider, fought it out from the head of the stretch, the latter reaching the wire first by a nose, but was disqualified for bearing out on Hand Spinner in the last sixteenth. Ravensbury was in a soft spot in the fourth. The track was very heavy. Summary:

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs, selling: Lunar Minor, 107 (Battiste), 6 to 1, won; Tenedos, 102 (D. Gilmore), 10 to 1, second; Catherine Knox, 107 (T. Dean), 40 to 1, third. Time, 1:20 1-4.

SECOND RACE—Mile and seventy yards, selling: Saragamp, 105 E. Mathews), 6 to 1, won; Toad Rainy, 105 (D. Gilmore), even, second; Outburst, 113 (Aker), 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:54 3-4.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs, purse: Ed Layson, 100 (W. Waldo), 6 to 1, won; Hand Spinner, 106 (Aker), 6 to 5, second; Mudlavia, 100 (Scully), 5 to 1, third; Wolfram, 103 (Battiste), 5 to 2, fourth. Time, 1:19. Layson disqualified for fouling.

FOURTH RACE—Mile and one-sixteenth, purse: Ravensbury, 108 (W. Waldo), even, won; Taby Tosa, 100 (A. W. Booker), 2 to 1, second; Hucena, 100 (Battiste), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:54.

FIFTH RACE—Six and one-half furlongs, selling: Jack Young, 95 (D. Gilmore), 4 to 1, won; Mamselle, 93 (A. W. Booker), 3 to 2, second; Aules, 107 (Battiste), 3 to 2, third. Time, 1:25 1-2.

SIXTH RACE—Mile and a quarter, selling: Tulare, 105 (T. O'Brien), 15 to 1, won; Erne, 91 (W. Waldo), 4 to 1, second; Zonne, 109 (Scully), 4 to 1, third. Time, 2:16 1-4.

Dentist Is Asphyxiated.

Louisville, September 24.—George S. Seymour, one of the oldest and most prominent dentists in Louisville, was found dead from asphyxiation in the bath room at his home on West Chestnut street this morning. The gas in the apartment had been turned on and the coroner, after reviewing the body, rendered a verdict of suicide. Mr. Seymour spent his boyhood in Georgia.

WILL ELECT NEW TEACHER

Meeting of the Board of Education To Be Held Today.

APPLICANTS ON WAITING LIST

Superintendent Slaton Has Exhausted Every Means for Seating of School Children.

There will be a regular meeting of the board of education today, and in addition to the regular reports to be submitted at such a time, there will be the election of a teacher for the new room fixed up in the basement of the Williams street school, which was made necessary by the crowded condition of the schools throughout the city, and also the election of a supernumerary.

A full review of the work of the term so far will be made, and this report will show that in the neighborhood of 13,000 scholars are now in attendance. To a Constitution representative Major Slaton stated yesterday:

"I have had all of the applicants seated again and again, but new applications keep coming in, and just at this immediate present I am forced to put these last ones on the waiting list. Every room is filled to the very limit and I have arranged and rearranged until now I simply can't do any more and these last will have to wait until there is an opening.

"People are moving into Atlanta and every day I am having calls from these persons who were, of course, not in the city at the time school opened. Of course we need more money, and with better facilities for the class rooms all over the city our work would be far better.

"One of the great disadvantages that must be suffered by those on the waiting list is this: If they have any considerable length of time to wait, it will mean that the child will have to drop back a grade, and this through no fault of the child. By that I mean that if a pupil is ready to enter the seventh grade and was duly promoted last June, if such a one has to wait for any great length of time, it means that, having missed the studies and recitations of the fall term, he or she will have to drop back."

The Testimony Heard Yesterday Was of a Conflicting Nature—Trial Will Last All the Week.

The trial of the Joseph Schacter bankruptcy case was continued yesterday in the United States court before Judge Newman.

The testimony heard was of a conflicting nature. The agent for Bradstreet, W. J. Armistead, stated that on June 29 Schacter returned to the commercial agency his stock as valued at $18,000 and gave in his liabilities at $2,000.

Charles A. Sisson, who was appointed by the court to value Schacter's assets, reported that the stock on hand at present was worth only $3,000. Invoices representing the receipt of goods worth $12,000 were among Schacter's papers. The hearing will be continued all this week.

PRAISE FOR DR. SOLOMON.

Thanks Extended by Congregation of the Temple Baptist Church.

At a recent meeting of the congregation of the Temple Baptist church the following resolutions were adopted thanking Dr. J. C. Solomon for his services during the illness of the pastor:

"Whereas, In the providence of God our pastor has been unable to preach for us regularly for some time past on account of illness; and,

"Whereas, At our pastor's earnest request our brother, Dr. J. C. Solomon, kindly consented to fill his place during his absence; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we, the members of the Temple Baptist church of Atlanta, Ga., do hereby extend to Dr. Solomon our hearty thanks for so kindly consenting to supply for us, during the absence of our pastor, and for so faithfully doing the same by presenting to us the gospel in its power and simplicity, with the great strength and ability that he has manifested.

"Resolved, further, That we shall ever esteem him as a true herald of the cross, intelligent, capable and courteous to a marked degree, and that he has endeared himself to us during his brief stay by his manly bearing and unselfish demeanor, and wherever his lot may be cast he will be followed by our love and prayers. Be it, therefore, further

"Resolved, That we cordially commend him to our brethren everywhere as a true man, a good friend, a faithful worker and an able preacher of the pure gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

"Resolved, further, That these resolutions be spread upon our minutes and a copy of the same be furnished Dr. Solomon and to the press."

Adopted unanimously by a rising vote September 21, 1902.

Paine's Celery Compound

Cures a Lady Who Was Told That Her Life Depended Upon a Surgical Operation.

The greatest misfortune of the present generation is that wives and mothers are so frequently unfitted for the duties of life and domestic enjoyment, by reason of broken down health and overtaxed systems. The duties of women of all ages are really more worrying and wearing than the troubles met with by men. Social, household, and often business cares press upon women very heavily. In this way the delicate nerves and sensitive organs become deranged, suffering ensues, and life becomes a burden that many carry to the grave.

For the special weaknesses to which women so often fall victims, medical science has provided Paine's Celery Compound. This famed medicine has specific powers for correcting the disorders of the female organism; it maintains health, gives strength, vivacity, and good looks, and imparts to the body the elasticity of girlhood. No other medicine can so quickly banish and permanently cure painful and obdurate feminine ills. Mrs. L. S. Long, of Flint, Mich., says:

"For twenty-five years I have been a great sufferer from insomnia, never obtaining more than four nights' sleep in a week. For sixteen years life has been a burden to me because of prolapsus uteri, whose tortures no words can describe, and from which no physician can give me any hopes of relief except by an operation. I have also for years been troubled with rheumatism to such an extent in my right shoulder as to nearly disable me.

"Last February I was induced to try Paine's Celery Compound in hopes that relief from insomnia and rheumatism might be obtained. After using three bottles of the Compound, the rheumatism was better, I could sleep like a child, and, strangest of all, my uterine trouble was cured."

COMPANY FILES FORMAL ANSWER

Equitable Loan and Security Company Makes Denial.

Asserts That It Is Solvent and Attacks Petition for Receiver. Plaintiff in Case of Mrs. Monk Introducing Testimony.

The Equitable Loan and Security Company yesterday filed its answer to the petition for a receiver for the concern and also several demurrers to the petition and the amendment filed this week.

The answer denies every material allegation and charge in both the petition and amendment. It denies that the company is insolvent and also the charge that the officers are conducting its affairs to make a living for themselves to the detriment of the interests of the certificate holders. The answer states that the officers have always discharged their duty and have earned all the compensation they received. The answer to the amendment deals in humor and ridicules many of the averments.

It is stated that the officers have always been willing to afford the certificate holders every opportunity for ascertaining the exact condition of the company and made a special offer to the plaintiff's attorney before the suit was filed to have the books examined by an expert accountant and stated that the company would submit to any proper plan for a liquidation of its affairs without expense of administration by a court of equity, in case it should appear that it could not reasonably carry out its obligations. One of the attorneys for the company stated yesterday afternoon that A. L. Waldo, an expert accountant, has been employed to examine the books for the benefit of the certificate holders and that he began work last Thursday.

It is claimed that the salaries paid the officers are reasonable, in fact, small compared with salaries paid by like institutions having such interests to guard and such large investment and that its expenses have always been kept within the 20 per cent allowed for expenses under the terms of the certificates.

It is claimed further that the conduct of the business has always been profitable to the certificate holders and that it now has assets which are $119,007.52 in excess of the entire sums paid in by its present certificate holders not in default, including first payment or a profit on amounts paid into its investment fund of $243,708.82, out of which it has paid 407 certificates held by persons now dead, and 495 certificates called for payment according to the redemption table, the investors having returned to them every dollar they paid in and over 8 per cent from the time it was paid in.

In denying paragraph 32, of the amendment, the answer says:

"It would seem that the pleader is a better rhetorician than mathematician."

The company denies that it has violated its charter relative to dealing in real estate, claiming that the charter was amended on March 26, 1896, so as to authorize the company to deal in real estate. It is stated that the real estate of the company is worth $25,000 more than its estimated value on the books and that its real estate transactions have proved among the most profitable.

After answering each paragraph, the answer concludes as follows:

"It has not attempted in the foregoing to meet all the reckless conclusions, calculations, innuendoes, and attempted rhetorical flourishes or figures in the said amendment. It is not called upon to do so. They do not merit answer. It would seem that the reason of their being was not for use before a court of justice."

The demurrers are voluminous and attack the petition and amendment vigorously. The answer and demurrers were filed by Attorneys Candler & Thomson, Hoke Smith and H. C. Peeples, Rosser & Brandon and H. E. W. Palmer.

Evidence in Monk Trial.

The second day's session of the trial of the case of Mrs. Anna Monk against the Atlanta Railway and Power Company and the Southern Railway Company for $50,000 damages for personal injuries was yesterday occupied with the hearing of testimony for the plaintiff.

Several witnesses were placed on the stand, and the trend of their evidence was to show that the motorman of the work car, which was being used to transport freight cars out of the exposition grounds on the night of the accident, had been warned that the Midway people were on the trestle before his car reached the trestle, but that he failed to pay any attention to the warning, and made no effort to stop his car. The hearing of testimony for the plaintiff will be resumed this morning.

F. P. Shields, manager of the Canton Carnival Company, which furnished the Midway for the fair last year, was the first witness yesterday. He had charge of the loading of the effects of the show on the night of the accident. He testified that he ran back 100 feet west of the trestle and shouted to the motorman to stop the car, that the people were on the trestle; also that he followed the car to the trestle, shouting to the motorman to stop, but that the motorman paid no attention and ran the car 300 feet after receiving the warning. He said the car was going slow, and could have been easily stopped.

Joe Mitchell, colored, testified that he was standing near the trestle, and saw Shields run to stop the car, when the people were out on the trestle. He stated that the car kept up the same speed, and that the motorman kept on the electricity until he struck the trestle. He was asked why he did not go out on the bridge after the car ran into the people, and answered:

"Well, show folks ain't nobody but furiners, and I didn't care whether they was killed or not, and I didn't suppose the motorman did."

Tom Cross, colored, one of the show people who was on the trestle at the time of the accident, next testified. He said Shields had warned the car 300 feet before it reached the trestle, but that the motorman never put on brakes nor paid any attention. He stated that when the car reached Mrs. Monk, she cried out, "Please stop!" The motorman, he said, made some answer, which he did not hear, but the car never stopped. Cross testified that he jumped and caught onto a trolley pole, just as the baggage car grazed him.

Several former street car men testified that such a train as run down the people on the trestle could have been stopped at a distance of 25 or 30 feet; also that it was necessary to have the current on to reach the trestle from the grounds.

R. B. Nally, a civil engineer, gave testimony relative to the track at the approach to the trestle. He said that the grades and curves were such that a train approaching the trestle could not be readily stopped. He further testified that the motorman could see the whole length of the trestle 123 feet before he reached the end.

$25,000 Suit Is Filed.

Will Mitchell yesterday brought suit against the Georgia Railway and Electric Company for $25,000 damages for alleged personal injuries.

Mitchell was an employee of the company, and claims that on September 18, while on a construction car, he was injured in a collision between that car and another car on the river line. The petition states that Mitchell's left foot and lower leg was mashed, and that the leg was amputated just below the knee. It is also alleged that his right leg was crushed or broken, and that he was otherwise injured. Attorney John W. Cox filed the suit.

Cut His Throat—Found Insane.

J. S. Coppage, who recently cut his throat in an effort to end his life, was adjudged insane before Ordinary John R. Wilkinson yesterday afternoon. Coppage is 64 years of age.

He has been in the Grady hospital since he inflicted the wound on himself, and was removed from there to the ordinary's court room. The wound has not yet entirely healed, but the hospital physicians announced that Coppage has sufficiently recovered to leave the institution. At the conclusion of the trial, he was placed in the Tower, where he will remain until he can be admitted into the state insane asylum. A number of witnesses were introduced to show that Coppage's mind is unbalanced.

Big Mortgage Is Filed.

A first mortgage from the Atlanta Ice and Coal Company to the Trust Company of Georgia to secure a $200,000 issue of gold bonds was filed yesterday in the office of Clerk Arnold Broyles, of the superior court.

It is stated that the object of the bond issue is to enlarge and improve the business of the concern. The mortgage covers all of the property and plants of the company. The bonds are to be 200 in number, of $1,000 each, and are to bear interest at 6 per cent. They are to mature twenty years from date.

Germania Savings bank to Mrs. Fannie Seay, lot on Pavillion avenue, 100 by 200, $2,000.

Mrs. Alice F. Sibley to Germania Loan and Banking Company, same property, $2,000.

Mrs. S. H. Dunlap to Mrs. Alice F. Sibley, same property, $2,000.

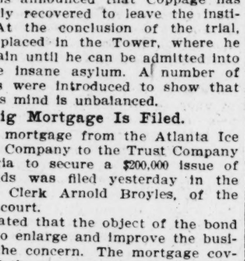

M. C. Hardin to Miss G. B. Donnelly, lot on Grace street, 25 by 120, $375.

Buried at Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala., September 24.—(Special.)—Mrs. James R. Powell, widow of the late Colonel James R. Powell, the founder of Birmingham, was buried here today, the remains having been brought on from Washington for repose in the family plat in the Montgomery cemetery. Mrs. Powell was a school teacher here at the time of her marriage to Colonel Powell and was noted as a lady of rare accomplishments and talents. Since the death of her husband she has spent much time abroad and has for some years resided with her daughter, who is a widow, in Washington city. The pallbearers at the funeral today were the most prominent men in Montgomery. This was Colonel Powell's home and the family has many relatives here, including the Reses.

Rheumatism

The liniment bottle and flannel strip are familiar objects in nearly every household. They are the weapons that have been used for generations to fight old Rheumatism, and are about as effective in the battle with this giant disease as the blunderbuss of our forefathers would be in modern warfare.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid, sour condition of the blood. It is filled with acrid, irritating matter that settles in the joints, muscles and nerves, and liniments and oils nor anything else applied externally can dislodge these gritty, corroding particles. They were deposited there by the blood and can be reached only through the blood. Rubbing with liniments sometimes relieves temporarily the aches and pains, but these are only symptoms; the real disease lies deeper. The blood and system are infected. Rheumatism cannot be radically and permanently cured until the blood has been purified, and no remedy does this so thoroughly and promptly as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which dissolves and washes out all foreign materials, and the sufferer obtains happy relief from the torturing pains.

SSS

S. S. S. contains no potash or other mineral, is a perfect vegetable blood purifier and most exhilarating tonic. It relieves pain and builds up the exhausted vital forces at the same time. Our physicians will advise, without charge, all who write about their case, and we will send free our special book on Rheumatism and its treatment.

NEW MAIL TRAIN WILL SOON RUN

Will Be Put Into Operation on October Fifteenth.

IS TO BREAK ALL RECORDS

Run from New York to Atlanta Will Be Made in Twenty-Two Hours. From New York to New Orleans in Thirty-Four Hours.

It is officially announced that the new fast mail train between New York, Atlanta and New Orleans will be put into service on Wednesday, October 15.

This train is to be operated by the Pennsylvania railroad, the Southern railway, the West Point Route and the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

It will cover the distance between New York and Atlanta in twenty-two hours, making it possible for a man to eat early breakfast in New York and late supper in Atlanta, something heretofore unthought of. The time between New York and New Orleans will be reduced to thirty-four hours.

This train will leave New York at 2:30 a. m., reaching Washington at 8 a. m., Atlanta at 11:30 p. m., and New Orleans at 11:30 o'clock the following morning.

North of Atlanta it will carry only mail equipment at first, though it is the intention of the officials of the Southern to add sleepers later on.

The Southern will put on a train out of Atlanta to Birmingham, connecting with the mail flyer which will carry full passenger equipment, having both coaches and sleepers. The West Point Route will also put on an additional train to New Orleans, which will carry both sleepers and coaches.

This new train will bring Atlanta greatly increased mail facilities and on account of the added outgoing night trains will improve the train service now in effect.

Special equipment is now being turned out for use on this train. On the Southern, between Atlanta and Washington, it will be operated exclusively as a mail train, the first to be run in this section. It will outdistance all time records now in effect in this part of the country and will set a new pace for all the roads.

Advertising as a Profession.

Advertising is a profession today, just as the law, medicine, etc., are recognized. When you need advertising (and every business to be successful needs it) it is the cheapest and best policy to consult men who know the business by experience and who devote their entire time to advertising. We handle advertising judiciously. Massengale Advertising Agency, Austell Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

HUGH T. INMAN AND WALTER R. BROWN INDORSED FOR ALDERMEN.

We beg to arouse your attention to the importance of selecting two of the best fitted men obtainable for positions on your aldermanic board at your next election.

During the coming term city bonds to amount to over $300,000 must be negotiated to take the place of maturing bonds now bearing 7 per cent interest, and it is being urged that other bonds be issued for other purposes, involving very important financial action.

In light of this and in the general interest we earnestly urge the election of Mr. Hugh T. Inman from the north side, and Mr. Walter R. Brown from the south side, as gentlemen of such character and great abilities as fit them specially for these places, believing that the public good will be greatly subserved by their services if elected by you.

IN INTEREST OF SCHOOL.

President Wright, of the State School, Speaks in Atlanta. From Various States.

Professor R. R. Wright, president of the Georgia State Industrial college, spoke last night to a large audience of colored people at Big Bethel church in the interest of the state school. He gave an account of the class of work which is being done at that school along the line of industrial and library teaching. The students are taught carpentry, wheelwrighty, blacksmithing, painting, bricklaying, etc. Those who wish to teach are given a good literary education, such as fits them for teaching in the public system of the state. This is the only state school for the higher education of the negroes of Georgia, and they are very proud of the school.

The principal was in Atlanta to give an account of the work being done by the state for negro education.

The school has had under its instruction since its organization more than a thousand students. Its enrollment last year was near 700. It has ten or twelve buildings and eighty-six acres of land, which are used for teaching the boys farming. A great deal is made of this branch of instruction.

FOR RENT

CHOICE WHOLESALE HOUSE.

DAILY MARKET REPORTS.

evidenced by the very heavy receipts which it will be noticed are almost totally ignored. As the morning advanced the market developed further weakness owing to tight money in Wall street and a fresh break and closed 7 points lower. Weak longs sold and the support from bull leaders was feeble, while the southern buying was too small to cut much figure. Port receipts 39,000, against 24,000 last year.

The Metal Market.

New York, September 24.—Tin was easy and dull in the local market today, closing at 25.80@25.90, while in London it declined 7s 6d to £118 12s 6d for spot and to £116 10s for futures.

Trade in copper was flat and prices showed but slight changes, closing at 10.75 bid for standard; 11.60@11.75 for lake; 11.40@11.50 for electrolytic and casting. There was an easier market at London, where prices declined 6s 3d, spot closing at £52 3s 9d and futures at £52 6s 3d.

No change in lead either at home or abroad. Locally spot was 4¼ and at London £10 17s 6d.

Spelter here ruled more or less nominal, with 5¼ quoted. The English market closed at £19.

The pig iron market is firm with supplies exceedingly scarce. Quotations are more or less nominal at $23@$25 for No. 1 foundry northern; $22@23 for No. 2 foundry, northern, No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft. Warrants not quoted. English markets were a trifle lower, Glasgow closing at 58s 1d and Middlesboro at 53s 4½d.

St. Louis, September 24.—Lead steady 4.02½. Spelter strong 5.30.

Murphy & Co.'s Stock Letter.

New York, September 24.—The stock speculation today underwent a violent spasm of liquidation in the morning, which was followed in the afternoon by a very substantial recovery. The opening was weak under pressure of selling orders for both accounts received over night, and there were general declines of 1 to 2 per cent with exceptional breaks of 3 per cent in Louisville and Nashville and 2¼ in Atchison. The market was inclined to steady itself at the lower level and room traders bought considerably on the theory that part of yesterday's late break had been due to early information by a large interest of the operation of the president. Money, however, opened higher and advanced to 25 per cent, which immediately provoked a flood of pool liquidation. St. Paul fell over 4, Missouri Pacific over 4, Reading nearly 3, Northwestern 3, Canadian Pacific nearly 3, and the list about 2 per cent.
